THE CENTENARY OF CHARLES PRATT

1830—1930

TO the year 1930 and to the Prattonia of 1931 belongs the recognition of the Centennial of the birth of Charles Pratt, the Founder of Pratt Institute.

Born in a modest home in Watertown, Massachusetts, in 1830, a member of a large family of children, Charles Pratt early encountered the necessity to earn his living, and at the age of thirteen, with a limited schooling, he found employment in Boston in a grocery store. A year at Newton as an apprentice in the machinist's trade was followed by a year of formal education at Wilbraham Academy, where he managed to live on a dollar a week. Thereafter he spent three years as clerk in a paint and oil shop in Boston, moving to New York City at the age of twenty-one to engage in a similar line of business, later becoming a partner in the firm of Raynolds, Devoe and Pratt, dealers in paints and oils.

The rapid development of the oil industry led Mr. Pratt to organize the firm of Charles Pratt and Company which soon distinguished itself in the refining of "Pratt's Astral Oil," the best product in the market. Mr. Pratt finally joined the original Standard Oil Company in which he became a leading factor.

Mr. Pratt felt the deprivation of his denial of directed education in his youth, and the idea of an industrial school lay dormant in his mind for many years. He recalled his own struggles for an education, and foresaw the coming of an industrial age with its need for trained men and women. In the fall of 1887 Mr. Pratt's dream was realized in the opening of Pratt Institute. His faith has been vindicated in the progress and development of the Institute during forty-four years of influential history, unique in education.

Charles Pratt died May 4, 1891, less than four years after the Institute was launched. But his work has been carried on by his sons, notably by Mr. Frederic B. Pratt, now President of the Board of Trustees, and by his grandsons, several of whom are members of the Board. Mr. Charles Pratt, Mr. F. B. Pratt's son, has succeeded his father as Secretary, bearing the honored name of the Founder in perpetuating his ideals and continuing his purpose for Pratt Institute.

COMMEMORATE

ALMA MATER

Towering far above her neighbors,
Shop and mart and hall,
Stands the home of student-labors,
Noblest of them all!

At each meeting, give her greeting,
Raise the proud salute!
Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
Hail Pratt Institute!

In our hearts her precepts linger,
Her example gleams,
Showing with unerring finger
Guerdon of our dreams.

At our meeting, for our greeting,
Bring her noble fruit,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail, Pratt Institute!

Round the world the chain extending
Each to the other binds,
All her honored name defending,
Hearts and hands and minds.

At our meeting, give her greeting,
Raise the proud salute!
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail, Pratt Institute!

FOREWORD

AT the beginning of each school year a new Prattonia board settles down to work with one fundamental aim—a better Prattonia.

Our issue this year commemorates the centennial of the Birthday of Charles Pratt as well as the Tenth Anniversary of Prattonia.

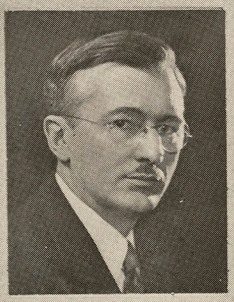

In 1912 the Prattonia had its origin as the P. I. Annual and became the Prattonia in 1919. At that time it only covered the S. & T. School. In 1920 it branched out and took in the men of the F. & A. A. School. The first all Pratt Year Book, a Prattonia for the entire student body was issued in 1921.

To the student body of Pratt Institute we submit this book, our earnest endeavor to go on with the new. May we call to your attention the Futura Type face, Duotone ink and the Rotogravure Section which have been used as a means of expressing memories that we wish to preserve. The Art work necessary to carry out our theme has been a strenuous task, worthy of the highest praise. The literary content between these covers was faithfully read and checked, to reduce errors to a minimum. The result is our best effort and we hope it comes up to your expectations.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

IN offering this volume to the school family, the Prattonia Board beg to express their sincere gratitude and indebtedness to the many persons who have cheerfully given their time and skill that Prattonia 1931 would serve to keep in remembrance the memorable years at the Institute.

We are particularly grateful to our faculty advisors, Mr. Petersen, Mr. Gordon, Miss Duntz, Mr. Harper, and Mr. Stevens for their professional advice and assistance.

The General Faculty and school secretaries have contributed to the fulfillment of our problems, for which we are greatly indebted.

The snap shots and views were submitted by the Camera Club.

The class representatives by their contact with the student body have made the tedious task easier and earned our sincere gratitude.

To those concerns who have given freely of their time and service in the preparation of this book we express our sincere gratitude.

THE SCHOOL OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

THE demand for admission to this School's day courses in engineering was never so great nor the quality of the students so high as in this year of nation-wide business depression and shortage of employment. Classes have been filled to the limit of accommodations. At the same time and very significantly related, stands the fact that the four thousand alumni of these same courses are suffering but little unemployment, the deficiency being almost negligible when compared with the prevalent shortage of employment among technical men and engineers. Current reports from alumni show that Pratt men have been among the last to be laid off and the first to be taken back in the process of adjusting industry's working forces to changes in business volume. It is evident that the serviceable efficiency of Pratt Institute's two-year engineering courses has again been demonstrated under unusually trying conditions, which resemble in many respects those of the World War when the comparison was similarly impressive. A large factor in these outstanding results is that our students average considerably above the usual engineering college level in maturity, purposefulness and understanding of practical conditions in the occupational field for which our courses are designed to be direct and final preparation. These super-qualifications our students gain through one to three years' post high school employment in industry, prior or intermediate to their two years in Pratt Institute—thus lengthening our typical graduate's over-all experience and training period to a total of three to five years subsequent to high school. Our courses are an original development and duplicate in general the technical content of the four-year courses of American engineering colleges, though in a more intensive and practical way. So, we see fulfilled in the School of Science and Technology a major aim of Pratt Institute's far-sighted Founder.

INDUSTRIAL MECHANICAL ENGINEERING—1931

LIKE the men before us we too, had a hard time in getting started in the new surroundings and work of our Alma Mater, but once the ball was started we certainly made it roll.

Who can doubt our leadership in school activities, in class rushes the Mechanicals were always on the top, in soccer our team bowled over everything in their path and its victory over the Architect's highly touted team will live long in the memories of the thousands who witnessed the game. In the other sports too our teams were of outstanding ability all possessing that "never give up" spirit for which Mechanical teams are famous.

Intermingled with the mastering of our many studies and the conquering of our foes on the fields of sport are the many memorable social functions which we so joyously attended. How can we ever forget the numerous week-end dances, including our own Boilermaker Hops, the Varsity basketball and baseball games with their preceding pep meetings, the class smokers, and the Alumni Banquet where we were initiated into the doings of that venerable organization.

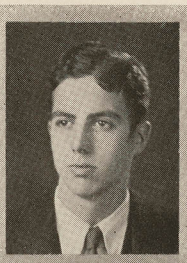

Many are the hours we toiled in the class rooms, laboratories, and shops while in the process of becoming Mechanical Engineers. Math with its inevitable Calculus, Physics and Mechanics with its stresses and ramblings of Boy "A" and Boy "B", the shops with their hum and busy machinery, and the "Mech. Lab." with its testing experiments and abominable construction periods all helped to make the two years pass all too quickly.

To our instructors whose kindly interest and help has guided us safely through many struggles, we express our deepest feelings of gratitude. Especially to Mr. Harper our supervisor, whose instilling of spirit, fair mindedness and interest in our welfare has endeared him to all true "Mechanicals."

The goal we have long sought has at last been attained and we find it hard to part with all that has been dear to us in these, the two best and happiest years of our lives. As we go out into the great industrial world as individuals may we still remain united in spirit, ever looking forward to the times when we meet again.

CLASS OFFICERS

MARTIN BOSLAND, President RAYMOND E. HUTCHINSON, Secretary
CHESTER A. ROBINSON, Vice-President ROBERT F. CAMPBELL, Treasurer

ALLEN, WALTER E. — Walt

R. F. D. 35, Westport, Conn.

"Walt" is a quiet, congenial and an unassuming type of Boilermaker. We hear he has a weakness for the opposite sex, but remember—it's always the quiet that precedes the storm.

ANDERSON, ALFRED H. — Andy

35 Hill Ave., H.P., Detroit, Mich.

Varsity Basketball, 1930-31, Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Soccer, 1931.

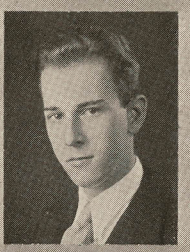

"Andy" is one of the finest examples of what a good hearted fellow should be. After the passage of a few years we shall hear great things about him. Good Luck "Andy" we're all for you.

ANDREWS, ROBERT M. — Bob

421 N. Geneva St., Ithaca, N. Y.

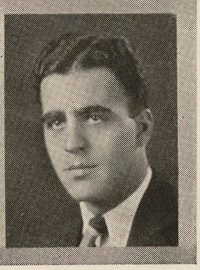

A song and dance man, who, with his pal "Ed" has made social events successful by singing with true modern rhythm. "Buddy's" friend "Bob" will be an engineer yet.

ARNOLD, JOHN Y. — Johnny

Esterly, Reading, Pa.

"Johnny" may have come from the Dutch State but he gets along with the best of them. An up and coming man in the world of mechanics.

AUGUST, NICHOLAS P. — Nic

R. F. D. 4, Box 113, Schenectady, N. Y.

Mgr. Varsity Baseball, '31; Asst. Mgr. Varsity Baseball, '30; Mgr. Class Swimming, '30; Mgr. Class Basketball, '30; Class Soccer, '30.

"Nic" was the source of practically all the fun the Mechanicals had. "Nic" is probably better known in the Art School than any other place.

AVITABLE, JOHN J. — Johnnie

36½ Linden Ave., Middletown, N. Y.

Class Baseball, 1930-31.

One of Pratt's famous boilermakers whose ability on the diamond has played a large part in the success of the team. He is a loyal and hard worker and one who will make good as an engineer.

BAUERLE, KARL E. — Carl

246 Willoughby Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Soccer Captain, 1930-31; Class Bowling, 1930-31; S & T Orchestra, 1930.

A serious minded student of strong character that spells an inevitable success for his future. A great soccer player, under whose leadership the championship was easily won.

BECKER, FREDRIC C. A. — Fritz

2724 Ericsson St., East Elmhurst, L. I., N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Swimming, 1931; Assistant Manager Varsity Basketball, 1930; Prattonia Representative, 1930.

Our star Soccer player. The new Art students hold no great love for him. When any assorted devilishness is to be engineered "Fritz" is right on deck.

BITTERS, FREDERICK W. — Freddie

302 Clinton Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31.

One of Brooklyn's capable representatives who is bound to succeed. He craves athletics and intends to help the baseball team win a championship. "Freddie" has yet to miss a dance without a charming blonde.

BOSLAND, MARTIN — Imp

145 North First St., Paterson, N. J.

Our hardworking class leader who stands up for class rights through thick and thin A good natured and popular chap whose hard work has made all class affairs outstanding.

BOYAJIAN, ARMAND — Brownie

10 Holder Place, Forest Hills, N. Y.

Class Swimming, 1930-31; Captain, 1931.

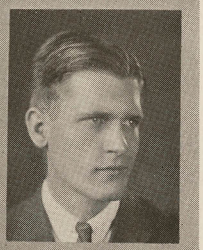

Brownie has the reputation of being Einstein's only rival. He is reputed to be a mathematical genius, professing even to some knowledge of the fourth dimension. More or less of a scientist, whose recreation is physics. Is held by many to be a confirmed misogymist.

BRADY, CHARLES R. Jr. — Charlie

Bullville, Orange County, N. Y.

Any man who can wear a raccoon coat and a derby around P. I. and get away with it need not fear anything. Combined with the roadster they produced a fine sample of "Old Joe College" himself.

BULLWINKLE, JOHN H. Jr. — Johnnie

85 Mayfair Ave., Floral Park, L. I., N. Y.

Quiet and unassuming, but so is a stick of dynamite. A good natured fellow from that vast geographic area known as the "Island." His drawl would do credit to a Kentucky mountaineer.

BURBAUM, ALLEN W. — Allen

1 Court St., West Haven, Conn.

The Boilermaker's counterpart of Joe Miller, the great joke fabricator. Wise cracks flow from Allen's lips like water from a duck's back. Just a little ray of sunshine in a sordid world.

BURDETTE, RICHARD C. Jr. — Dick

665 St. Johns Pl., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Swimming, 1931.

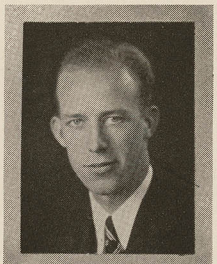

A good natured representative of Brooklyn, who, according to all reports is quite a "Johnny Weismuller" during the summer months. Dick is a willing worker and is always ready to help if called upon.

CAMPBELL, ROBERT F. — Bob

321 Eleanor St., Schenectady, N. Y.

Varsity Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Treasurer, 1930-31.

Space does not permit us to tell you of "Bob's" outstanding qualities. If you're looking for a student or a real friend, see "Bob." His only disadvantage is that he comes from Schenectady.

CAPEN, RICHARD G. — Dick

West St., Bloomfield, Conn.

Class Soccer, 1930-31.

According to Dick anything that flies uses Pratt and Whitney "Hornets." We presume that the soccer ball that he kicked around so well had one too. A quiet sort of a fellow but that's the way of all Connecticut men.

CHAPEK, ADOLPH — Chap

92 Commack St., Islip, N. Y.

"Chap" is one of the prominent commuters from Long Island. His broad smile welcomes all. Plays baseball when not occupied with his work book or commuting to "Islip".

CHIVVIS, GEORGE D. — Chick

Lindenhurst, N. Y.

Class Bowling, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31.

An aviation mechanic and enthusiast who will find fame in this newly developed industry. His dry humor and ready wit will long be remembered by his classmates.

DE LUCIA, F. ARTHUR — Artie

792 Orange St., New Haven, Conn.

Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31; Dance Committee, 1931.

One of the hot rhythm boys whose specialty is trumpet imitations of "Tiger Rag". His every waking thought seems to be centered in New Haven.

DE LUCIA, JOSEPH A. — Joe

98 Second St., Hamden, Conn.

Class Baseball, 1930-31; Prattonia Representative, 1931.

"Beau Brummel," 1931. "Joe" spots everything in vogue "a la" Fifth Avenue. He is serious in all of his undertakings and his ideas on directing the Institute would make it rich in tradition and Collegiate in every respect.

DICK, ANTHONY J. — Dick

834 Strong St., Schenectady, N. Y.

In the race of studying "Dick", with a ready smile and helping hand can always be depended upon to have his work done up to the minute.

DOREMUS, WILLIAM — Duke

194 Madison Ave., Freeport, L. I., N. Y.

Class Bowling, 1930-31.

A sedulous imitator of Beau Brummel hence the royal nickname. In matters pertaining to outboard motors he's at the head of the class. One of the star pin-topplers of the class.

EUERLE, FREDERICK S. — Freddie

1711 Broadbridge Ave., Stratford, Conn.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Manager Baseball, 1931; Bowling, 1930-31; Basketball, 1930-31; S & T Orchestra, 1931.

Stratford's worthy contribution to the engineering world. Excells in machine design and numerous other subjects. Freddie is our star bowler.

FILHO, RAIMUNDO OLIVEIRA — Ray

Rua Dr. Anto Augusto, Granja, Ceara, Brazil

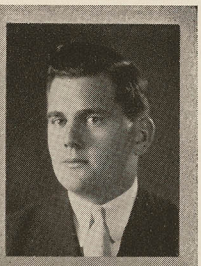

Class Soccer, 1930-31.

A refined and highly educated Brazilian who answered all the Boilermaker's prayers during the soccer season by scoring enough goals to win the championship. A very likable chap who is popular with the fair sex as well as his classmates.

FIMIAN, RUDOLPH U. Rudy

3 Pleasant St., Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.

A globe trotter who is now headed for big things in the field of aeronautics. His ability in acquiring different makes of cars is one of the marvels of the present age.

FISHER, DAVID G. Dave

171 Spring St., Walpole, Mass.

The Library seems to attract Dave to no small extent. We're not sure whether it's books or not. If you can't find "Dave" look for "Rudy", a combination which resulted from that unique S & T seating arrangement.

FORSYTH, JOHN Johnny

527 Eighth Ave., Belmar, N. J.

Athletic Association, 1930-31; President, 1931 President, Men's Club, 1931; Varsity Baseball, 1930-31; Captain, 1931; Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Soccer, 1930-31.

One of the outstanding men at Pratt who is always ready to start a riot with other classes to show the superiority of the Mechanicals.

FRANCIS, EUGENE B. Whitey

125 Howard St., Jersey Shore, Pa.

Varsity Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31.

"Whitey" is one of those all round athletes who keeps the ball rolling. And its a blue day for everybody when he forgets his grin. He seems to have missed his calling by not writing short stories.

FROEHLICH, CARL F. W. Carl

11 East Madison Ave., Clifton, N. J.

Class Bowling, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31; Vice-Chairman, Student Branch A. S. M. E., 1931.

A congenial chap who pursues his studies with care and diligence. If Carl continues his good work he cannot help but be successful. He is our co-pilot of the good ship "A.S.M.E."

GALLAGHER, EDWARD A. — Ed

87 Newton St., Hartford, Conn.

Another Connecticut Yankee rises to fame with conscientious effort. "Ed" keeps his hands and brains quietly at work with a smile that can't be blocked. Machinery needs more men like "Ed".

GOESSLIN, ALBERT P. — Al

39 Mt. Forist St., Berlin, N. H.

"Al" doesn't make much noise but he gets there regardless. He is, no doubt, destined to be a shining light in his father's machine shop. Frequently seen at dances, but not alone.

GRIFFIN, HOWARD J. Jr. — Griff

817 E. 17th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Basketball, 1930-31.

One of the very few who couldn't tear himself away from School during the summer. His only weakness is work which seems to agree with him. We wonder what would happen if he ever got real serious.

HAPGOOD, HERBERT P. — Happy

109 Westminster St., Springfield, Mass.

Manager Class Bowling, 1930; Bowling, 1931.

If Graham-Paiges never came into existence "Happy" would be at a loss when automobiles are discussed in campus gatherings. With an abundance of natural ability "Happy" has an easy time.

HAWKINS, IRVING E. — Irv

99 Manor St., Cohoes, N. Y.

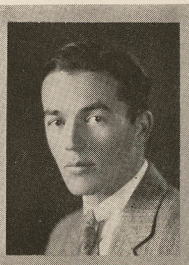

Did Cohoes ever produce a mechanic before? No! Well, the younger generation has a mark set for them. "Second period Hawkins" knows how to make the dust fly. "Irv" is the well known inventor of the question-mark. When his queries stop, he'll know everything. Long life and happiness, "Irv".

HEIM, RICHARD B. Dick

50 Pleasant St., Danbury, Conn.

Assistant Manager Varsity Baseball, 1930.

A popular and likeable fellow who is a consistent patron of school dances. "Dick" is a true business man for he is always ready to trade anything from neckties to sweaters at anytime.

HOFFMAN, HAROLD Hal

97 Highland Ave., Torrington, Conn.

There is no record of a course in dress-making in the S&T school but "Hal" has majored in that subject for some time. Knows quite a lot of the history of Russia by reason of his residence with a couple of its natives.

HOLBROOK, CLEMENT C. Clem

Thomaston, Conn.

Chairman, A.S.M.E., 1931.

A shining example of what plenty of study will do. "Clem" may be found around Pratt from Monday mornings to Friday afternoons. Always ready to lend a helping hand—except on week-ends.

HORVATH, ALEXANDER G. Alex

449 Cedar St., Schenectady, N. Y.

Literary Editor, Prattonia, 1931; Class Soccer, 1930-31.

His efforts as literary editor should easily put him on a plane with any of the other good editors. One of the seldom separated firm of H and P; one of the very few who could do calculus without an effort.

HOUGH, CLARENCE E. Cy

57 Ingraham St., Bristol, Conn.

"Hoff—How—Hug—Hugg—Here!" It is reputed that "Cy" can turn out a full house quite as easily as he can a chunk of iron. Something went wrong with his mechanism and he had to go to the hospital to get it fixed. Being a "Boilermaker" he can fix the trouble if the doctors can't.

HUTCHINSON, RAYMOND E. — Hutch

380 Main St., Bristol, Conn.

Class Secretary, 1930-31.

Our good looking recorder of class doings who possesses a head of wavy hair that would make any Co-Ed envious. Ray is a good man and will get somewhere in this world.

JACKSON, WELLES F. — Jack

75 Church St., Ramsey, N. J.

Class Basketball, 1930; Class Baseball, 1930-31; Bowling, 1930-31; J-V. Basketball, 1931.

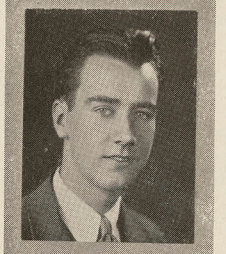

Firm in the belief that mite is might Ramsey sent "Jack" down to prove it. "All work and no play makes 'Jack' a dull boy" so he uses basketball and bowling to provide the lighter side of things.

JONES, WILLIAM K. — Jonesy

17 Poplar St., Ridgefield Park, N. J.

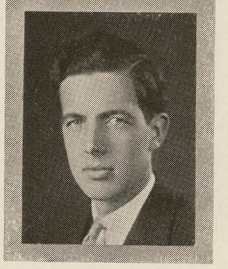

A chap whose only disappointment in life is that he can't commute from Jersey in his 30 foot launch. By the way fellows, he's not a blacksmith.

KAZIMIR, STEPHEN A. — Steve

148 South Main St., Lodi, N. J.

When it comes to wise-cracks, let me introduce the professor himself. "Steve" knows his stuff and has a wealth of good will to follow him into a successful future. Cheerio, "Steve" and keep away from the Green Tea Room.

KELLET, WILLIAM P. — Bill

274 College Rd., Peekskill, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1931.

Coming to us in the second year from Lehigh University, "Bill" strengthened our soccer team by playing a stellar game at fullback. His quiet and amiable personality has made him liked by all.

KIRK, EDWIN C. — Ed

c/o Dr. Wm. Kirk Jr., 2135 5th St., Troy, N. Y.

Manager Class Soccer, 1930-31; Manager Class Basketball, 1930.

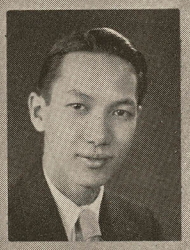

A serious minded student who is an efficient manager of our athletic teams. Wonder what would happen if "Ed" came to nine o'clock classes two days in succession.

KOE, WILLIAM — Bill

2533 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

"Bill" is always intensely interested in what he does. This spells the secret of his scholastic success. Seldom heard from but when he speaks it is wise to listen.

KOROTKOFF, JOHN — John

c/o L. Samarin, 420 W. 156th St., Apt. 29, N.Y.

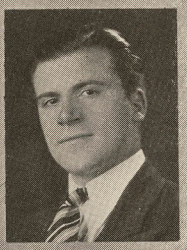

When it comes to a matter of manipulating the various machine shop gadgets John surely does a "Russian job". If persistence were electricity John would be a whole power house. There seems to be a more romantic side to John for he sighs deeply at times and mutters Russian phrases.

KUBLER, CARL H. — Carl

211-96th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

One of the huskies from Brooklyn who is the boy who tries to learn and learns because he tries. A square and trustworthy fellow, rather quiet but heard at opportune times.

KURAEFF, WILLIAM A. — Vladimar

110 West 123rd St., New York, N. Y.

If there is anything puzzling about Diesel engines, "Vladimar" can offer an explanation. His theories are amazing and it is evident that he is a deep thinker.

LASEWIEZ, STEVEN E. — Steve

Newell Ave., Bristol, Conn.

Class Basketball, 1930-31.

Just a smooth man from Bristol. Everything is O. K. with "Steve" even though he does spill the soup at times. Give our best to the family, "Steve", and remember we're pulling for you.

LEESON, EDWARD C. — Ed

190 Green St., Woodbridge, N. J.

Class Swimming, 1930-31; Glee Club, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1930-31.

One of the Jersey mosquitoes who is always singing in your ear. Fifty per cent of that famous duo—"Ed & Bob" who go over big with their crooning specialties. Always happy and pleasant.

LEMMLE, PAUL J. — Paul

743 New Scotland Ave., Albany, N. Y.

If there is a question in Paul's mind it has a temporary lodging. Facts of long standing are put to a gruelling test when he opens his cross examination.

LOUIS, WILLARD M. — Bill

2916 Hillegass Ave., Berkely, Cal.

It looks as though "Bill" is liable to settle down in Sunny California. However, the A.S.M.E. will be glad to get a man like him.

MacKENZIE, NORTON W. — Mac

530 Prospect St., Maplewood, N. J.

"Mac's" got an enviable record of not being late or absent despite the fact that he spends most of Tuesday nights and Wednesday mornings in Richmond Hill. We wonder where he learned how to repair automobiles.

MAEDER, HAROLD A. — Maeder

458 Prospect St., Warren, Pa.

The boilermaker with a permanent wave. He tackles a problem with a spirit that is unconquerable. That occasional vacancy in his eye denotes deep thought of a fair someone back in Warren.

McMANUS, HARRY JR. — Harry

142 So. Country Club Dr., Schenectady, N. Y.

Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Soccer, 1930.

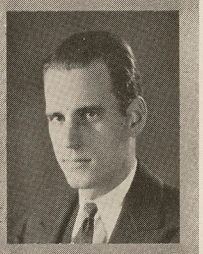

"Harry" is the reason why the Men's Club is still in existence. A quiet lad who showed good judgment in changing from Electrical to Mechanical. Our eagle eyed basketball star.

MERCER, WALLACE P., JR. — Wally

South Broadway, Pitman, N. J.

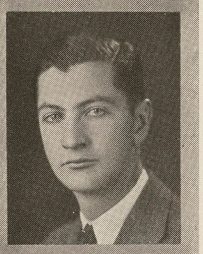

The staid and sedate old man from Philly. There must be some good reason for "Wally's" haste to make the train every Friday.

MIDGLEY, FREDERICK W., JR. — Midge

11 Saratoga Ave., Yonkers, N. Y.

Another of the Hudson Valley boys. He seems to be destined to rise in the world if Otis still continues to build elevators. It is rumored that experiments hold no allure for him. "Say 'Midge' what ever became of those extra steam tables?"

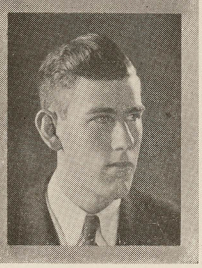

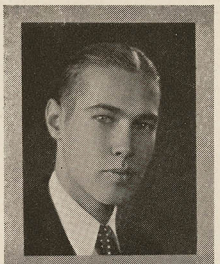

MOORE, ROBERT E. — Bob

1730 East 46th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1930-31.

"Hey, 'Bob,' how's weather up there?" "Bob" is the most altitudinous Boilermaker of recent years. It can easily be seen that he will stand high in his profession.

MORRISON, WILLIAM E. — Bill

162 Huton Ave., Hempstead, L. I., N. Y.

Always in a rush to get away in his "gas wagon." Perhaps it's a lady. Wheels were put on cars to be used but when "Bill" rounds a corner half of them get a rest.

PANCZNER, ERWIN H. — Erv

1915 Jerome Ave., Schenectady, N. Y.

Business Manager, Prattonia, 1931; Class Soccer, 1930-31; Assistant Manager Varsity Tennis, 1930.

The other half of the H and P outfit. Is generally rated as a good designer but some of the methods he designed to wring the reluctant dollars from the Prattonia subscribers brand him as an expert.

PARSONS, DANA — Dan

17 Terrace Place, Arlington, N. J.

Class Soccer, 1930-31.

"Dan" is another one of those quiet students who minds his own business and is never in trouble. A sincere and loyal Boilermaker whose only fault is that he comes from "Joisey."

PHELAN, CHARLES E., JR. — Charlie

855 East 23rd St., Paterson, N. J.

Here is a diplomat who can influence anyone. When "Charlie" is late his innocent appearance almost makes an instructor apologize for starting the class without him. He is one of Erie's main supporters.

POINT, GEORGE M., JR. — George

833 Ninth St., Huntington, W. Va.

Varsity basketball, 1930-31.

"Say, can't I sell you something?" George will sell you West Virginia if you aren't careful. Always busy and ready for anything.

POWELL, FREDERIC W. — Fred

30 Chiswell St., Schenectady, N. Y.

Swimming Captain, 1930.

Here comes the man who will direct the destinies of the General Electric. They say that Schenectady lights and hauls the world. Perhaps "Fred" will boss the outfit. He certainly will make a good try at it.

PROVOST, CHARLES L. — Charles

Collier Ave., Bristol, Conn.

A brawny fellow with a bulldog spirit. "Charlie" is liked by everyone who knows him and when it comes to tossing them on the mat, he knows how.

RACE, FRANK S. — Doctor

170 Henry St., Kingston, N. Y.

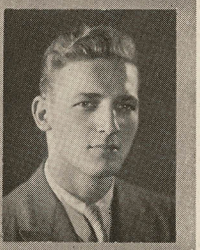

"Say, fellows, did I ever tell you about the time . . . ?" One of the Hudson Valley boys from Kingston—wherever that is.

RAND, KENNETH R. — Ken

404 East 51st St., New York, N. Y.

"Ken" is "Captain Hawk's" only rival. He comes from the Bronx to Brooklyn in 20 minutes in a single motored Ford car. The "Ancient Mariner" of Lake Mahopac, New Jersey. "Sir, how can you do that?"

ROBINSON, CHESTER A. — Robby

347 Wilson St., Brewer, Maine

Class Vice-president, 1931; Manager Class Bowling, 1931; Manager Inter-class Bowling, 1930-31.

"Chesty" is the original high-powered executive. Beside managing the bowling team he also finds time to manage his own numerous affairs.

SALMONSEN, EDWARD O. — Ed

Altamont, N. Y.

Class Vice-president, 1930; Athletic Association, 1930-1931; Secretary Treasurer, A.S.M.E., 1931; Secretary Men's Club, 1931; Varsity Baseball, 1930-31; Class Soccer, 1930-31.

From the looks of the above list it would seem that the only job he didn't have was director. It's a mystery how he did any work but he surely did.

SCHEPIS, RICHARD D. — Shep

1667 Castle Hill Ave., Bronx., N. Y.

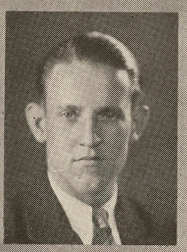

"Shep" rides on the subway everyday from the Bronx and says he likes it. There must be something wrong but in spite of that handicap he will make good. Don't stay up too late nights "Shep".

SCHMALHURST, GEORGE H. — Geo

Marshfield, Ore.

The big boy from the West. Almost as tall as some of those Oregon mountains. A great devotee of the art terpsichorean. His airplane act at the Boilermakers Hop will be long remembered. "Oh, I wish that I were rich."

SCHWERDTFEGER, EDWARD X. — Schwerdts

96 Clinton Pl., East Rutherford, N. J.

"Schwerdts" comes all the way from Jersey every day. A man with sufficient endurance to do that can't be stopped.

SLACK, ARTHUR E. — Artie

Malverne, L. I., N. Y.

"Artie" is a typical Long Island cowboy. Not seen around school very much, because the Long Island railroad was not built for his convenience. "Well, why doesn't it, Mr. Hostetter?"

SMITH, LIONEL W. — Smitty

51 South McLean Blvd., Memphis, Tenn.

"Smitty" maintains that all the songs written about the Sunny South are true—and then some! Just what you expect him to do he doesn't do. Is hard at work all the time for the glory of good old Tenn-o-see.

SMITH, WILLIAM B. — Bill

Hillside, L. I., N. Y.

"Bill" comes from Jamaica. He has that desired faculty of being able to sleep in most any kind of seat, an achievement resulting from long practice.

STASHAK, JAMES E. — Jim

77 Talmadge Ave., Bound Brook, N. J.

A modern version of Romeo, and reputed to be quite successful in this role. He is also a big game hunter, having tried several deer during the past season.

STEIN GEORGE B. — Stein

72 Romaine Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

Class Baseball, 1930-31.

Mickey Woeher's industry. A citizen of Jersey City who seems to have pugilistic leanings. If boilermaking is a flop, the square circle always beckons.

TOTTLE, FREDERICK A. B. — Freddie

Calcutta, India.

Class Soccer, 1930-31.

From India's coral strand to Brooklyn's asphalt pavements, or what price education? A soccer player of rare ability. Watch the Calcutta papers for the announcement of a new alumni chapter.

TROY, FRANCIS H. — Troy

656 Lake St., Elmira, N. Y.

Not related to the famous Helen. One of the tireless "Bucket Brigade" at the club Ryerson. He denies that he is a graduate of the State School in his home town. Is considered by many to have several of the requirements of a good engineer.

VAN BLERCK, JOSEPH C. W. — Joe

36 Riverside Ave., Red Bank, N. J.

Class Swimming, 1930-31.

The "Gar Wood" of the Boilermakers who has made a reputation for himself with his speedy outboard. "Remember the Albany race." Has a peculiar habit of forgetting to pay his room rent.

WALSH, JOHN W. — Johnny

1339 State St., Schenectady, N. Y.

Class Baseball Manager, 1930.

"Johnny" was able to manage the M. E. baseball team and at the same time to steer the bark of domesticity over the turbulent sea.

WHITE, WALTER F. — Whitie

61 Center St., Woodmere, L. I., N. Y.

Class Basketball, 1930-31.

What would the basketball team have done without this scrappy little player. "Whitie" commutes daily to Woodmere in his own car. He is one of the few who can afford to do this.

WILLIAMS, PAUL M. — Paul

Mahopac Falls, N. Y.

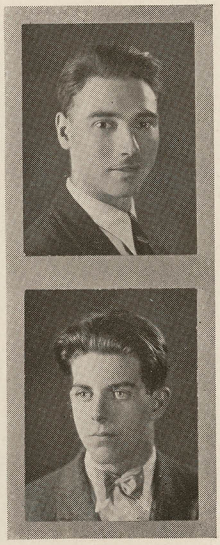

A great believer in the old saying "Smile and the World smiles with you, weep and your nose gets red." His formula seems to be a smile for everyone and as yet he has suffered no ill effects from it.

WOEHR, FRANK G. Woehr

109-11 86th Ave., Richmond Hill, N. Y.

Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Soccer, 1930-31.

One of the few men in the class who can hit a nail twice without hitting his finger three times. He was the engineer in charge of the construction of the gavel which kept the delegates awake at the A.S.M.E. Convention. "Mr. Chairman, I suggest that a committee be appointed . . ."

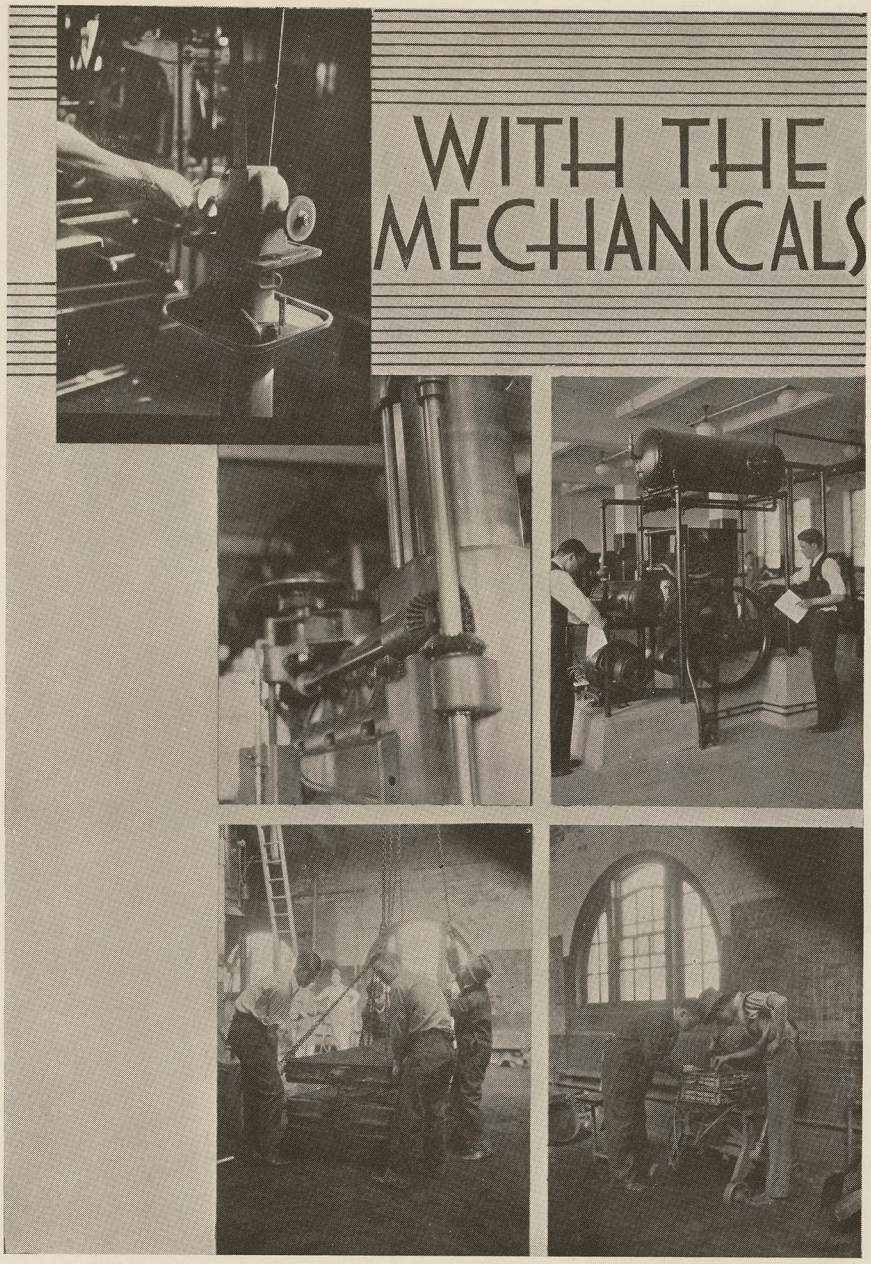

WOOD, JOHN T. Woodie

213 Depew St., Peekskill, N. Y.

One of the rare Hudson Valley Boilermakers. Although living in the home town of Fleischmann's Yeast has yet to be seen eating any. "What's to-day's homework?"

WITH THE

1932

IN THIS corner we have the champion of the ages, Science, with his bag of tricks that have baffled all those who dared enter the ring with him. He sits there in his dignity, champion of them all.

In this corner we have Student Body, whose traits and characteristics represent practically every corner of the earth. Student Body is eager to get started, for he has fought and won many a primary battle in order to make this big moment possible. Although the young warrior seems a trifle nervous, his air of determination makes us all agree that things look pretty bad for old man Science.

The faculty is the referee. There goes the bell! Science is waiting at the center of the ring as Student Body starts to dig in and the fur begins to fly. Science swings at his invader with a series of lectures and shop problems which do not seem to faze the latter. During the first few rounds it looks as though Science has at last met his equal, but what a shock comes to the aggressor when Science gets his Physics and Math punches across. To the folks watching, these look like short jabs of encouragement to fight a little more earnestly, but they should be on the receiving end; more than once these same punches have him groggy but between the rounds he is doctored up with midnight oil. His muscles are brought back in shape by his seconds; namely, soccer, basketball, baseball alternating with swimming, bowling, and track. All these little seconds are ever on the job keeping him physically in shape for the monster. To clear his mind he turns to Jameson, Timbie and Marsh. Even with all these helpers, Student Body often seems to be slowing down. It is here that the Referee, Faculty, steps in with a slap on the back for encouragement or a stage whisper of advice, for they have judged many battles of this nature, hence they are the only observers who realize what Student Body is up against. It is this encouragement and advice which build up the determination of the contender.

The tenth round is over and the doctor enters the ring. One look at Student Body and he advises two months rest with plenty of fresh air and sunshine. Just before he left he told us that he was most grateful to the faculty who had helped him through his first half of the battle.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

INDUSTRIAL CHEMICAL ENGINEERING
1931

THE Chemistry Class of 1931, although not the largest class in the history of the course, has left a record worthy of praise. Under the guidance of Dr. Allen we were brought into contact with elementary chemistry and soon learned that "Abe" Lincoln had nothing on us if we were to conquer our work at Pratt. The majority of the class hailed from the smaller towns of the United States and "Joisey" —but we rapidly became accustomed to the ways and by-ways of New York. We settled down soon and elected Lars E. Johnson to the class presidency. The remainder of the year was spent in disturbing the chemical equilibria of everything in general in order to uphold the traditional accomplishments of the chemists.

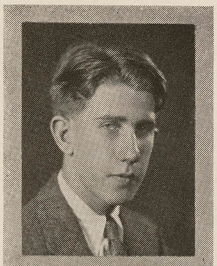

The beginning of the second year perceived us a more matured class. We started the year off with a smoker, given by the Woehler Society, to welcome the first year men. This society, under the direction of Frederick Vogenitz, has been helpful in promoting the social life of the fellows as well as securing interesting lectures for us on applied chemistry. Our second year work was directed by Dr. Rogers and his associates who did everything possible to instill in our minds the fundamental requirements of a successful chemist.

In athletics we have always shown our ability to fight hard and sportsmanly. The class also has a creditable representation among the other student activities in the school, such as the Glee Club, Orchestra, tennis and boxing.

Thus, as we march outward and onward into the world to assume the responsibilities of life it will be long before these two happy and informative years at Pratt are dimmed in our memories and only time eternal can make us forget such personages as Dr. Allen, Dr. Mantell, Dr. Jenness and Dr. Rogers. For through our contact with these men, who have given so freely of themselves to their work, an indelible friendship and fellowship has been developed.

CLASS OFFICERS

LARS E. JOHNSON, President
JAMES M. GORMAN, Vice-President
WILLIAM J. BAPTISTE, Secretary
GEORGE D. CONOVER, Treasurer

AISHTON, ARTHUR D. — Art

81 Liberty Ave., Rockville Centre, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31.

Quiet?—Yes! But one of the first to be missed. "Art" is our easy going basketball man, and a sure scorer. We wish you a colorful time in the dye world, and best of luck.

ARMSTRONG, CLINTON E. — Army

1137 3rd Ave W., Owen Sound, Ontario, Can.

"Army" is our curly haired chap from the far north. When you see a person walking down the street as if plowing through snow—you'll know right off it's "Army." We hope you don't have to pay a tariff on your knowledge gained in Pratt.

AUGUST, ROBERT F. — Bob

57 Curtis Pl., Maplewood, N. J.

Prattonia Representative, 1930-31.

"Doc" on several occasions has called "Bob" our ink and dry color expert. We wish you all kinds of success. But to really succeed "Bob," take this hint, deodorize that "stove" you smoke and shave occasionally.

BAPTISTE, WILLIAM J. — Bill

201 56th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Captain, 1931; Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1931; Varsity Tennis. 1930; Class Secretary, 1930-31.

"Bill" will always be remembered for his support on our class teams and his winning smile accomplished by sparkling eyes. Three cheers for "Smokey."

BELL, GORDON W. — Gord

62 Hazelton St., Ridgefield Park, N. J.

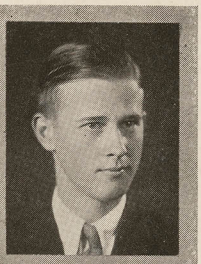

Class Basketball, 1930-31; Captain, 1931; Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Swimming, 1931; Athletic Council, 1931.

"Gord" is another big athlete of our class and is also recognized as soloist of "Squad A." "Bell's" snappy remarks will long be remembered.

BINGHAM, SEYMOUR P. — Senator

530 Lincoln Ave., Orange, N. J.

"Senator" is the real chemist and student of our class. We all are looking forward to advanced theories in a few years by our "Senator." He had better bring them around and explain them in person.

CONOVER, GEORGE D. — Conney

158 Howard St., Passaic, N. J.

Class Treasurer, 1930-31.

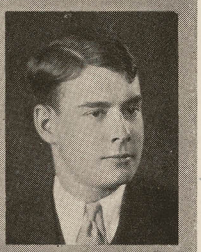

The ever famous expression "Let George do it" is all off now for "George did it." He has taken every cent we owned. The one mystery about "Conney" is this; how does he keep quiet during a lecture?

COX, ELVIN H. — Coxey

28 Ocean Ave., Swampscott, Mass.

There is not one of us who will forget our quiet classmate from outside the "Bean City." A man with a ton of common sense, and ability to work out problems on the smallest amount of paper.

DE PUY, CARL W. — De

23 Hatfield Pl., Fort Richmond, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Swimming, 1931; Class Baseball, 1931; Orchestra, 1930-31.

"De" can sure pick the old banjo and make it hum, with the accompaniment of his original "Wah-da-de-oh." For success, Carl, we suggest rubber heels.

DOUBLEDAY, ARCHIBALD N. — Dubb

101 E. Montgomery St., Johnstown, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Assistant Manager, Class Baseball, 1930; Manager, 1931; Glee Club, 1930; Wohler Dance Committee, 1930-31.

We can't help but like "Dubb" for he has that certain something. One can never tell just what sort of a trick "Arch" will pull. It's dangerous to work near him in the Lab.

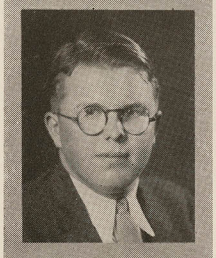

DUNHAM, LAWRENCE W. — Larry

71 Wildwood Rd., New Rochelle, N. Y.

Glee Club, 1930.

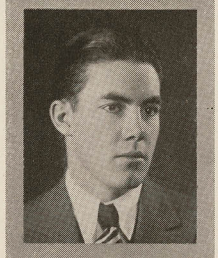

"Larry" has been crowned with a laurel, we believe, for speech accompanied by fifty cent words in conjunction with sufficient volume and assuredness. Here's to your success, "Larry."

ENSTROM, ARTHUR E. — Swede

78 Broadway, Bayonne, N. J.

"Swede" is the "fat boy" of the class, but we won't hold that against him. "Arty" always has a hearty greeting and a smile for all, a good trait "Swede" so keep it.

FLOOD, JAMES E. — Jim

197 Victory St., Stratford, Conn.

Boxing, 1930-31.

"Jim" is our slow but sure man, and no doubt he will hold a responsible position some day. But, Jim, don't wear that green cap when you do achieve recognition.

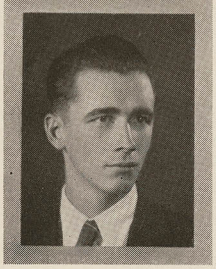

GORMAN, JAMES M. — Jimmie

800 South Market St., Paris, Tenn.

Class Vice-President, 1930-31; Manager Class Soccer, 1931.

"Jimmie" is quality and steadfastness through and through. We shall remember the boy with the school girl complexion from the sunny south.

HANCOCK, JACK — Jack

140 Frankel Blvd., Merrick, N. Y.

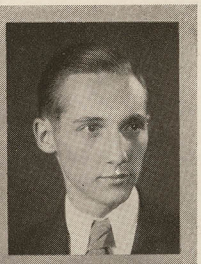

"Jack" can always be told by the large and heavy brief case he carries, and incidentally he is quite a chemist. We shall recall "Jack" to our minds for a helpful hand, and fine neat work.

HARRIS, SPENCER K. — Harry

311 Hillside Rd., Elizabeth, N. J.

Class Soccer, 1930-31.

Being different is "Harry's' 'outstanding trait. One can never tell whether he is sleeping or just listening when in class. It's an art we all tried to master.

HILLMAN, SAMUEL — Sam

171 Thorme St., Bridgeport, Conn.

Manager Class Bowling, 1930-31.

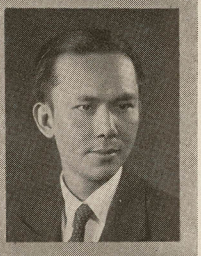

We all know "Sam" and most of us have asked for him from time to time, for he always lends a helping hand to the needy student. "Sam" will make good—he is all business.

HUANG, YAO-TSAI — Wang

Nan Wu College, Honan, Canton, China

"Wang" is the laundry man type of the class, and he claims as much that with no "tickee" you get no "shirtee"—and that's more truth than fiction. Clever people—these Chinese and "Wang" is no exception.

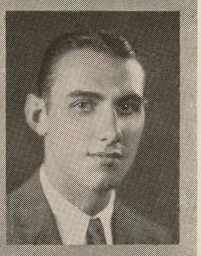

IAFRATE, FAUSTO J. — Frote

677 18th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Swimming, 1931; Class Baseball, 1931.

"Frote" can ask more questions than a final exam, and he's always putting them up to you, aren't you "keed." Keep working hard "Frote" and you'll have no trouble.

JOHNSON, LARS E. — Iggy

172 Woodland St., Bristol, Conn.

Class President, 1930-31; President Student Council, 1931; President, Glee Club, 1930; Vice President, 1931.

After a glance at the above you can readily tell of "Iggy's" high quality and what he has meant to us. Johnson is everybody's friend—even the young ladies.

KOWALCZYK, EDWARD J. — Ed

109 Hobart Ave., Port Chester, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1931.

"Ed" is always on the look-out to see that all's well. He tries hard to be out in front and yet in the last word. His laugh will always ring in our ears.

LOZANO, JAIME — Hiemy

378 Madero Pl., Monterey, N. L., Mex.

"Hiemy" is the most industrious member of the class. Lozano is a bird for working a slide-rule and calculus and we admire him for that. Don't start a revolution when you get back home "Hiemy."

McKEOWN, ROBERT L. — Mac

588 Linden Ave., Woodbridge, N. J.

Class Bowling, 1931.

Quiet, but noticed is our "Mac." "Red" is always on hand to put his shoulder to the wheel. One of "Mac's" most admired habits is his laboratory apparatus, which always looks like new.

MILLER, CLARENCE A. — Millie

Plank Rd., Waterbury, Conn.

Glee Club, 1930-31.

"Millie" is very illustrious and he accomplishes this with his nodding head and with knowledge of industrial affairs. "Millie" spends too much time writing for catalogs and pamphlets.

PEARCE, HARRY T. — Harry

30 Edson Ave., Waterbury, Conn.

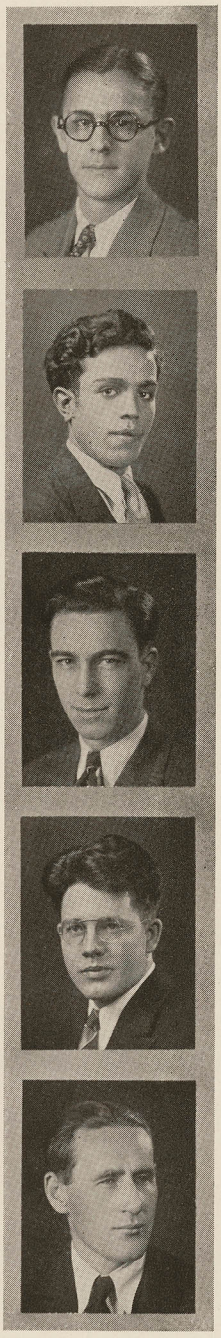

Boxing, 1930-31.

Harry never lets a thing slip by without understanding it from the bottom up. A hard worker and a great questionnaire is our Harry. Well—there's only two types of persons who don't ask questions.

PETITO, NICHOLAS J. Potato

130 Carlton Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Continue with your work, as you have shown us, and success is certain to be your always, "Nick." "Potato" has been a great little classmate and not one will forget him.

POLUCCI, CARMINE T. Polo

310 E. 113th St., New York, N. Y.

Class Swimming, 1931.

"Polo" has had a good deal of experience traveling and has related to us many an interesting tale. We suspect he's going to settle down and—well "nuff sed."

SAWYER, CHARLES L. Charlie

805 Main St., Westbrook, Maine

Manager Class Basketball, 1931; Treasurer Wohler Society, 1931.

"Charlie" is manly and noble in spirit. If it hadn't been for him our Wohler meetings would not have been so refreshing. Charles has been a worthy classmate and what more can be said of a man.

SMITH, WILLIAM H. Bill

110 Larch St., Scranton, Pa.

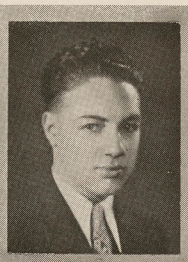

Boxing, 1930-31.

An independent fellow without a care in the world is our "Smithy." Any time you hear a stamping noise in the hall—why it's just "Bill" leaving for work and the time is ten minutes of twelve.

STAVROWSKY, PAUL A. Stavy

Evelyn Cottage, West Ave., Meadowmere Park, L. I., N. Y.

Believe us or not but "Stavy" knows his "Vodka." Paul is sure to be a success for he is a hard worker. Hip boots and the tannery and "Stavy's" at home—every man has his choice.

TALARICO, NATHANIEL R. — Tal

18 Montgomery St., Danbury, Conn.

Class Soccer, 1930; Class Basketball, 1930; Class Baseball, 1930-31.

"Tal" is a gift to a baseball team and he sure was to ours. Say! how do you keep your light gray hat so clean, don't you ever have trouble with dirt falling on it?

TEUBNER, LA DOYT K. — Dutch

3 Provin Ter., Westfield, Mass.

Manager Class Swimming, 1931; Class Baseball, 1931; Wohler Dance Committee, 1931; S. & T. Speaker, 1931.

We like to get "Dutch" going for he has that certain something in his voice that you can't help but like.

TROVATO, ANGELO — Steve

299—10th Ave., Paterson, N. J.

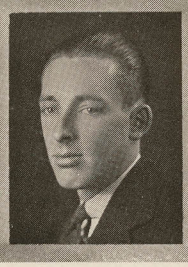

We have often wanted to crown "Steve" for his return wise-cracks but you can't get his goat. He's too good natured. "Steve's" one fault is his taste for neckties, but what's a few ties in a man's life.

UDALL, RODNEY B. — Rod

28 Simon St., Babylon, L. I., N. Y.

"Rod" is the most easy going chap in the class. Although we never got to know "Rod" very well, for we believe he has a very important outside attraction, we think his is a great companion.

VOGENITZ, FREDERICK O. — Otto

32 Pearl St., New Haven, Conn.

President, Wohler Society, 1930-31; Class Swimming, 1930-31; Class Bowling, 1930-31; Capt. 1931; Varsity Baseball, 1930; Orchestra, 1930-31.

As master of ceremonies at our Wohler meetings, "Otto" has been a huge success. A winning smile in his pass word, and it has won us all to him.

WAGNER, CARL A. Waggie

8514—114th St., Richmond Hill, L I., N. Y.

"Waggie" is a graduate mechanical who was determined to get the most out of Pratt, so he returned and took the chemical course. Carl can ask more questions in the most unique way of anybody we know.

ZOTOFF, PETRE S. Pete

14 West 121st St., New York, N. Y.

"Pete" has had a hard struggle but he has come through with flying colors, just as he always will. "Pop" will linger in our memories for his feats of strength and good naturedness plus willingness to learn and understand.

1932

LATE in the summer, on September the ninth, a collection of raw products —about forty-five in number—entered that difficult refining process. Many of our difficulties were removed by "Doc" Allen's well-cultured methods.

Time is a peculiar thing. It moves on with startling regularity, yet sometimes it drags. It seems as if it were only yesterday when we arrived at the Men's Club, deposited our luggage, and started out to find a suitable place to room. We were all strangers, but it was not long until we were merged into one happy family with the spirit of helpfulness prevailing.

The first hour in our "chem" class was a silent one. It reminded us of a group of people entering a new and strange territory.

We also conquered the mechanical shops. First we had pattern-making, then forge and foundry. With all these fields mastered, we, the products of these kitchens, are somewhat of pattern-makers, blacksmiths and moulders.

The chemists in their "home" or laboratory have been very successful. Of course there is still that familiar sound of a beaker or retort crashing into innumerable particles upon the floor. There is still the miscreant opposite you who insists on saturating books and apparatus with water. Individual laboratories should be constructed for these persons.

In the field of athletics we have always held our own. Even with the loss of several good players, we were never beaten badly.

The class wishes to thank all the faculty with whom they have come in contact for their splendid cooperation. We feel that this keeps us fighting for success.

We live in anticipation of our second year. If half the pleasure and experiences of our first year are revealed in our second, Pratt Institute will have lived up to its standard.

There is no doubt that one of the most valuable qualities which you can carry with you into your future life is faith in principle, and a conscious courage which follows the faith. There will be no doubt of the success which will attend your work in life, if you will only be true to the one main idea: personal consciousness that you are in the path of duty, and that consciousness should give you courage to bear up under all discouragements.

CHARLES PRATT

INDUSTRIAL ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING
1931

TWO years have passed since we put out of port on our good electric ship "I.E.E. '31". Our cargo was books, papers, pens and pencils, and our destination "Knowledge". Our skipper was Mr. Cook, first mate—Mr. Carr, second mate—Mr. Miller, and Mr. Barclay as engineer. While en-route, we sighted other ships bound for the same port, so we hailed them and we all put off for the "Isle of Pleasure" where we played games and made merry. Our sport of outstanding merit was basketball, in which we excelled, and were runners-up for the championship.

We soon learned from our officers, however, that our time could not all be spent in playing but that we had to work hard at our posts so that our ship would not be lost in the storms that would inevitably come.

Along about the end of the first year we noticed that the barometer was dropping rapidly. The following day we ran into a terrifying typhoon which raged for three days. The seas were mountainous and came crashing down on our ship as though to break it to pieces, but it was a sturdy vessel and stood up well; although some of the crew were washed overboard. On the last day of the storm the ship sprung a leak and our motor rooms were flooded, putting the ship out of commission. When the storm cleared we made temporary repairs and put in at the "Isle of Vacation" where we repaired the ship and recuperated.

After two months at the "Isle of Vacation" we again set sail for our destination, this time knowing our ship better, and, having experience, we had little trouble. We again met the same ships as last year and played more games, our basketball team being once more successful.

Now, at the end of our voyage, we can look back at the many pleasant times that we spent with our shipmates and officers, and eagerly—yet regretfully—step forward into this great world where we will run into many more storms, more severe than the ones we have already encountered.

CLASS OFFICERS

FRANCIS J. DWYER, President
WILLIAM J. McLAUGHLIN, Vice-Pres.
IRVING F. KOHRS, Secretary
LELAND L. ENGLISH, Treasurer

ARANGO, CHARLES L. — Charlie

Barranquilla, Colombia, S. A.

Wrestling, 1930; Chess, 1930.

"Charlie" is our representative from South America. A quiet sort of chap, but remember: "A man of silence is a man of sense."

BATTLES, EDWARD P. — Pierce

72 High St., Holyoke, Mass.

"Oh, that's easy." Of course it's easy after asking one hundred and one questions. He was quite playful in his first year, but after the Alumni Day incident last year he was tamed considerably.

BRACE, CARMEN S. — Carbo

199 Queen St., W. Toronto, Ont., Can.

"Carmon" is our representative from Canada. The fellow who never leaves his work till it is well done. He has a better knowledge of motorcycling than the "Indian Motorcycle Co."

BREWER, HORTON — Hort

Hancock, N. Y.

He started to be a "boiler maker" but was converted. A silent and conscientious student. Outside activities have prevented us from knowing him better. We gamble on him coming through.

BUTLER, EDWARD L. — Ed

59 Chestnut Ave., Waterbury, Conn.

One of the most intelligent chaps in the class. We all admire "Ed" for his pleasing personality and our wishes for the best of luck go with him.

BUZZELL, WILBUR J. Buzzy

11 Lafayette St., Portland, Me.

Buzz comes to us from "way down east"—but thinks he'll stick to N. Y. He certainly knows his currents, is fond of cigars and sure can tickle the ivories.

CALBURG, PAUL G. Paul

23 Fernleaf Ave., Longmeadow, Mass.

A quiet industrious chap is our friend Paul. Much can be said for him as a steady conscientious worker.

CHANTZ, PHILIP H. Phill-up

Frenchtown, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31.

A big chicken man from the state of New York, working for the presidency of The Brooklyn Edison Co. An ardent follower of public speaking both at school and at Union Square.

COOK, JOHN E. John

41 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Chairman A.I.E.E., 1931.

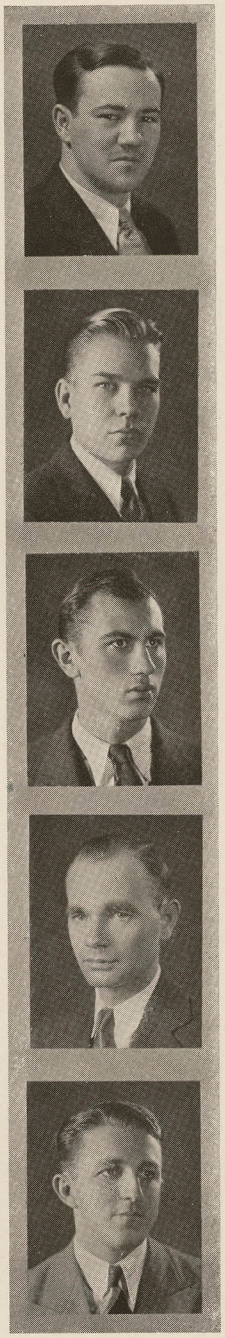

One of the experienced fellows in the class. John is certainly a hard worker and is always willing to lend a helping hand. Best of luck, John!

DALEY, ANTHONY P. Peasoup

9 Miller St., Pittston, Pa.

Glee Club, 1931.

A little big coal miner from Pa. who studies from 4 to 2 and still gets to class on time. Can quote Shakespeare as well as Ohm's Law.

DAVIS, CHARLES T. — Charlie

Mt. Sinai, L. I., N. Y.

"Charlie" is always the man to turn to for a cheery word and smile. We have yet to see a downhearted expression on his face.

DE BERNARDI, BERNARD G. — Dee

160 Indian Neck Ave., Branford, Conn.

Class Soccer, 1930; Glee Club, 1930.

"You're wrong"! So says Dee, who hails from that sophisticated state of Connecticut and knows Brooklyn almost as well as Hoboken. His weaknesses are milk bottles and women.

DEE, VAUGHN C. — Vaughn

108 Rowsley St., Bridgeport, Conn.

Class Soccer manager, 1930-31.

The staunch supporter of the photo-electric cell upon whom we always depend for our display of pictures at lectures. He is the conductor of Pratt's dancing class.

DELLO RUSSO, PERGENTINO — Jim

222 Kimball Ave., Westfield, N. J.

Class Bowling, 1930-31; Glee Club, 1930-31; Librarian of Glee Club, 1931; Camera Club, 1931; Junior Symphony, 1931.

The glee club enthusiast who entertains by singing "O Sole Mio" during those long hours of design.

DOCK, ALBERT F. — Al

1912 Second St., North Bergen, N. J.

V.-Pres. Student Council, '30; Class Soccer, '30-31; Class Baseball, '30-31. Editor Electrical Echo, '31.

"Al" is one of the industrious students. He is the fellow who always had two days of work to do in one. If you ever meet "Al" be sure and have him smile for you—and notice those dimples.

DOVE, BENJAMIN — Billy

321 W. 94th St., New York, N. Y.

Our former "sparks" who knows his Chinatown as well as numerous other foreign ports. A student whose effort is 100%. Call on "Bill" when you need help in those high-frequency problems.

DOWD, JOHN J. — Jack

1301 No. 19th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Philadelphia's gift to Pratt. His personality and humor should get him a long way after leaving. "Jack" is the best looking fellow in the class and more than that to a certain Dietitian.

DWYER, FRANCIS J. — Pat

181 Piedmont St., Waterbury, Conn.

Editor in chief Prattonia, 1931; Class Secretary, 1930; Class President, 1931.

"Our President" famous for his week ends. As faithful a friend as he is at sentry duty at the Ryerson Street entrance. He wanted an Austin but couldn't get his 6 ft. 2 into anything smaller than a Ford.

ENGLISH, LELAND L. — Lee

Cazenovia, N. Y.

Class Treasurer, 1931; Class Baseball manager, 1930-31; Circulation manager Prattonia, 1931.

A student to the Nth degree. "Lee" is always willing to give a fellow student a helping hand.

ERDMAN, HERBERT G. — Herbie

530 Washington St., Hudson, N. Y.

Assistant Basketball manager, 1930.

A great little fellow who has memorized the Bible at a young age besides many words, that are not in the Bible. Makes many threats but one is quite safe in ignoring them. Hudson's gift to the scholastic world.

EVERS, GEORGE E. — Georgie

99 Pilling St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Bowling, 1930-31.

The short member of the Evers-Falk combination. They will bet on anything whether it is right or wrong. A wonderful, likeable fellow with a big heart and the creator of "the tie that binds."

FALK, JOHN F. — Jack

214 E. 5th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Bowling, 1930-31.

The tall member of the Evers-Falk combination. He might be considered the originator of most of the bets. He would make a good announcer at prize fights.

FREY, GEORGE O. — Fry

Oxford, N. J.

Wrestling, 1930; Class Soccer, 1931.

Maybe the picture looks like one of Jack Dempsey, but it is George Frey. Another Electrical from Jersey. We certainly envy his ability for tracing out circuits in the Electrical role. Best o' Luck, "Frey!"

GAFFNEY, PAUL L. — Windy

114 Bowers Ave., Watertown, N. Y.

Class Baseball, 1930-31.

A big prohibition man from Watertown, generally associated with a fish peddler. The class cut-up. You can hear him before you can see him. Thumbs up, "Gaff?"

GARDNER, WALTER M. — Luther

147 16th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Boxing, 1930; Treasurer, A.I.E.E., 1931.

The big noise from South Brooklyn. Just a small fellow but a darn good lamp lighter. How about it, "Luther?"

GIBBON, EDWARD C. — Gibby

27 Royce Ave., Middletown, N. Y.

The notoriously famous "Hank the Fish Peddler," from Middletown. He has a tendency for chewing other peoples ears, and attending law suits. You can't beat Middletown apples can you, "Gibb?"

GRANDY, MILTON B. — Milt

82 Congress Ave., Shelton, Conn.

A very conscientious worker during the first year, but noticeably different this year. We are afraid that "Milt" is thinking too much of the girl friend back home.

GRAY, NORMAN — Norm

Sound Beach, Conn.

One of our commuters. Comes nearly every day but we wonder where he spends his time when absent! "Norm" is a quiet fellow and his pleasing personality has attracted the attention of everyone.

GREGORY, JOHN J. — Jack

147 English St., New Haven, Conn.

Athletic Council Representative, 1930-31; Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Basketball Manager, 1931; Business Manager Electrical Echo, 1931.

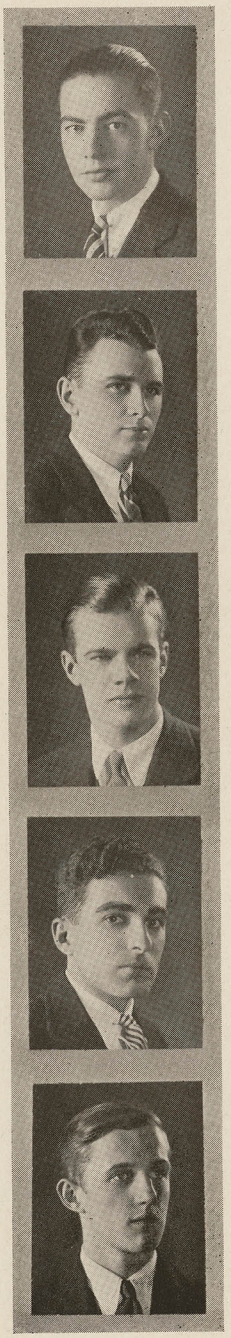

Neat—precise—with a ready argument on a sound basis. What an engineer he'll make!

GUNTHER, JOHN A. — Johnnie

297 Garden St., Hartford, Conn.

Varsity Basketball, 1930; Class Basketball, 1931.

Hartford lost a good man when John came to Pratt. Wonder if he knows how to get from school to 125th St.? Good luck, "Johnnie."

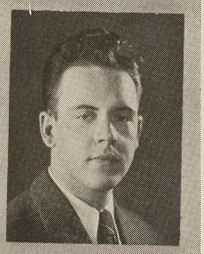

HARVEY, CHARLES I. — Charlie

Durham, Conn.

"Charlie" is an all-round good fellow,—cautious and conservative in everything he does. One can't go wrong that way.

HOAG, JOHN A. — Jack

13 Fountain Pl., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Class Basketball, 1930-31; Secretary, A.I.E.E., 1931; Associate Editor, Prattonia, 1931.

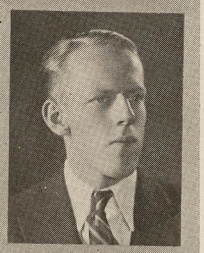

"Jack" has fidgity feet and how he likes to trod the polished floor. The business man of the class and will sell you anything.

HOPE, PAUL — Paul

Hurleyville, N. Y.

The lad from the wilds of Sullivan County, where men are men and cider is cider. Paul has a weakness for dietitians, one in particular.

HUBBELL, GEORGE H. — Saw-tooth

Stratford, Conn.

George makes quite a bit of noise around school but we never hear a sound from him during the shop quiz periods. The reason is simple—he just can't talk in his sleep.

JOHNSON, HAROLD W. — Harold

570-45 St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Captain Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Bowling, 1930; Class Baseball, 1930-31

A quiet student who is out to succeed in his work. When it comes to math he knows his stuff. Keep the good work up, Johnson.

JOHNSON, LINCOLN H. Link

220 W. Main St., Plainville, Conn.

Bowling Manager 1930; Athletic Association Representative, 1930-31.

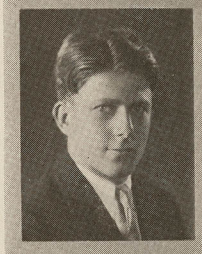

We never hear a great deal from "Link", but he is "right there". Always lend a helping hand is Link's motto.

JONES, EDWARD C. Rudy

80 Wetherfield Ave., Hartford, Conn.

The midget of our electrical class, small but prominent. His close resemblance to "Rudy" Vallee has secured him the nickname of "Rudy". Some say he is equally as popular with the women.

KELLY, ARTHUR J. Red

372 W. Grove St., Waterbury, Conn.

Class Baseball, 1930-31.

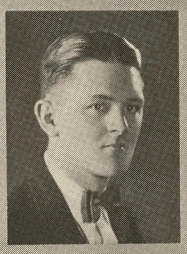

"Red" is the fellow that likes to ask questions in machine shop. Always has to find out what makes the lathes act as they do.

KELLY, JOSEPH J. J. J.

109 Clinton Ave., New Haven, Conn.

"Red" is our leading power factor. His humor has brought many a laugh, from the empty class room. He is credited with the degree of M.S.S. (master of slip stickology)

KELLY, WILLIAM J. Bill

350 E. 28th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930; Class Swimming, 1930; Manager, 1931.

"Bill" has a great mind for "doping out hook-ups" —both in lab and in design. "Bill" also has a keen sense of humor that is bound to help him along in the world.

KINDY, CARL W. Carl

60 Washington St., Westfield, Mass.

"Carl" has a keen sense of checking our hook-ups and an equal sense for getting his work in ahead of the rest. We predict that "Carl" will certainly find his way in the world.

KOHRS, IRVING F. Irv.

437 Riverside Ave., Torrington, Conn.

Class Treasurer, 1930; Class Secretary, 1931; Class Baseball, 1930 31; Class Basketball, 1931.

A rising genius when it comes to Math. We wonder where "Irv" was keeping himself when the Edison scholarship was awarded.

KUHLMAN, JOSEPH K. Joe-Joe

Ellenville, N. Y.

J-V. Basketball, 1930; Varsity Basketball, 1931; Varsity Baseball, 1930 31.

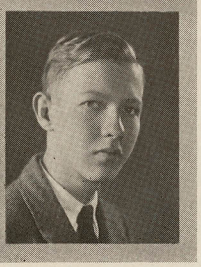

"Joe Joe", the boy with the iron hand and the rubber glove. A stubborn "Dutchman" who has an infinite supply of questions which are constantly hustling forth.

LANIER, NORBERT J. Mike

8 Maple Ave., Ware, Mass.

"Mike" sings well in a quartette and can jiggle his tie up and down. Can always be depended on for the correct answer no matter how he finds out.

LEEK, FREDERICK L. Doc

917 Putnam Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

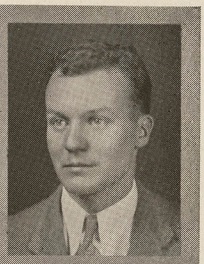

"Doc", as he is known to us is a quiet fellow; but silence is more eloquent than words. Anyway we guess he knows his onions.

LEWIS, GILBERT C. — Gil

354 E. 66th St., New York, N. Y.

Class President, 1930; Class Soccer, 1930; Class Swimming, 1930-31.

"Gil" will always be remembered by his witty smile. How he can figure longhand! No "slip-stick" is necessary for "Gil".

LLOYD, CHARLES C. — Lloyd

822 Broadway, Long Branch, N. J.

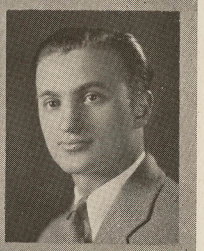

"Lloyd" is the type of fellow who always sees the bright side of things; a quality which is rare these trying days. One of our commuters who is usually late mornings.

MANZI, MICHAEL H. — Mike

Millbrook, N. Y.

Those who have made friends with "Mike" are lucky because "Mike" is a true friend. His perserverance and accuracy should spell success for him in the engineering world.

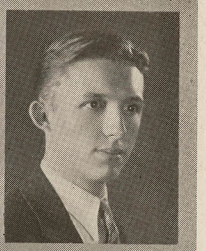

MAY, HOWARD — Howie

344 Broad St., New Britain, Conn.

Varsity Basketball, 1930-31; Class Baseball 1930-31.

The boy with the great sense of humor. His quick sallies bring many a laugh. We are still puzzled whether it is his fad or someone else.

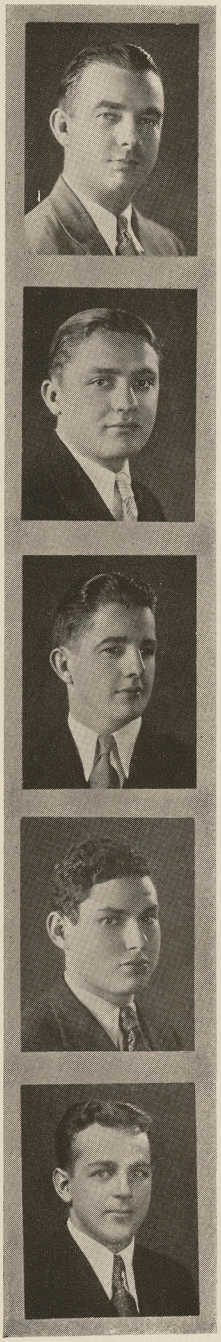

McLAUGHLIN, WILLIAM J. — Mac

86 Third St., Troy, N. Y.

Assistant Cheer Leader, 1930; Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Bowling, 1930; Class Vice-President, 1931.

Through his smile and pleasing personality "Mac" has won many friends. His strange weakness for crooning theme songs has made him famous. We wonder who she is.

MILES, WILLIAM M. — Bill

1051 W. Columbia St., Springfield, Ohio

"Bill" Miles is our senator from Ohio. He is a likeable chap and his book of tables are always available. "May I make a suggestion for your book, Mr. Cook?"

MILEWSKI, LEO A. — Leo

248 Lawlor St., New Britain, Conn.

"Leo" is quite an athlete—responsible for all the field goals earned by the Electricals in 1930.

O'BRIEN, JOSEPH D. — Joe

Main St., Williamstown, Mass.

Hush! I hear a voice but I can't see anyone. Seldom on time for classes, but "Joe" is about the only one that can give Packtor an argument. Why do all the girls move to Ryerson Street, "Joe?"

PACKTOR, BERNARD M. — Pack

125 Greenwood St., New Haven, Conn.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1930-31; Vice-Chairman A.I.E.E., 1931.

The human "Pathe News" idea. Sees all and knows all, he rivals the ancient demagogues in his ideas, but a pleasant chap at that.

PENNEY, WILLIAM A. — Bill

Hampton Bays, Long Island, N. Y.

"Bill" is a modest fellow who does his work quietly and thoroughly. "Bill's" fan mail is so heavy, he hardly finds time to do his "juice" problems.

RASKIN, ARCHIE — Archie

314 W. Palisade Ave., Englewood, N. J.

If you want to know anything about a new engineering feat ask "Archie". Things like that come natural to him. His supply of automobiles makes us think that he runs a used car mart.

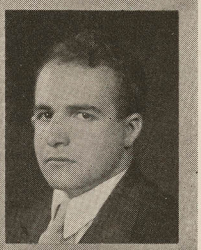

ROOD, CLAYTON H. JR. — Clay

Baltic, Conn.

Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Soccer, 1931.

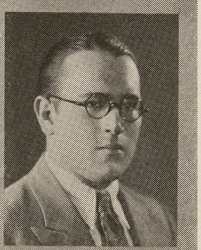

Worcester Tech must be a wonderful place from "Clay's" descriptions. A radio bug of the first order, which probably explains the sleepy look in his eyes at times.

SALZER, ERWIN O. — Salz

163 Bay Ave., Patchogue, L. I., N. Y.

Being a commuter has prevented him from participating in activities at school, but dame rumor reports that he is quite active out in Patchogue, where they even have firemen.

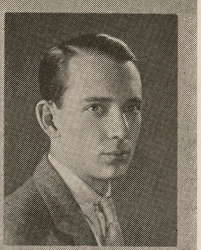

SAMBOLIN, ALFREDO — Sammy

10 Salud St., Ponce, Porto Rico

Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Bowling, 1930.

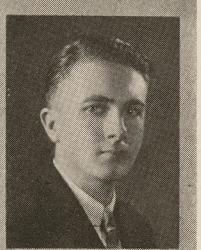

Genial "Sammy!" Always has a smile when the work is hard. Keep that smile, it will never fail you.

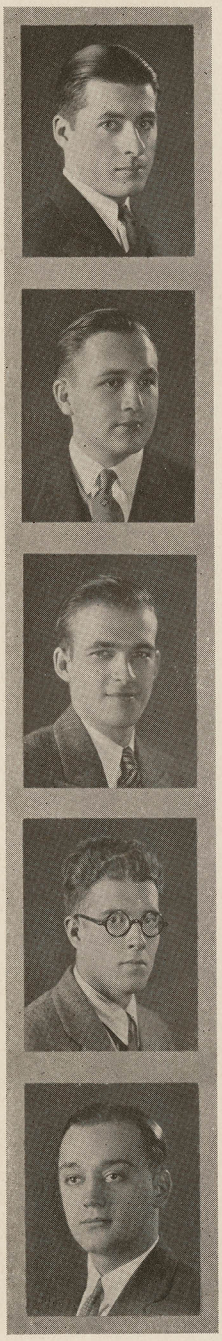

SCHAAR, FREDERICK — Fred

Prospect Heights, Canon City, Col.

A quiet and serious worker who hails from the "wild and woolly west". At times he treats us to more western atmosphere by wearing his chaps. The horse will be the next treat.

SCHILLING, ERNEST R. — Ernie

128 Madison Ave., Pittsfield, Mass.

Quiet, sincere, and dignified. How can we say more about one who makes so little noise? "Still waters run deep", they say, so we're sure he will make the grade.

SCHIMKE, CHARLES F. — Charlie

14 Prospect St., South Hadley, Mass.

The big trolley and locomotive man from Massachusetts. A chat with "Charlie" will drive the blues away. In the future you'll find him in "Who's Who" in the Electrical Industry.

SCHMIDT, ARNOLD W. — Schmitty

109-23 124th St., Richmond Hill, L. I., N. Y.

A real New Yorker, who thinks, sleeps, and talks New York. Before he joined us he was known as the Bull of Wall Street, from that well known town of Richmond Hill.

SCOVILL, HERBERT C. — Herb

97 W. North St., Stamford, Conn.

Quite a clever young fellow. Doesn't seem to worry a great deal about his studies, but when the time comes for judgment he is not far from the top.

SMEREKANYCH, METRO — Met

24 Third St., Seymour, Conn.

Class Bowling, 1930; Class Soccer, 1930-31.

A good fellow who started out with the odds against him. Hard work usually scales mountains. Notorious socially, but he keeps it secret.

SMITH, LLOYD F. — Smitty

West Railroad Ave., Jamesburg, N. J.

One of those chaps who commutes every day from New Jersey and therefore has a good excuse for arriving at school late and leaving early. Despite all the time spent traveling he certainly gets his work done in good order.

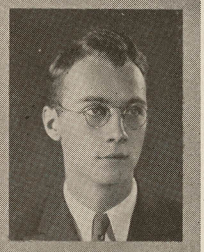

STERNER, HOWARD R. — Sterner

107 Platt St., Waterbury, Conn.

Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1931.

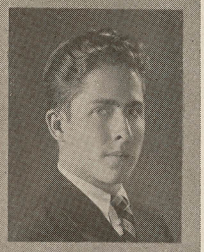

One of our tall engineers. We would like to bet he rises above the average in his profession as he already has an excellent start on the rest of us.

ST. JOHN, FREDERICK H. — Fred

1033 Palisade Ave., Palisade, N. J.

Fred is one of these quiet sort of fellows, likeable and a good scout. He is one of our few commuters who is always found in the Men's Club around eight thirty.

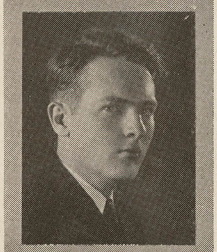

STOLL, HAROLD A. — Red

297 E. 5th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Vice-President, 1930; Prattonia Representative, 1930-31.

Considered quiet by the boys in his squad but when it comes to extracting write-ups from his fellow classmates we have found him to be extremely loud.

STULL, STANLEY W. — Stan

232 McKinley St., Torrington, Conn.

Class Basketball Manager, 1930; Class Basketball, 1931.

Another of one of those Connecticut Yankees. We wonder if "Stan" will ever learn to start a Corliss engine. He may not be an M.E. but he is a real good E.E.

TERNI, STEPHEN P. — Steve

Millerton, N. Y.

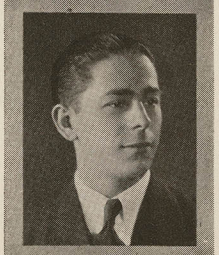

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31.
"Steve", the ambitious boy from Millerton, is always trying to find the why and wherefore of anything that is interesting.

THALER, MILTON — Milt

5015 Ave. N, Brooklyn, N. Y.

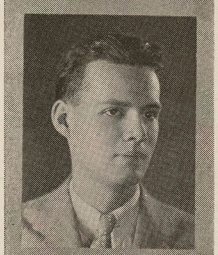

Class Baseball, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1931.
Sharp! Concise! Ambitious!—especially during lunch hour. What an engineer he will make, judging from the peppy color of his hair.

TIERI, ARTHUR J. — Pyzon

34 Benefit St., Southbridge, Mass.

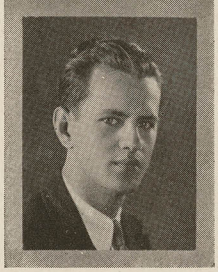

Symphony Orchestra, 1930-31.
The class pep package. He may be small but that doesn't mean he isn't heard of. I guess we will miss that trumpet of his in the Men's Club at noon hours.

TILTON, HOWARD B. — Howie

24 Manning St., Salem, Mass.

A hardworking quiet chap with a sense of humor. What a way he has with women. Thinks a little faster than the next and will go far.

TUCCI, FRANK J. — Tooky

177 4th St., Long Island City, N. Y.

Frank was a very downhearted boy the first few days of school. The reason is that someone "borrowed" his Buick Sedan for a few days. Do you still leave your car unlocked, Frank?

WATT, RALPH A. — James

Middle Gronville, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1930-31.

One of the staunch guards at the Ryerson Street gate. We wonder why? He must be a gentleman, blondes being his preference.

WESSELY, GEORGE — Wess

1244 Westchester Ave., New York, N. Y.

George was our last hold out in the lip adornments, but like all the rest, the adornment was removed. Keep that old fight in you, George, it may mean success.

WILLS, ARTHUR R. — Art

Colonial Terrace, Asbury Park, N. J.

Class Basketball, 1930-31; Class Bowling, 1931.

"Art" is one of these fellows who doesn't say much but does a great deal of thinking. He is fast in his studies and doesn't think much of our ordinary mortals.

WHYLAND, JOSEPH — Joe

277 Johnson Ave., Stratford, Conn.

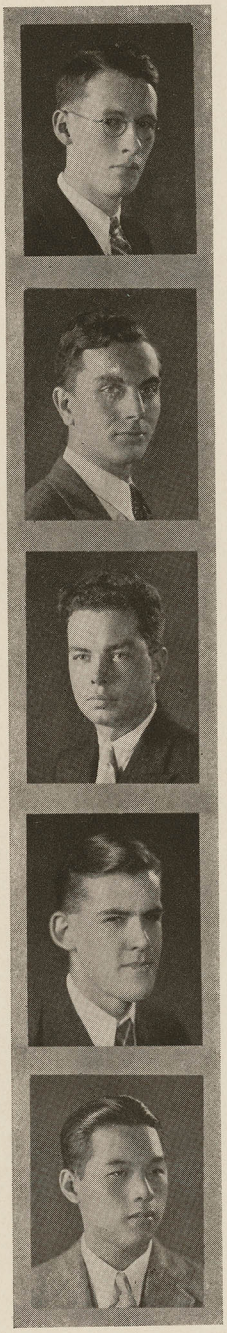

Class Basketball, 1931.

"Joe" is one of the most quiet and studious fellows in his class. He never leaves a problem until he understands it thoroughly.

WONG, RICHARD — Dick

165 Harrison Ave., Boston, Mass.

"Dick" is the only son of China in the class. Quiet, good natured, and always smiling. He is liked by everyone.

WOUNDY, IRVING F. Irving

17 Cannon St., Norwalk, Conn.

We don't know whether he'll become an electrical engineer or a candy maker, still we hope he will stay with the candy business for we all like candy.

1932

SEPTEMBER the ninth, in the year 1930, during the greatest economic depression of our time, almost a hundred students from various parts of the New World and also from Spain and Russia, gathered together at Pratt Institute. Our objective was to satisfy our yearning for a greater and better knowledge of the science of the mysterious phenomenon, Electricity, and eventually to return to our various districts to assist in the development of that science.

Among our members are fellows who have capitalized on the general business depression by utilizing their remaining economic resources to get, as only Pratt knows how to give, the whys and wherefores of their chosen work.

We became acquainted with our instructors and our daily routine, and soon learned to appreciate the high calibre and the untiring efforts of our instructors as they removed many doubts and difficulties which confronted us.

Next we were guests of the Senior Class at a "Smoker" where we Juniors became acquainted with our Seniors. The Seniors treated us royally and applauded our challenge to "give them a trimming at soccer." At this get-together we also met some of the other instructors from whom we expect to receive instruction during our senior year.

In our interclass athletics we, with a soccer team of "ever-play-before?" enthusiasts took three defeats. The tide then turned and we won three games, which included the defeat of our Seniors, thus fulfilling our challenge much to our Seniors' amazement.

Our teams in basketball, bowling, and swimming have continued to maintain a splendid spirit of sportsmanship. They are indeed a credit to the class.

The Student Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers has received many of our fellows as members, some of whom have already presented papers before the society.

SCHOOL OF FINE
AND APPLIED ARTS

SCHOOL OF FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

ONE of the most interesting developments in recent years in the United States presents itself in the field of Art. Never before has this activity played as important a role as it now enjoys in every day life with evidence pointing to an ever increasing importance. It has developed hand in hand with the phenomenal growth of advertising, sharing honors equally with the written thoughts that sell our products. For some time this country has led the world in efficient and economical mass production. In our industrial development, however, we have neglected the art quality. This important sales force is now being successfully incorporated in industry, quite evident in the improved appearance of such products as automobiles.

Gradually there is emerging in America a distinctly National Architecture especially visible in those cathedrals of commerce, the skyscrapers, and still more recently—cloudpiercers. Not only is the exterior, but also the interior commanding careful study and creative attention. In education, from the kindergarten through the college, the subject of Art is recognized as a fudamental phase of a well rounded program.

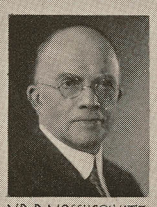

This School trains students to meet these various demands through courses in Commercial Illustration, Industrial Design, Interior Decoration, Architecture, and the Teaching of Fine and Industrial Arts. Intensive courses have been established that the greatest possible return may be obtained for the time spent in study. Programs are so presented that creative ability is fostered, principles of art are taught and skill in technique is developed. That our graduates may be acquainted with the world's finest art an opportunity for a comprehensive study of the outstanding examples in architecture, sculpture, painting, and the crafts is included in all courses presented.

TEACHER TRAINING

NO Prattonia would be complete without an account of the activities of the worthy "Normals." We, the future instructors of the coming generations maintain that, though we may not be primarily artists there is even greater opportunity in the field of teaching.

Our record for the past three years will without doubt be the despair and envy of all incoming classes. In marks, fellowship, and personnel, we bow to none. What is more, our social activities were occasions to be remembered. From our first reception to the last Farewell Banquet there was fine food, entertainment, and companionship.

This year has been by far the most strenuous, but again a triumph—certain members of the class during the year, have become addicts of the tracing paper habit, no! not that way, but merely as means of aiding their ambitions to collect valuable reference material for future use. Puppets of various shapes and materials have been discovered tucked away in lockers. Masks both serene and terrifying also made their appearance. Hand carved book ends, coats of arms, sconces, jewelry of distinguishment also stowed away in sunshine alley. Above the lockers are oils with a Cezanne and Chardin touch,—all evidence of our industry and skill.

For those who have had the privilege of being Pratt's guests for these three years will remember fondly our playful Freshman days when "Coffee Potting" was the delight and pleasure of many. Also, a certain classmate's weakness for mice, snakes and hop toads. While the credit being acclimated, the "Regulars" proceeded with their gay and youthful manner to attack the second year. Oh! the mechanical drawings and costume illustrations. Recall our first Xmas Party and the June Banquet?

Before we say our last farewell, let us review the real achievements of our Senior year. The acquisition of aims and definite objectives; an understanding of the term Art Appreciation; and methods to use upon those who are not art-minded. Then let us not forget those long discussions and joyous friendships have made these three years unforgettable.

CLASS OFFICERS

JOSEPH C. CASCIO, President
HARRIET H. DE LONG, Vice-pres.
EDWARD A. PARSKE, Secretary
MARIAN N. VAN DEWATER, Treas.

BEATTY, JEAN W. — Jean

204 Hancock St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers; Women's Club Representative, 1930.

Jean could be calm and cool in her raccoon coat at the equator. Nothing daunts her, even Public Speaking fails to destroy her placidity. "Oh the beauties of West Point!"

BELL, ELIZABETH Y. — Betsey

148 Longview Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

Paletteer President, 1931; Publicity Chairman, 1930; Paletteer Representative, 1930; Basketball, 1930.

Our Paletteer President! Capable, dependable, refreshing. Betsey is the possessor of a mischievous smile and a distinctive titian coiffeur. Those immortal words of Milton!

BIRCH, MILTON D. — Milt

143 DeLacy Ave., N. Plainfield, N. J.

Artsmen.

A master mind in the making. Opinions and suggestions wholesale—not always appreciated. "Milt's" ancestors probably landed at Plymouth Rock, or else were on the Reception Committee.

BRINDISI, EILEEN A. — Eileen

187-25 Tioga Dr., St. Albans, L. I., N. Y.

Paletteers; Fencing, 1929-30-31; Volleyball, 1930.

Sweet Eileen one day was fencing when her trusty weapon slipped; her doggie in the way was prancing, poor "lil" Mickey's tail was clipped.

BRUUN, WIENO T. — Cookie

825 Walton Ave., New York, N. Y.

Class Vice-President, 1929; Make-up Committee for Chinese Lantern, 1929; Paletteers.

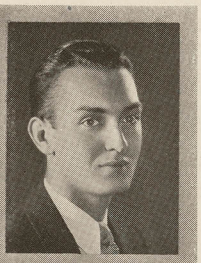

To our fair Finnish maiden! Her rare altruism and cooperative spirit has endeared her to all. Congratulations and best wishes to you and Tauno.

CASCIO, JOSEPH C. — Joe

1071 Coney Island Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class President, 1930-31; Class Treasurer, 1929; Artsmen Vice-President, 1931; Artsmen Treasurer, 1930; Artsmen Bowling, 1930-31; Chinese Lantern.

Always considerate with a boyish humor for which he will be remembered. The class wishes to thank "Joe" for three years of commendable work.

COBB, EVELYN L. — Evie

Southhampton Shoals Light, Tiburon, Cal.

Paletteers.

A true friend in time of need. "Evie" has a lovable nature and a family of dolls, all original creations. Oh those California bus rides! Forward to Alaska.

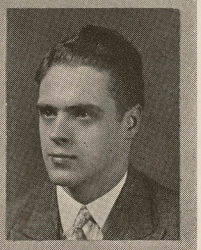

DAWSON, CHARLES F. — Charlie

8506 94th St., Woodhaven, N. Y.

Photographic Sales Manager, Prattonia, 1931; Assistant Photographic Editor, 1930; Artsmen Representative, 1931; Bowling, 1929-30-31; Soccer, 1928; Artsmen Bowling Manager, 1930; Carmelita.

Is "Charlie" English? Ever the gentleman. Remember "Charlie," dietitians are dangerous!

DELONG, HARRIET A. — Harriet

Middlebury, Vt.

Class President, 1930; Vice-President, 1931; Paletteer Treasurer, 1931; Baseball, 1930.

The Emily Post Girl. Harriet is a fine leader, excellent student, good listener and always dignified. She is conscientious even about other people's homework. Distinguished by that Harvard accent.

DIGEMMA, JOSEPH P. — Joe

532 E. 172nd St., Bronx, N. Y.

Artsmen; Glee Club, 1930.

An even gross of self-portraits, front view, three-quarters, profile. Joe digresses on any subject with convincing gestures. He heartily approves of the old masters in art and music.

DUFAULT, CLAIRE S. — Claire

254 Clermont Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers; Glee Club, 1930-31.

Claire is fond of making lovely little designs for embroidery and block printing. Elle parle francais. Perhaps her dancing instructions are given in French too.

FERGUSON, ELIZABETH J. — Betty

121 Vanderbilt St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers; Decoration Committee; Chinese Lantern, 1929.

Most any day "Betty" may be discovered splashing wildly about in water color or oil—successfully! A girl of many hobbies, inspired by the primitives. Oh those adjectives!

FEURY DORIS M. — Dot

306 Jefferson Ave., Hasbrouck Heights, N. J.

Paletteers; Baseball, 1929; Swimming, 1929; Volleyball, 1929-30.

Introducing Miss Hasbrouck Heights—modern, dynamic, determined. "Dot" could care for art, athletics and dancing. A most popular miss who misses nothing.

FINK, HENRY W. — Hank

41 18th St., West New York, N. J.

President General Art, 1930; Chairman, Artsmen Athletics, 1931; Artsmen Swimming, 1930; Artsmen Bowling, 1931; Varsity Basketball, 1930-31.

Ukulele entertainment for special occasions. "Hank" is sure of a position when he graduates.

FORNEY, HAZEL O. — Hay-Hay

108-18 37 Drive, Corona, N. Y.

Paletteers; Captain Volleyball, 1929-30; Captain Basketball, 1929.

"Hay-hay" is a natural born actress. She also displays talent as a child stylist. Her delicious home made candy is a rare treat and is duly appreciated by all.

FRALICK, MARCIA M. — Marcia

635 Crescent Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Paletteers; Prattonia Representative, 1930; Baseball, 1930; Swimming, 1930.

The personification of pep, vim and vigor. Determination plus. Marcia is interested in problem cases and is well versed in a variety of subjects.

GAFFNEY, MARY C. — Mary

4632 Bronx Blvd., New York, N. Y.

Paletteers; Glee Club, 1930; Volleyball, 1931.

Whenever you hear a sweet high voice singing, that's Mary. This gay blond from the Bronx wishes to organize a campaign against too much homework—if any.

HARVEY, ANNETTE W. — Anne

45 Everett St., Newport, R. I.

Paletteers.

Whither thy thoughts Annette? That dreamy look is so deceiving. "Anne" etches, rides horse-back and swims, so we discovered. Really "the girl nobody knows."

HOLLOWAY, SHIRLEY L. — Shirley

266 Washington Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Secretary, 1930; Paletteers, Secretary, 1931; Women's Club Secretary-Treasurer, 1931.

Shirley has that "Pepsodent Smile", "School Girl Complexion", and fully "57 Varieties" of clothes. "Really, I've lived in Brooklyn all my life!"

HOLPIT, JOSEPH F. — Joe

R. F. D. 1, Box 36, Green County, Catskill, N. Y.

Artsmen Representative, 1929-30.

What would "Joe" be without his Art—Lindbergh's only rival. He has the best of intentions—just ask him. "Joe's" recitations of Little Red Riding Hood are unforgetable.

HUBBARD, LUCY A. — Lou

Millbrook Rd., Middletown, Conn.

Paletteers; Women's Club Representative, 1929-30-31; Volleyball, 1929-30; Basketball, 1930.

"Oh, don't tell anyone, but last night—isn't that terrible?" "Lou" is just a trifle shy but has a way with her. Is "Lou" really seafaring?

KOLTUN, SAMUEL B. — Sam

115-06 Liberty Ave., Richmond Hill, N. Y.

Reception Dance Committee, 1930; Artsmen.

"Who said I admired the Chrysler building?" The third dimension always was a mystery until "Sam's demonstration, and now it's even more so. Some I. Q!

KRUELSKI, MARGARET A. — Peggy

333 Halsey St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Vice-President, 1930; Paletteers; Glee Club, 1930; Fencing, 1930-31; Basketball, 1930.

A toast to debonair "Peggy"—those eyes, or is it the charming way they're used? She may write a book on philosophy or possibly an autobiography.

KUZIW, SOPHIA J. — Zosha

308 Fillmore Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

President Buffalo Club, 1931; Glee Club, 1930.

"Zosha" is a competent linguist and oil painter. Devotee of literature and art. A favored few are "Zosha's" comrades. Buffalo is indeed fortunate.

LIGER, MILDRED M. — Mildred

9115 Colonial Rd., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Prattonia Secretary, 1930; Social Committee, Paletteers, 1931.

Mildred is a keen business woman. Her humor is contagious and makes one feel at ease. A genuine friend and congenial companion.

LOUNSBERY, HELEN D. — Lounie

Brooktondale, N. Y.

Captain Baseball, 1929; Volleyball, 1929; Glee Club, 1930-31.

Helen, the athlete par excellence! She just loves the great outdoors and plans to return to the farm. Maybe it's the scenery—but that's her secret.

MANNAKEE, M. DALE — Dale

1336 Lebanon St., Bluefield, W. Va.

Paletteers; Glee Club, 1930.

Dale hails from the sunny south. She has the proverbial southern disposition—generous, witty, carefree. Breakfast at anytime, or at any cost!

MEYER, DOROTHY V. — Dottie

67 Southern Blvd., New York, N. Y.

Glee Club President, 1931; Glee Club Secretary, 1930; Paletteers; Chinese Lantern; Volleyball, 1930.

Best part of the Glee Club. "Dottie" coyly loves to reminisce on "ole" Maine. She divides her time between window shopping and reading assiduously in the library. Those Irish eyes!

MILLER, ANNIE E. — Ann

R. F. D. I., Yantic, Conn.

Paletteers; Baseball, 1930.

"Ann" loves to dance and gives parties of renown. She often surprises her friends with a soprano solo. Oh where, oh where is Yantic, Conn.?

MONGIELLO, LEE U. — Lee

1478 Van Alst Ave., Astoria, L. I., N. Y.

Paletteers; Volleyball, 1930.

"Lee"—always happy, gay and carefree. New and luxurious water waves announce when "Lee" has an important date. She uses color as a means of self-expression in dress.

MURPHY, MARGARET A. Marg

11 East Perry St., Savannah, Ga.

Paletteers.

One girl who knows her own mind. "Marg" has a craze for antique design, colonial doorways and Charles. Let us be in the grand old southern style.

OPLER, HAZAL M. Hadie

600 Ashland Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Paletteers; Chinese Lantern; Basketball, 1929-30; Swimming, 1929-30; Baseball, 1929-30.

"Hadie's" twin passions are psychoanalysis and subway sketching. "And La Argentina went like this." New York has won "Hadie" completely, but Buffalo still has one attraction.

PARKER, HELEN S. Helen

55 N. Balph Ave., Bellevue, Pa.

Paletteers; Volleyball, 1929-30.

Jovial Helen far famed for sandwiches and dimples. One of the famous Parkers from Pittsburgh. She is fond of the crafts and bridge.

PARSKE, EDWARD A. Eddie

120 Keil St., North Tonawanda, N. Y.

Class Treasurer, 1930; Class Secretary and Treasurer, 1931; Artsmen; Cheer Leader, 1929; Chinese Lantern.

North Tonawanda's press agent! "Eddie" plays the piano for us now and then. Such a quiet little beaver always working away on detail. Such popularity must be deserved.

PERROTTI, FRANCES M. Franey

168-17-93rd Ave., Jamaica, N. Y.

Paletteer Representative, 1931; Volleyball, 1930.

Just full of fun. Pavlowa might have been surpassed had "Franey" not decided upon an art career. When is an elephant a "hefalump?"

PHELPS, NORMAN B. Pus

Goodhue St., Addison, N. Y.

He got that way playing miniature golf and riding on market trucks. Just ask Norman how to teach art appreciation. This is his second sojourn here.

PIER, DOROTHY E. Dot

72 West 6th St., Bayonne, N. J.

Prattonia Representative, 1929-30-31; Paletteers; Swimming, 1929-30; Baseball, 1929; Volleyball, 1930.

Quality not quantity counts! Does "Dotty" digest all those heavy volumes? The girl with a prodigious mind; independent discerning and witty.

PILLA, ANGELA L. Jill

1561 Bath Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers; Basketball, 1929-30.

"Jill" sees the world through rose colored glasses and the world sees Jill with rose colored cheeks. As a teacher, "Jill" will always offer encouragement and sincere guidance.

REID, PEGGY Peg

175-10-111th Ave., Jamaica, N. Y.

Paletteers; Baseball, 1930.

"Peg" is accomplished in art, music, and dancing. Her sensitive nature has given "Peg's" work an individual and artistic quality. She is a true friend. "Rah, rah, M.I.T."

ROBINSON, ELIZABETH Elsie

21 East 8th Ave., Gloversville, N. Y.

Paletteers.

Elsie has the distinction of being a graduate of Mt. Holyoke. Yet she will say—"Oh I don't know!" Elsie thoroughly enjoys riding in rumble seats when it's raining.

SCHLEIFER, CHARLOTTE L. — Lottie

9119-118th St., Richmond Hill, L. I., N. Y.

Glee Club, 1930-31; Glee Club Secretary, 1931; Paletteers; Volleyball, 1930.

Our class may yet be famous. We have a potential opera star. There is only one thing Charlotte likes better than work——?

SHAW, WINIFRED A. — Winnie

36 Mt. Vernon Ave., Augusta, Me.

Paletteer Representative, 1929; Basketball, 1929; Fencing, 1929; Volleyball, 1930.

Joe College's own sweet sister, with a Maine twang. "Winnie" is so quiet in class—but—. She plays basketball and fences deftly. Admirable taste!

STODDARD, ROSALIND M. — Roddy

14 Central Ave., Waterbury, Conn.

Paletteers; Glee Club, 1930-31.

"Roddy," better known as "The Supervisor" is a little bit with plenty of pepper, originality and a big streak of common sense. Perspective is the one disturbing element in her life.

STONER, EMILE E. — Emile

139 W. 10th St., New York, N. Y.

Paletteers.

It is rumored Emile has a friend who knows real Oriental art work. This partly accounts for her intense interest in art. When will it be, Emile?

TRAPANI, CARMELA M. — Mae

5822-15th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers; Basketball, 1929-30; Volleyball, 1930.

Spontaneous, fascinating, always animated. (page Miss Casey) "Class, I've got an announcement to make—says "Mae" in a capricious mood, teasing someone. Her future students are to be envied.

TUTTLE, EUNICE P. — Eunice

338 Madison St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Amiable Eunice is known in her private luncheon circle as "Miss Mounts," originator of commercial mount. Although a graduate of the design course, Eunice now enjoys being "normal."

VAN DE WATER, MARIAN — Marian

1324 E. 23rd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Treasurer, 1930; Secretary-Treasurer, 1931; Prattonia Representative, 1929; Paletteers; Captain Basketball, 1930.

A rippling laugh, dark lusterous hair, willowy height, burner of midnight oil—here comes Marian.

WARD, JANET R. — Jan

9137 Hollis Ct. Blvd., Bellaire, L. I., N. Y.

Class Vice-President, 1930; Paletteers; Basketball, 1929; Volleyball, 1929-30.

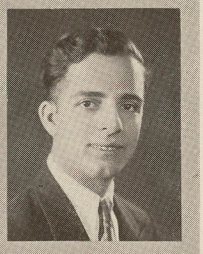

Charming, accomplished, distinctive. Our chairman of social committees. Connoiseur of objets d' art. Ceramics and Holbein prints a specialty. One whom we admire very much.

WEISSMAN, CHARLES M. — Moon

288 Utica Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

That winning smile that comes with a thorough knowledge of the subject, (lengthy quotations). Absolutely a hard "woiking" art student—and how that boy can demonstrate water color!

WERLINSKY, GLADYS — Winky

70 E. 7th St., New York, N. Y.

Paletteers.

"Winky" delves into stupendous volumes. Her purely platonic ways have made her popular with the young men. "Winky" can enjoy a joke, even on herself—that's unusual, but so is "Winky."

WESTEREN, CYRUS W. — Cy

151 Du Bois Ave., West Brighton, S. I., N. Y.

Class President, 1929; Glee Club, 1930-31; Artsmen Soccer, 1929-30-31; Basketball, 1929-30-31; Fencing, 1929-30-31.

A worthy athlete! His dynamic personality, plus reference material will result in artistic achievement. "Cy" is an authority on English lawns.

WILLIAMS, RUTH N. — Rufus

130 E. 19th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers; Basketball, 1929; Volleyball, 1930.

"Rufus" adores 'nelephants, poetry and satires, witness her collection. She takes Principles of Education seriously. "Rufus" loves more than her art—reason—excellent!

WINDELER, ELIZABETH — Windy

Farmingdale, N. J.

Paletteers; Baseball, 1930.

"Windy" didn't have to try to get a nickname. She breezes in and out adding a touch of variety and original opinions to help along a dull day. Cheerio!

TEACHER TRAINING REGULAR

1932

AFTER many changes in the program, and after arriving at the decision of accepting all our instructors for better or for worse the class has finally settled down to good hard work. And hard work it certainly is. Ask any of the class members and they will all agree, without exceptions. Our first year was all play compared with this, our Junior year. We also find that our freedom, that is, the habit of vanishing from class early enough to appear in the cafeteria before any of the privileged seniors arrive, has encountered certain inhibitions in the form of roll calls and threats of dire punishment.

Our first social event of the season was a dance given on Oct. 8, 1930 in conjunction with the Senior Regulars in honor of the entering Teacher Training classes. The first year Architects were also invited. We are now looking forward to another affair which we hope will be just as successful as our June Freshman dance.

We have reason to be proud of a certain member of our class, for he is one of the selected few, eligible to receive instruction in lithography from Mr. Miller.

We have also in our midst, a hero, a real hero, of whom we are indeed very proud. It was primarily due to our hero's courage and presence of mind in an emergency, that a thug, attempting to rob a nearby drugstore, was captured and delivered to the police. Our hero was badly injured in the battle, but he faithfully attended school the following day, a little weak after his exciting adventure, but going about his work in his usual cheerful manner.

Our class is remarkably well represented in athletics—swimming, hockey, volleyball, and fencing. Among all our athletes we have a swimming champ from Florida. Just try and beat her.

We are fortunate in retaining almost the entire number of the incoming class. We thirty hope to remain intact until next June.

TEACHER TRAINING CREDIT

1932

HAIL, fellow students, we present ourselves, another class of Junior credits. For the uninformed, we are a combination of freshmen and juniors, with the disadvantages of the freshmen, and the doubtful advantages of the juniors. We come from all points of the compass, and by this late date in our collective careers, the opinions and ideas of all four points have been welded into one. Good fellowship and comradeship just radiate from all of us. We are an energetic group, only slightly inclined toward work, and greatly interested in all the forms of recreation, the theatre, the sports, the museum, art galleries and the shops.

Of course, we had a little difficulty in adapting ourselves to the routine. The new checking-in system offered perhaps the greatest trouble. However, we can now be relied upon to check ourselves in once, and occasionally twice a day. Other customs which we had to follow and observe at first troubled us, but, by this time we are fulfilling all our requirements and aim to be model students.

There's not much more we can say about ourselves, which, we are sure, you don't already know. One thing even though we're all training to be teachers, each one of us has a secret yearning to be an artist, and each one of us is sure that some day he or she will be well known in the world of art. As yet, we have not had much opportunity to take an active interest in the extra activities that Pratt has offered in an excellent combination of work and play. We are just a wee bit slow in getting started—but when we do, "look out."

CHARLES PRATT

TEACHER TRAINING

1933

ANOTHER Teacher Training class in the embryo of achievement but abundant in will and purpose has come to light. In three short years we hope to attain the illustrious height of pedagogy but meanwhile we are enjoying all the thrills of being freshmen—"While we are young, let us rejoice!"

Our rejoicing on several occasions will live long in our memories. There were the afternoon dances where we became acquainted and the West Point trip which we enjoyed keenly. We thought the Christmas celebration was novel. But looking still further in retrospect, there's not one of our number who will ever forget that memorable first day when we failed to find Room 54. There was a nervous feeling that we would not be in our room on time—but, finally—we found our fellow students and were commiserated. Thus began many interesting and lasting friendships. At first it seemed as if the days were endless. Most of us were a little bit homesick but in less time than we could think Pratt Institute had taken us under its wing. Now we feel as much at home as the nonchalant Juniors and Seniors.

We could go on and on recounting our store of memories, the friendships, defeats and victories, but why look so long into the past? We're looking forward with great earnestness, for the attainment of our careers. This task is lightened considerably by the cooperation and good fellowship of the class.

The object of instruction is to establish character. Profit by it. The present life of the young is an outline of the future. If I could read your personal thoughts from six o'clock Sunday morning until six o'clock Sunday night, I could write your history twenty years from now. Take satisfaction in accomplishing the difficult thing.

CHARLES PRATT

ADVERTISING DESIGN
1931

TIME flies for the industrious. It seems but yesterday that we entered the art school feeling completely lost. A few lucky individuals seemed to have friends, but the majority glanced furtively around for some one to be miserable with. Suddenly emerged that feeling of friendliness, of brotherliness. This friendly contact has developed until now we find ourselves as one big family, a class not fostering a selfish spirit, petty idiosyncrasies or rebellious natures.

In our second year the unity of our class was disrupted slightly by a reorganization of our course, but this change has benefitted us individually by fitting us for our separate careers with greater assets.

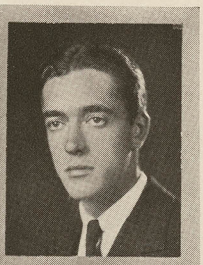

We have participated roundly in all social, athletic and art activities and are ready to leave these halls of learning, knowing that we have given as well as received the very best.

We feel that at Pratt our characters have been molded for the better and we have gained something that will help us through the rest of our lives, this, the ability to appreciate the sunny side of life.

In leaving "we" as a class express the deepest appreciation to the executive staff and faculty for the assistance given to us and we render heartfelt thanks to the individual instructors who have come in direct contact with us for their untiring efforts to give us their all. As we cross the outgoing threshold of the Institute we realize that the personalities, the faces we knew and the good times that we experienced will forever serve to brighten and stimulate us as we tread the path of life.

"A bundle of capabilities."

A quiet, friendly classmate with a lot of serious thought behind her work.

BRIENZA, BARNEY P. — Barney

40 Monticello Ave., Newark, N. J.

Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

"His wit is as fast as his speech."

Noisesome, clever, with a sense of humor as unexpected as a wise crack on a Literary Digest cover.

CASSENS, FRED H. — Fritz

19 Fernbrook St., Yonkers, N. Y.

Artsmen, 1929-30-31.
"Our Fritz" naive and guillible.
Six feet of humor, with cross threads of good disposition a yard wide.

CHASIN, JOSEPH — Joe

905 43rd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Artsmen President, 1931; Artsmen Publicity Chairman, 1930; Artsmen Publicity Committee, 1929; Artsmen Boxing, 1929.
The heart to conceive, the understanding to direct, the hand to execute.

DAVIS, FAITH — Faith

106 80th St., Jackson Heights, N. Y.

Captain Class Volley Ball, 1930; Assistant Social Chairman Paletteers, 1931; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.
"Ultra different Davis."
A jewel on crimson velvet, well cut, well set, well liked. "What a glorious fuff on us!"

DILLON, SUSAN P. — Sue

Indian Rock, Va.

Paletteers Publicity Committee, 1931; Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Paletteers Representative, 1930; Woman's Club Representative, 1929.
"And those eyes, the break of day—Lights that do mislead the morn."
About the sweetest bit of Southern femininity existing. Always poised and demure.

DIXON, KENWOOD — Ken Dix

74 Laurel Pl., Bridgeport, Conn.

Artsmen, 1929-30-31.
"By the work, one knows the workman."
Industrious, firstly, lastly, always. An artist. Definite. Precisely a gentleman.

ELLIOTT, GERTRUDE L. — Gert

132-10 94th Ave., Richmond Hill, L. I., N. Y.

Class Hockey, 1929-30; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.
"Sing away sorrow, cast away care."
Can discourse on any subject. Musical and well read as well as artistic.

ERICKSEN, OLGA K. — Eric

342 44th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Hockey, 1929-30; Class Baseball, 1929-30; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.
"Blushing is the color of virtue."
Sincerity and humor in a smooth skinned, fair form.

FISCHEL, LILLIAN C. — Fish

563 Bradford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Hockey, 1929-30; Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Fencing, 1929.
Our blond "Boop, boop a doop" girl from Brooklyn. She's a modernist with lively tastes.

FOSTER, LELAND W. — Lee

1309 W. Forest Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Class Basketball, 1929; Artsmen, 1929-30-31; Glee Club, 1931.
Did someone say "flivver?"
Our Lee is sympathetic, sensitive, earnest and inclined to morbidity.

FREEMAN, ROBERT J. — Bob

82 Forest St., Medford, Mass.

Artsmen, 1931.
"A great fellow—calm, cool, collected."
New Englanderish. Slow of speech and movement. Appreciates fine things.

GOLDBERG, RAYMOND R. Ray

40 Irving Pl., Rockville Centre, L. I., N. Y.

Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

"He who speaks sows—But he who is silent reaps."

A bystander, quiet and unobtrusive. Almost singular—that's Ray.

HERRMANN, DOROTHY L. Hot

31 Union Ave., Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Class Secretary, 1931; Publicity Committee Paletteers, 1931; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

"She giggles with the best of them."

Merry and happy all day long, that's why everyone likes independent, "Hot Derm."

HUTCHINSON, PAULINE A. Paul

3212 36th South West, Seattle, Wash.

Class Hockey, 1930; Women's Club Representative, 1931; Paletteers, 1930-31.

"My way is to begin at the beginning."

She is in herself, a detailed pen and ink. A calculating, even tempered cool person.

KEHL, HERBERT G. Herbie

1377 W. 6th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Artsmen, 1929-30-31; Artsmen Publicity Committee, 1930.

Efficient "Herbie" capable of foolishness and seemingly secretive. A rapid, clear thinking, commercial artist. Something snappy in the line of eyes and wavy hair.

LIPSON, BENJAMIN H. Benurvey

1825 55th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Artsmen Social Committee, 1931; Artsmen Representative, 1931; Fencing, 1930; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

Impersonator, syncopator and "lady" dater, that's Barney's pal Ben. Pratt's glad boy—a boon to the class. An earnest, clever fellow.

LOOMIS, DOROTHY R. — Dot

1066 81st St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Vice-President, 1930; Class Hockey, 1929-30; Class Volley Ball, 1929-30; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

"Rich in the grace all women desire." "Dot" is well built, well dressed, well liked, sociable.

LOUTREL, ROBERT W. — Bob

21 Clinton Ave., Port Richmond, Staten Island, N. Y.

Prattonia Representative, 1931; Artsmen, 1929-30-31; Glee Club, 1929.

"Big Bob" from Staten Island. One wonders what it would have been like without the flexible wit of "Lou." A congenial, friendly manner.

LYNDS, ROBERT A. — Bob

257 Breckenridge St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Artsmen Educational Chairman, 1931; Artsmen Educational Committee, 1930; Artsmen Chess, 1930; Fencing, 1929-30; Manager, 1929; Chinese Lantern; Budget Committee, 1930; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

A serious worker and a friendly cuss—with a love for the ready play of sarcasm and wit.

MILLER, INEZ A. — Heinz

758 N. Main St., Meadville, Pa.

Class Volley Ball, 1929-30; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

"A generous disposition envied by all."

Whoopingly inconsistent, she is with us. There is thought, wit, and human kindness here.

MOORE, DOROTHY — Dot

25 Maplewood Ave., Lambert Terrace, Clifton, N. J.

Class Vice-President, 1931; Class Hockey, 1929-30; Class Swimming, 1929-30; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

She seems a spirit! yet a woman too. "Dot" has drooped down eyes with a curved up disposition.

NIEBRUGGE, JANET — Jane

243 Rugby Rd., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Chairman Palatteers Publicity Committee, 1931; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

"Giggles punctuate her sincerity." Whimsical, little—temperamental, little—friendly, little—nice, little, "Niebe."

PRATT, JULIA — Julie

Sherman, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Women's Club Representative, 1930.

"Such stuff as dreams are made of."

"You'll drown in the depth of her languorous eyes. An angel in an earthly guise."

SMITH, STEPHEN W. — Smitty

4 Gage Ave., Glens Falls, N. Y.

Assistant Art Editor, Prattonia, 1930-31; Artsmen, 1929-30-31; Class Basket Ball, 1929-30-31; Assistant Cheerleader, 1929.

A razor blade left on a hotel dresser. Inexplicable and possessing a keen appreciation for the bizarre.

STEVENSON, LOUISE O. — Steve

1011 N. Euclid Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

"On with the dance, let joy be unconfined." Her laugh is "the shiny Klaxon on the handlebars of the bicycle life." We say sufficient and adequate that's "Steve."

THOMAS, BERNICE E. — Bern

Holland Patent, N. Y.

Class Hockey, 1929; Captain, 1930; Class Baseball, 1929-30; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

Feminine, twinkling-eyed and lively, this spells "Bern." We will never forget "Bern's" haunting, second year composition, gore'n everything.

VAN VECHTEN, LAURA T. — Laurie

14 Oak St., Geneseo, N. Y.

Paletteers Representative, 1929-30; Chinese Lantern; Budget Committee, 1930; Chairman Paletteers Decoration Committee, 1930; Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

"Kitten." Lovely as a child's poem about Santa Claus.

WOODBURY, MARJORIE — Marg

16 Tremont St., Portland, Me.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

Concentrated, torrid youth—They all around exclaim. They wonder how this flower for truth—Could come from coldest Maine.

ADVERTISING DESIGN 1932

OURS is the class of guinea pigs!

Not that we look anything like these strange little creatures. In fact, if one were to investigate this statement it would be revealed that we are indeed a dignified and sophisticated group, and very sociable.

Because there are many of us and because we have been the subject of repeated experimentation we lay claim to this nomenclature. Unlike the hapless guinea pig however, we survive the worst and even thrive upon the acts of the powers that be.

Last year we were administered and subjected to large doses of lettering. Instead of growing weaker and showing signs of decay, our artistic well being showed signs of improvement. This year we have been exposed to the joys of a "packaging course." We and others of greater knowledge and experience have come to the conclusion that if we were to work our will and wiles on the local store shelves we would render humanity a greater service—to say nothing of the eyes and souls of artistic persons who, after all, must eat.

Occasionally, one or more of our number will disappear from the fold only to return sometime later still infected with that sad melody—youthful zest—which caused their absence.

We hope that none of us will succumb to this indomitable spirit that lays hold us so we may all be able to enter our third and last year at Pratt together whereafter we will go out to make a name for ourselves and our school.

ART STUDIO SNAPS

PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATION
1931

TO everyone at one time or another, there comes the need for contemplation and reflection. The termination of our three years at Pratt is such an occasion; most of us look back on these years as a profound experience. They came to us at a time when life's mysteries seemed most disturbing. There was a need for something much bigger than ourselves to lighten the burden.

Pratt experiences entered our lives and gradually we became a part of its great mechanism. We moved with it and gained in poise and power.

Moving, ever moving, the great machine pauses for a moment to send out its partially completed products to become an integral part of a bigger organism, that of the world. But still churns the engine, always moving, and gaining in value, its vitality being recharged by raw materials. But it is here we shall stop our metaphor.

Let us gaze into our crystal a moment. The first day at Pratt, a mass of individuals met, who had been selected as possible material to be moulded into some form. Ah—the second year—outlines of a decidedly pleasing character gradually emerge—and begin to take on a definite form and by the end of the year individualists stand out and express themselves in no indefinite terms.

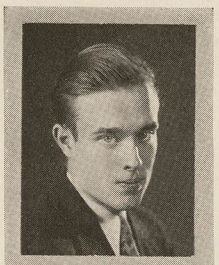

The third year—what a thrill! The final spurt must be made and all vagueries cleared up. The artist must speak and say something.

To add a personal touch, our sister class Advertising Design reluctantly gave up a few of its illustrious members who felt the need of more of the fine arts. They, as well as all have made the spirit of the class one of sincerity of purpose manifested in concentrated study.

So you see that Pratt is not a machine because it possesses a soul and we feel that as we go out into the art world we have absorbed some of the bigness of spirit and breadth of understanding which the founder certainly possessed and which the teachers and staff have so nobly perpetuated.

CLASS OFFICERS

JAMES AUSTEN, President — DOROTHY L. HERRMANN, Secretary
DOROTHY MOORE, Vice-President — G. RUTH TAYLOR, Treasurer

BROWN, LEWIS — Brownie

Chazy, N. Y.

Artsmen Representative, 1931; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

The strong, silent philosopher from the North country. The stuff from which knights of old were made. A master at silhouettes.

CANTRELL, EVELYN G. — Ev

33 Varick Court, Rockville Centre, L. I., N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31.

She presents herself quietly. Never aggressive. An interesting person full of fantasy and imagination. Earnest.

CONANT, H. WESTON — Wes

920-77th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Artsmen Secretary, 1930-31; Fencing, 1929-30-31; Artsmen, 1929, 30-31.

A genial reliable sort of fellow, owner of all kinds of lendable art aids. Remember the Conant water color floods? A master at puppets and fencing.

COOKE, GEORGE A. — Cookie

191 Pennsylvania Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Athletic Council, 1930-31; Artsmen Athletic Chairman, 1930; Artsmen Soccer Manager, 1931; Artsmen Swimming, 1929-30; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

Contributes appreciation. Essentially a good sport. Plenty of purpose and directness behind the grin. Gets there and gets there fast!

GALE, RUSSELL R. — Russ

189-06 119th Ave., St. Albans, L. I., N. Y.

Art Editor, Prattonia, 1931; Varsity Baseball, 1930-31; Artsmen Baseball, 1929; Artsmen Representative, 1930; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

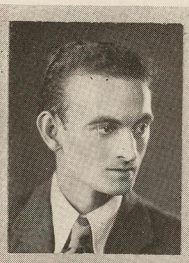

Industrious, appreciative, adept and a good nature as long as he is.

GLEDHILL, HERBERT — Herb

210 N. Oxford St., Hartford, Conn.

Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

A Connecticut Yankee, composed, conservative, reserved. A generous and sympathetic nature. Has a good line, but uses it only on rare occasion.

GROSS, GEORGE — George

105 Bay 29th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Artsmen, 1929-30.

The original "gross" exaggeration. Musical with a color sense that makes you weep. Sometimes he surprises people by being serious.

NEWMAN, HAROLD N. — Newman

226 E. 203rd St., Bronx, N. Y.

Artsmen Swimming, 1930; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

The "Little Show of 1931." A wholesale dealer in laughs. A man who can chase the darkest blues away. A great fellow!

OLSEN, ERNEST M. — Ernie

40 Perrine Ave., Pittsfield, Mass.

Artsmen Social Committee, 1929; Artsmen 1929-30-31.

The pale flame of genius that meticulously produces fine things. Fun loving, gentlemanly, but inclined to seriousness occasionally.

QUINN, THOMAS J. — Tom

231 E. 50th Street, New York, N. Y.

Class President, Design, 1929; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

Most peoples idea of a New Yorker. A smooth and charming gentleman, but with a bit of blarney to 'im.

SCOTT, WALTER — Scottie

Ridgefield, Conn.

Class President, 1929; Artsmen Vice-President, 1930; Artsmen Bowling, 1929-30; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

A regular Yankee, strong as to jaw and as to licking his weight in wildcats. Possessor of a keen sense of appreciation and a friendly attitude.

SHERMAN, HOWARD J. — Sherm

630 Bay Ridge Parkway, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Artsmen Representative, 1930; Artsmen, 1929-30-31.

A quiet, kindly fellow with lots of friends and ability. The faculty to consider, and power to execute all things well.

TAYLOR, G. RUTH — G. Ruth

395 Clinton Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Treasurer, 1930-31; Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Class Hockey, 1930.

Pretty, sociable, obliging. "A skin you'd love to touch." One of the finest girls we've met. Well liked.

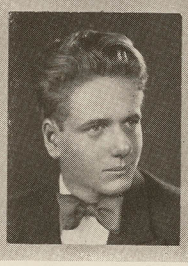

WILMER, FLORENCE DUNN — Flo

253 Washington Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Vice-President, 1929; Associate Editor, Prattonia, 1931; Prattonia Representative, 1930; Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Class Volley Ball, 1929-30; Interclass Meet, 1929-30.

Breath-taking charm in face and manner. Talented, ambitious, sincere. A worth-while person to know.

YOUNG, WOODHULL B. — Young

Halesite, L. I., N. Y.

Artsmen, 1929-30-31; Artsmen Soccer, 1929.

"As he silently turned toward the sea." A business-like fellow, conservative, gentlemanly, almost unseen except by the discriminating eye.

PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATION 1932

THE world moves forward another year and with it the class of "32" which has the distinction of being the largest of its kind. The first year we enjoyed ourselves to the extent of forgetting a homework problem now and then. Our foreheads were not creased by worry, thought or clamor of the outside world. Now time slides by space. We are being pushed slowly but surely to the jumping-off place.

We have our carefree moments. With such gifted persons as Stinghen, Marsden and Dunn—what class could be solemn for long when this trio goes into action? We cast dull care into limbo and await the never failing, and forth-coming mirth.

We have too, our class personalities—"Woodsie," the battler from Virginia, "Kliney," the mysterious, now we see him, now we don't—Dora and Anne the moderns and Alice and Evelyn the class beauties. Henry Shire, he of the lowered brows and serious mind, an artist that boy, and Doris Livingstone, the lady of the Packard. Then we mustn't forget our instructors for after all what class is really composed without one? Miss Fischer, who never fails to encourage the poor disheartened student with "That's better than the first one." Miss White who is a good sport about putting "Still Life" away but who wishes there wasn't so much musical talent in the class. Then we have the ever patient Mr. Baker who lets us listen in on his philosophy every once in awhile which is quite beyond us and Mr. Pleissner who endeavors to show us how to "Make the thing hold together and show those side and under planes." And last but not least, Mr. Ajootian who gets what he goes after especially those "Strong darks and lights in composition."

We are well represented in sports having two Artsmen team captains in our midst, Bailey, basketball captain and Yuill, soccer captain. An Artsmen basketball manager in the person of Joe Sturghen, and Sheehan who manages the varsity basketball team.

In the line of social activities, our only effort was a dance in conjunction with Pictorial Illustration III which proved to be quite a success. Well, time stands still for no one—so on we march, first, second, then third year.

You will find that you cannot long deceive the world. It will find out just what you are and if you are true and faithful the world will have faith in you. Faith in your own power for usefulness is of very great value and it can only come with a consciousness of being genuine. This faith in your ability will also give you courage to meet and overcome difficulties and to resist temptation.

CHARLES PRATT

FASHION ILLUSTRATION
1931

THREE years ago, our train arrived at Pratt, and what a group of travellers we had! Northerners —from the wilds of Connecticut, and Southerners—from, er . . . South of Brooklyn—Easterners from the Island, Long Island, of course—Westerners from New Jersey. A motley group!

It didn't take very long for us to realize that tie which binds all travellers to Pratt—a mutual interest in a single art. We were going to revolutionize "Fashion Illustration." Perhaps we should have sent out a warning to the famous illustrators of the day—"Look to thine laurels! Oh Fame!" Another class is leaving Pratt.

Our tickets were bought for the "Business World"—that mysterious realm. Several passengers in this rather small train of ours dropped out at other places—we've heard since, that they have reached the "Business World." New friends have joined us.

What varied talents these passengers of Fashion Illustration possess, artists all, but in addition to that worthy vocation, impersonators, whistlers, musicians, literary genii and participants in all other arts.

As our train leaves Pratt, we look back on pleasant and unforgettable days there. We've had a good time and worked hard; we've had our hills to climb and tunnels to go through, but our destination is in sight at last! We've won honors in contests of all sorts. In fact at times, we're rather pleased with ourselves.

As for our worthy conductors on our trip through Pratt—we want to thank them most sincerely for the excellent influences their friendship and kind understandings have had upon us. When we face the "Business World," it will be with the confidence gained by our association with them.

We are leaving a great deal behind us on this next lap of our journey, but the tracks are still there and we'll be coming back to visit old haunts and continue our friendships made there.

Puzzles: What happens to the hole in the doughnut? What happens to Dot's eyes when she laughs? And how about that engagement that wasn't with the Doctor?

FORBES, C. PEARL — Poil

1377 Kenmore Pl., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1928-30; Glee Club, 1929; Volleyball, 1929-30.

A "poil" in a black beret; and oh! those decorative eyebrows! "Poil" has a style all her own. The "Whistler" of our class, lest we forget!

GERBER, MILDRED — Gerbie

3067 Bedford Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class President, 1930-31; Etching scholarship, 1931; Lithography scholarship, 1931.

If Madam President had her way, the only strained vegetables the rising generation would be fed would be onions. She knows hers.

HARLAN, JEAN JARVIS — Jeanie

126 High St., Nutley, N. J.

Chinese Lantern, 1929; Glee Club, 1930; Paletteers, 1929-31; Basketball, 1929; Women's Club Representative, 1931.

The importance of being earnest. The girl who could teach us the crafts—those you learn in Normal classes, of course.

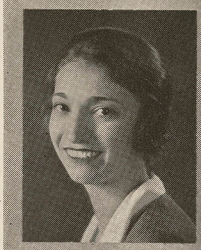

KANNER, SYLVIA — Syl

1774 East 17th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Prattonia Representative, 1930-31; Lithography scholarship, 1931; Basketball, 1929-30; Volleyball, 1929-30.

The executive of the firm. Backgrounds a specialty. Originator of the famous saying, "If you can find it in my box, you can borrow it."

KANTER, LILLIAN — Lil

884 West End Ave., New York, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1928-29; Basketball, 1929-30.

Jester of the firm. Provides that Russian atmosphere. Sings any song for you, by request. Who can croon a melody during rest periods in life class the way Lil can?

LEMCHEN, HELEN — Lemchie

768 Boulevard, Bayonne, N. J.

Paletteers, 1928; Basketball, 1929.

Travels for the firm. Oh, well, if people will live in Bayonne! "Lemchie darling's" color schemes are as subtle and as intangible as she herself. There is little we know of her.

LINDQUIST, ELSA G. — Lindy

654 Bay Ridge Pkwy., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Volleyball, 1929-30.

Our Elsa couldn't think of a single nice Scandinavian name for a certain blessed event. What, a blonde who couldn't rise to the situation?

MACY, VIRGINIA A. — Jinnie

130 Broadway, Rockville Center, L. I., N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929-30; Basketball, 1929.

The belle of the class. A vivacious blonde with a flair for men, but beware of her analytical mind!

MOORE, VIRGINIA W. — Gin

Huntington, L. I., N. Y.

Women's Club Representative, 1929; Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Hockey, 1929; Volleyball, 1930.

"Life is just one Susie after another," said she, viewing our supposed inspirations.

PETERSEN, ELIN METTE — Elin

Greenway Farm, South Manchester, Conn.

Class President, 1929-30; Class Vice-President, 1931.

Now we know why Elin doesn't buy apples. She's afraid that an apple a day keeps the Doctor away.

RODGERS, DOROTHY L. — Dot

239 Ocean Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteer Representative, 1929; Prattonia Representative, 1930; Volleyball, 1930; Basketball, 1929.

Most bills come on the first of the month, but this one comes every night. "Dot" is as steady as her line.

SCHUETZ, MARCELLA — Marcy

353 West 57th St., New York, N. Y.

Class Secretary, 1929; Class Vice-President, 1930; Class Treasurer, 1931; "Chinese Lantern," 1929; Paletteers, 1929.

Marcy and the boy friends—a comedy in three acts. "Schuetz" I do Maurice Chevalier? What would we do without you?

VAN DELINDA, MABEL — Van

52 Rittenhouse Ter., Springfield, Mass.

Paletteers, 1929; Volleyball, 1929.

"I want my cake and eat it too." That's me all over, Mabel with a grip of iron and a stomach that craves sweets.

WITH all due modesty, the class of Fashion 11 was fated to be famous. If this had been written to sing our praises, it might have gone on far far into the night—our modesty is indeed overwhelming. But our virtues, our tireless energy, our burning ambition can never be justified here—so on to things which concerned us during the past year.

When all was young, way back in 1930, we elected a group of officers who held their position until the second year class was no more. The president did her duty nobly, but our sympathy went to the treaurer who pleaded and begged with tears in her eyes to "pay your dues." We still doubt if she collected from everybody.

Business was invariably preceded by the remark, "Sh-sh-the president wants to make an announcement." From there, it went from bad to worse and usually ended with a grand uproar which everybody enjoyed.

Our lives seemed dominated entirely by the little things in life—idea sketches, thumbtacks, paint tubes, that bouncing eraser and the pencil somebody borrowed. We worked best where the noise was loudest. Mr. Longyear nearly wore himself to skin and bones trying to keep us quiet. However, the only remedy for peace was to tell us to lay a smooth wash. Silence reigned while we chased the little drops down the page.

In water color class alone we found outlet for our souls. Fevered discussion of life and its complexities, art and its extremes, movies and Greta Garbo and last but not least—song! In fact our singing was something else again, appreciated only by the songsters, who undismayed by threatened grapefruits, streaks of paint, tar and feathers, kept right on singing in rhythm with the painting brush.

Our idols ever before us—the great god Technique. Pollard with his perfect flat washes, Eric with his sophistication, Guy Lombardo with his Royal Canadians—we were spurred on to greater and finer things.

We took our work with a just amount of seriousness, really wanting to succeed so that some day you too, might swell with pride and say—I knew them when. . . .

ON THE very first day at Pratt Institute, we caught sight of a monstrous pile of miscellaneous material, that spurred our imaginations. We visioned ourselves dashing from class to class with this unwieldy burden, until we were muscle-bound, and felt like the greatly advertised "Charley-Horse."

At first we felt insignificant—why must the upper-classmen examine freshmen like amoebae under a magnifying glass? Then, we were classified and "howdied" into the aesthetics of Pratt Institute's social system. We were overwhelmed!

We began to find the Pratt atmosphere congenial to our artistically sensitive souls. Perhaps that explains why the control of human emotions reaches its peak in Mr. Boulware's class.

We may proudly say that we are growing up, too. At one time, some of us believed the art world was made up only of the genii, the erratic morons with a wild color-sense, and the queer critics who go into ecstacies over an egg with a hat on, and proclaim it a most divine portrait! Now, we would be ashamed to be a part of such a mythical world. With a sophisticated gleam in our eye, we gently chide our friends who suffer in ignorance as we did, by saying, "Friend, all the world's a little queer excepting thee and me, and sometimes I think even thee a trifle peculiar."

Although we have not created the masterpiece that will live forever, we hope our efforts will win the coveted nod of approval from our instructors, and a place for us in the charmed artistic circles of the world.

ON September the eighth, ninteen hundred and thirty, Pratt Institute opened its doors to the most talented and promising group of embryo artists that had ever assembled in one place before. Little did the trustees, little did the faculty, little did we ourselves realize how truly remarkable we were.

Smart as we were, we needed but a week in which to adjust ourselves to our surroundings, teachers and each other. We wasted a shocking amount of time going to the wrong rooms, with the wrong paraphernalia for the wrong class. We had not yet learned the art of squeezing in the elevator with large portfolios, a drawing board, a box of paint with a dozen similarly laden others. Life was very trying.

In a short time, however, existence simplified itself. We ceased to quake with fear in the presence of Mr. Ferguson. Just when Mr. Allen had become almost indispensable he displayed the fickleness of all charming men and left us for a newer love in Detroit. However, two can play at most games and we in turn have grown very fond of Mr. Patrini.

From the wells of experience and wisdom furnished by our instructors we have drawn a desire for the better things of life and from them also have obtained guidance in pursuing them. Their words of wisdom, their infinite patience, their sage advice have been appreciated. What benefit we can show from such valuable contacts, remains to be seen.

As time goes on, as life's troubles turn our hair gray and put lines in our fresh young faces, and as sorrow dims the bright light of hope in our eyes, as the disappointments and ugliness of life weigh our happy hearts, we shall look back on these days of hope and innocence with tears of tender remembrance and smiles of humble gratitude.

AT last we had arrived at Pratt Institute. We were tingling with excitement as such thoughts as: "Will I make the grade?" "I wonder if they will be surprised at my ability," "I wonder when our classes start," or "Gee, who's that pretty girl?", went through our minds. After we had registered, we scouted in little groups for elusive lockers. Having found our lockers we were sent to room 33 to await further instructions. Gradually the vacant seats were filled and we had a chance to get acquainted. Some of us had had previous art training, but most of us like Topsy, "jist growed." Presently Mr. Longyear entered. He introduced us to Pratt Institute and bade us welcome. Thus, heartened we purchased our supplies and were off on the trail of our dreams.

We have learned many things in the past year, among which are: the correct application of waffle-batter to a lettering problem, how to use our heads in breaking up spaces interestingly, how to get good tones in cast class as well as in harmony and a definition of beauty.

Together we have gone through our first year at Pratt Institute. It has been an enjoyable as well as a profitable year. At this point we can look back and fully appreciate the persevering and painstaking efforts of our instructors who inspired, guided and encouraged us to give the best that was in us.

We came to Pratt with the idea that we were pretty good. Fortunately that idea was soon taken out of us and we were fully awakened to the fact that we were "just tol'able." However, we feel that if we can learn as much in the next two years as we have in the past year, the world will soon see a renaissance in American Art.

May we state here that we were pleased with the sample and that we are eagerly anticipating the two remaining years.

ON September 9, 1930, The New York Central, The Pennsylvania, The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroads, as well as sundry subways poured out at Pratt Institute a bewildered group of males, who stood in reverence within the shadows of the Main Building watching Pratt life take up where it had left off the previous spring. As we realized the easy familiarity of the older students with their surroundings we hoped we could some day be alike. It seemed impossible. We looked at one another and prayed for the best.

One day we suddenly found that we were a well knit unit in Pratt life. An election had given us a staff of officers. Classes had begun. We commenced to know one another, as well as our instructors, friendships formed, groups sprung up, we were working in unison. With a sudden realization the fullfilment of our first longings was upon us. We were a part of Pratt.

Members of Illustration B commenced to be evident in all activities. Four of our stalwarts donned the cleated shoes to disport their abilities with the Artsmen's Soccer team, doing a great deal toward placing the team near the top of the league. Varsity Basketball had to do without the service of our hoopsters who exhibited their prowess in the interclass games.

Meanwhile, thanks to our able instructors and with countless hours of effort, we began to develop into budding artists. Color harmony suddenly meant more than suit and cravat; symmetry meant something other than a burial place; charcoal could be useful, for other than fuel. The law of Balance—Oh Yes! we soon found the proper balance of books and beauties.

We are part of Pratt life. It has not been an easy task reaching this stage. No doubt many of us would have met with defeat in surmounting the great difficulties had it not been for the happy influence and understanding efforts of our kindly instructors, whom we thank for their great part in our advancement.

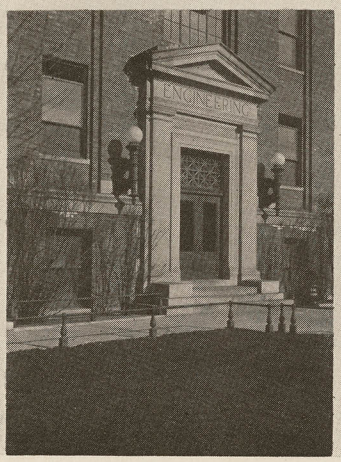

ILLUSTRATION X 1934

PRATT is a very interesting place for the one who keeps his eyes open. He will always find something new happening. Whether it's making modern things more modern than modern or just whisking a stray idea into action to result in some stupendous innovation is of little consequence. The fact remains, however, that Pratt has, for the very first time, opened its doors to a mid-year class.

Illustration IX, finding its way round school, becoming more or less acquainted with the older classes, and making itself known to the members of the faculty with which it has come in contact, has decided that Pratt life is quite interesting.

Besides having learned to make the most of Miss Everest's packing the class off to a morning at the Brooklyn Museum every now and then, the members of the class have recognized Miss Ashbrooke's real interest in their progress. Miss Ashbrooke, by the way, is just as new in Pratt as the thirty-three young people with whom she spends so much time. The class is extremely fortunate in having as one of its instructors Mr. Price, the well-known authority on lettering. Mr. Graves does his level best to interest his class in anatomy and prove the value of that subject when applied to life drawing. And ask Mr. Jackson what he thinks of the pep, the snap, and the sparkling life Illustration IX emanates in costumed-figure class! The class is still trying to please Mr. Ferguson in the matter of cast drawing with all its planes. All told, the thirty-odd new Pratt people seem to be going the way of all first-year students.

Mr. Boudreau is extremely interested in this new class and what will become of it. In the fall a few of the members of the class will have dropped out, and the remaining ones will probably be assimilated into some of the regularly organized classes. There is, too, the possibility that some of the more ambitious ones of the class, by doing a bit of extra work during the summer, may be placed in second-year classes upon the re-opening of school in September. A vote of thanks, then, to Mr. Boudreau, for the unusual opportunity that Illustration IX enjoys because of him.

Work is the essential part of life and nothing worth having comes without it. Everything costs something in effort or discipline or sacrifice. Health comes from habits of right living, and that means restraint; wealth comes from persistence and energy, and that means labor; education comes from application and industry, and that means discipline; happiness comes from consideration of others, and that means unselfishness.

CHARLES PRATT

INTERIOR DECORATION
1931

"THE second year will go much quicker than the first, and when you get to the third, you will think you have just begun." So said one of our instructors, when we, with the look of blissful ignorance on our faces, were first initiated into the Institute.

"Oh why bring that up," thought we, "will Thanksgiving vacation ever come"?

But it came and went, as did our first year, which left us hardened after our struggle with "interesting edges", anatomical diagrams, and all the other problems that assail the freshman.

The second year we entered with the pleasant feeling of coming back to old friends and old places.

During this year we were separated from some of our classmates who formed the new Industrial Design class. But we gained new friends, and before we knew it the second year ended with no little excitement caused by the marriage of one of the fair members of the class.

Among other things that happened during this year there is one which will go down in the annals of the interior decoration department. That is the arrival of the new desks, which came to us as a Christmas present. After the first flash of enthusiasm some of us don't know whether to be glad or sorry, for although they make work easier, they certainly are hard on the stockings.

Before closing this history some mention should be made of the versatile talent of some of us, for we have accomplished dancers, musicians, athletes, bridge players, model housewives, what more? Doubtlessly, success will be theirs in many fields besides art.

So with a mixture of hope and yet timidity, at the prospect of coming so soon in contact with the business world, we bid good-bye to Pratt Institute and our years there.

CLASS OFFICERS

ARMAND J. BLANCHARD, President FRIEDA A. WIEDEMANN, Secretary
KATHRYN F. FARRELL, Vice-President FRANCES L. DECKER, Treasurer

BEDELL, SYLVIA F. — Syl

11 Cornwall Ave., Baldwin, L. I.

Paletteers, 1929; Volley Ball, 1930.

The one member of the class who firmly believes that silence is golden, which makes us like her none the less, and her work none the worse.

BERNARD, FREDERICK F. — Bud

Glendale, Ohio

Artsmen, 1929-30; Class Vice-President, 1930.

One who seldom fails in what he undertakes and one who is bound to succeed. The boy with a megaphone voice and a booming personality, who thinks that Smith College, Cincinnati, and the apartment are just "the nuts."

BILLMEYER, CHARLES K. — Charlie

180 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

Artsmen, 1929-30; Class Treasurer, 1929-30.

Cheerfulness and jollity seem to emanate from him. One of the "who is who" in our class. Preferred by all ladies—liked by all the men.

BLANCHARD, ARMAND J. — Duke

209-15 Bardwell Ave., Bellaire, L. I.

Artsmen, 1929-30-31; Class Treasurer, 1929; Artsmen Representative, 1930; Class President, 1931.

The only man in the class who seems to enjoy riding to and from school. A firm desciple of Chippendale, our "First Prize" man, and most efficient President.

BRADDOCK, LEONARD W. — Brad.

Folkston, Ga.

Artsmen, 1929-30.

One of those Southern gentlemen who seem to favor dark-haired ladies. A good sport, liked by everyone even if we do kid him along.

CARPENTER, LEONA M. — Lee

White River Junction, Vt.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Swimming, 1929; Glee Club, 1930; Class Vice-President, 1929; Capt. Volley Ball, 1929; Women's Club Representative, 1930.

Personality plus, a cheerful smile, a pair of brown eyes. Sum total:—Liked by everybody, from Jimmie, "up."

DECKER, FRANCES L. — Fran.

Delhi, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Prattonia Representative, 1930; Class Treasurer, 1931.

She lives up to her convictions and we admire her for it; but we like her for herself. A person who hides an understanding nature and a golden heart under a temperamental exterior.

FARRELL, KATHRYN F. — Kay

117 Forest Ave., Cranford, N. J.

Class Secretary, 1929; Women's Club Representative, 1931; Class Vice-President, 1931; Paletteers, 1929-30.

The possessor of lovely eyes and one of those quiet personalities that combines charm, ability, and determination.

HERR, BETTY ANNE — Setty Sanne

4 S. George St., Millersville, Pa.

Volley Ball, 1929-30; Captain, 1930; Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Paletteer Representative, 1930; Glee Club, 1930.

Our Amazon, also first on the volley-ball court. And she certainly is not the last when it comes to getting prizes.

HILL, JUNE O. — June

500 W. Genesee St., Lansing, Mich.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Glee Club, 1930.

One of the reasons why gentlemen prefer blondes. We are all sorry she left and wish her the best of everything.

PRATTONIA

JACOBS, FLORENCE K. — Jakey

17 Chauncey St., Astoria, L. I.

Paletteers, 1929-30; Basketball, 1929; Captain, 1930.
The "premiere d'anseuse" of the school, usually first in anything she undertakes. One of the hardest workers in class and a staunch and loyal friend.

McCANN, MARICA — Rica

2529 Warring St., Berkeley, Cal.

Golden opinions from all sorts of people. The girl responsible for the coast to coast air mail service, and long distance telephone. This popularity must be deserved.

MOLINEUX, CONSTANCE R. — Connie

385 Clinton Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929; Glee Club, 1930; Fencing, 1929.
Our authority on West Point. Red hair, vivacity, charm, and excellent good taste, all in one.

RAGOSINE, NATALIE E. — Nat-Nat

1256 76th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929-30; Prattonia Representative, 1931.
Always our inspiration!
With that innate ability and personality it will not be difficult for her to reach even greater "heights."
Everyone loves our "Nat-Nat."

RUMMELL, PAUL L. — Schmaltz

37 Holland Pl., Buffalo, N. Y.

"Hello Everybody"!
The closest competitor to John Held Jr. and Rockwell Kent. The big reason for the popularity of the "New Yorker" and green ties.

SHAFFER, MELVIN B. Shaf.

843 Main St., Northampton, Pa.

Artsmen, 1929.

The Samson of our class. We wonder where he gets all his strength. We don't know much about him but his work speaks for itself.

SPRINGFELS-SPENCER, EVELYN E. Speed

1269 Michigan Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929.

The girl with no speed limit in her work. After we saw certain photographs we don't wonder why she takes no homework. God speed to you!

SWIGART, JEAN A. Jean

Sheffield, Ill.

Class Secretary, 1929; Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Paletteers Representative, 1930-31.

One of the smallest and sweetest in class. Yet here is the girl who keeps crowding "Jakey" out.

Appearances are certainly deceiving.

WIEDEMANN, FRIEDA A. Free

9006 160th St., Jamaica, N. Y.

Paletteers, 1929-30-31; Basketball, 1930; Class Secretary, 1931; Swimming, 1929-30; Baseball, 1929.

The only girl who does not mind commuting. One of her greatest achievements is the remarkable improvement in our "story-tellers" attendance.

WILLIAMS, CHARLOTTE A. Charlie

60 Larkin St., Bangor, Me.

Paletteers, 1929; Chinese Lantern; Fencing, 1929-30-31; Basketball, 1929-30; Baseball, 1929.

The girl with a shadowy past and a dim prospect ahead. Which simply means that Charlotte's hobby is shades and shadows and angular perspective. You would never think that, looking at her.

WINDRUM, MARGARET E. — Windy

Shokan, N. Y.

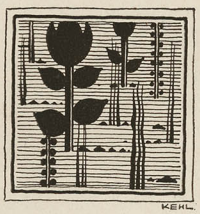

Paletteers, 1929-30; Basketball, 1929-30.

Another girl who finds no difficulty in making a basket or solving a prospective problem. Her never failing cheerfulness is as refreshing as her nick-name.

WORCESTER, JOHN F. Jr. — Woos

591 East 15th Street, N. Portland, Ore.

A person who works as hard as Jack does, cannot help but succeed. Our authority on the stock market and all things financial.

INTERIOR DECORATION 1932

SMOOTH sailing was interrupted last year by a mighty storm. It carried us off our course and diverted our minds. The happy and frivolous side of school life entreatingly called as we headed for Indian Point. In due time, the Point came into view and the anchor lowered amid the din of exclamatory excitement and waving of lunch boxes.

The good ship Decoration was dragging at her anchor when we boarded her. It seemed good to be back at school again. In checking the crew, many of our friends were missing. We all hope that in our course through life, some shifting winds will bring us back together. Memories and friendships linger. Several new hands were taken on this trip and as time went on, new friendships formed.

After a week of sailing, bound for Port "Metropolitan," we sighted a ship that carried a cargo of sponges, water-pails, and designers. "Metropolitan" afforded us unlimited opportunity for refreshing acquaintances with the antiques.

The Artsmen's swimming team has succeeded again and we are happy to be represented by two of our men.

The fair sex of our group showed their athletic prowess by winning honors in volleyball and swimming.

A dance on board a ship given by our fellow students enabled us to come in contact with one another socially and become better acquainted.

Smooth sailing is ahead and a vast amount of misfortunes may be forgotten. We are opening a new book in life and our sails are to the winds. A great deal of hard work we are sure of in the future and with it we hope will come a great deal of happiness.

So in the use of maxims that aid your spiritual or moral nature, have one as your talisman through life. You will find as you grow older that the proverbs of Solomon, and the maxims of sages of all ages are true. But it is not the many that you want, so much as steadfastly holding on to one.

INDUSTRIAL DESIGN
1931

CAN it be three whole years since we first entered Pratt? We were all strangers to each other and to the school, but soon after the opening of school we were given a get-acquainted dance by the junior and senior classes in Interior Design. Its aim was accomplished and before long we had all made new friends.

Our first year flew by, a happy year laden with work and play. At the beginning of the second year we were greeted by a course entirely revised and divided into separate courses in Interior Decoration and Industrial Design.

We joined forces with the third year class in Industrial Design and with two people from the General Art class formed the pioneering group in the course. Under the very able leadership of Miss Blumenthal, we learned the amazing design possibilities of everyday things in textile designs.

At the close of the second year, which, impossible though it seems, went more quickly than the first, we parted from our senior companions.

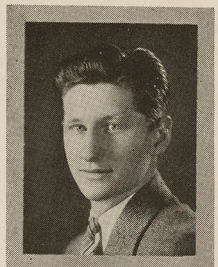

Back for our last year! We claim now the distinction of being the smallest class in the school—it never will be again. Due perhaps to our enthusiastic advertising of our classes under Mr. Philip Pratt and Miss Margaret Blumenthal, as well as others of our much appreciated faculty, our course has already become very popular.

Good times pass quickly, and our three years have been happy ones. Under the tuition of our interested and capable instructors we have learned design with all its allied subjects. With Mr. Pratt we developed a fine sense of humor. "We'll probably need it when we go a-job-hunting."

We express our thanks and appreciation to all the instructors who helped to enlighten us in the various phases of art. To Mr. Boudreau, who introduced this course into the curriculum, we are deeply grateful and wish him all success in his endeavors to develop the course to the highest standards of perfection.

CLASS OFFICERS

LOUIS H. GRESS, Pres. SERA HANNAH STEINHAUER, Secy.-Treas.

GRESS, LOUIS H. — Lou

39 Roosevelt Ave., Westwood, N. J.

Class President, 1931.

The red-headed masculine quarter of our illustrious class. In spare moments he practices the "thither". If he doesn't become head designer of the biggest textile house in New York, Lou intends to open a swanky night-club.

LUECKOFF, VIOLA A. — Val

290 Vermont Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1929-30; Paletteer Representative, 1930.

Has a penchant for earrings, short, or long and dangling. Anything of Spanish origin has particular appeal for Viola. Falls down the stairs occasionally—but who cares, with such a cure at hand!

STEINHAUER, HANNAH SERA — Sera

56 St. Packs Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

Secretary-Treasurer, 1931; Prattonia Representative, 1930.

Sometimes quiet and hardworking—sometimes a person of moods and caprices one cannot tell how Sera will be from day to day. Will consider no man under thirty, she says.

STUART, FLORENCE ALICE — Flo

8008 Ridge Blvd., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1929-30; Women's Club Representative, 1930.

"Flo," our modern maiden and dancing daughter, has a peculiar flair for S. & T. men, visiting the gym, and tripping over ash cans. Oh! those "riotous" week-ends she has!

1932

FEELING fresh and full of life after a glorious sea voyage, we continue on with half of our crew, but on another ship. We are now on the sister ship of the "Decoration".

One bright May morning last year, after a terrible blow while off Manhattan, we found ourselves at Indian Point on the Hudson with the bad weather conditions and change of crew we managed to keep but a short distance from the "Decoration". We buck and break through giant waves that rush before us. So far we've managed to come through on top.

Last fall we united with the crew of "Decoration" and entertained the less experienced followers of interesting edges and sparkling arrangements.

On our ship everything has been bright and gay. Five new lands were added and with the cooperation of the old gang, everything went smoothly. A number of us obtained sick leave now and then; but none of our ailments proved serious. One of our more active sailors took the "Cris Craft" out for a spin and collided with a porpoise—a few stitches, then back on deck. The crew has its ears somewhat affected Friday mornings, but so far no damage has been done.

Tuesdays seem shorter than other days to us. Somehow we hate to leave room 33. In all our classes our work has taken great strides and has surprised us in its jump from our caliber of last year.

In sports, our puck chasers had a crack team until the Dietitians came up from the galley. However, we offset that by taking over the championship of the school in volleyball. Two of our men are basketball tossers of the Artsmen, and in tennis we have a leader.

Most of our journey has been completed. We have "dug in" and kept our boat trim for the worst of storms. Our lookout says "there's land ahead!" At our posts—we carry on.

Character represents that hidden virtue which prompts our thoughts and actions. It is formed by our daily habits. Little things make it, little things mar it. It is of slow growth. Our secret thoughts shape it.

Have a pride in your character. Do not do anything you would be ashamed of. Be a gentleman, whatever your business.

DESIGN 1933

SEPTEMBER the ninth arrived and a new class in design entered, thrilled with the idea of starting on their first lap as artists. Everyone had waited anxiously for this big day because it would mark a new beginning in each of our lives. It was a fine sight to see this group of eager students gather, and it was still more wonderful to think that all of them would be your friends within a short time.

Things were quite new at first, and it was some time before we became accustomed to all the new ways. After we got into the swing of things we felt like old timers. We were entertained by our senior mates who gave a dance for us which was very successful. We have also enjoyed the other activities of the school. As the old saying goes, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."—we have participated in the sports. Some of our fair maids represented us on the hockey and volley ball teams. Our boys are waiting for the spring to come so that they will have a chance to swat the baseball around. We may have a second "Babe Ruth" in our class.

And now, as the days and weeks go by, we are gradually being developed into a group of promising designers. We are all of the same spirit as on the day we entered, eager to succeed.

Ours is a congenial group. All are looking toward the same goal and hoping to reach it in a few years. We know that no matter how short a time is spent at Pratt it is helping us to be a little nearer to our goal. So, as we strive on to gather the knowledge that Pratt Institute offers, may the next freshman class have as many happy memories as we have had.

I cannot repeat too often the value of integrity. Integrity in representation and in being just what you seem. CHARLES PRATT

ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN
1931

IN rounding out three full years of endeavor, unearthing secrets of the Mother Art, we look back with deep satisfaction at work accomplished and friendships gained.

Our first year at Pratt came to us as a revelation of our own powers of application. We were greeted by a course of study of such intensity and variety as to cause us first to gasp and then to concentrate on architecture to the exclusion of most of the usual pleasurable distractions of the young student. Work now holds no terror, for are we not aware of our own powers? For this we are in debt to Mr. Lester B. Pope whose efforts in our behalf we are only now beginning to fully appreciate.

The hard, cold facts of construction and mathematics occupied our second year and were nobly borne by those of us aesthetically inclined. It was then that we came into direct contact with the warmth and sincerity of Mr. C. Franklin Edminster's character. "Our Daddy" has truly been fatherly to his boys.

The final year finds us in the delectations of sketching and design. We have arrived at the realization that success in design lies not in the search for some elusive, all-embracing formula but in copious doses of midnight oil.

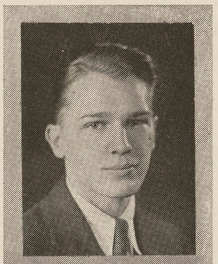

As athletes we hold up our heads and modestly point out our varsity stars and our share of the inter-class championship. All sports have found us willing and ofttimes dangerous competitors. The sporting traditions of the architects were well upheld.

Who in all Pratt is not aware of the social proclivities of our class? The Winter Dance and our Senior Dance were social affairs of the first magnitude. Being seniors we now more fully realize our luck to study in a co-ed school—where we were able to make those interesting friendships.

We leave Pratt with regret! There exists a genuine comradeship among us, and we shall remember our brief sojourn together as the best years of our young lives.

The happy impressario of the book stack. Will do all he can to help the other chaps. The architects would probably starve were it not for his always available menu.

BURTON, JOHN W. — "Professor Johnny"

9314 209th St., Queens Village, L. I., N. Y.

Assistant Instructor, 1931.

He derives infinite joy in pursuit of scholarly things. Johnny lives only for his work and moves in a halo of esteem from the yearling architects.

CHIRGOTIS, WILLIAM GEORGE — Chick

93 W. Market St., Newark, N. J.

Class Basketball, 1929-30-31; Class Baseball, 1930-31.

A sure bet for future success. "Chick" gets thorough pleasure in work and yet always joins the others in appreciation of our many buffooneries.

COOKE, BORIS A. — Cookie

191 Pennsylvania Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Boris wants to keep in touch with the boys, so he drops around every Thursday afternoon. We wonder whether Boris is studying Architectural or Costume Design.

DAVIS, STANLEY F. — Stan

Olive Bridge, N. Y.

The Catskill's gift to Pratt. "Stan's" congenial disposition has earned him many friends—"thy modesty's a candle to thy merit."

DETWILER, EDWIN H. Det

145 S. Center Ave., Rockville Center, L. I., N. Y.

Famed for his stunning sartorial effects and his never exhausting line of quips and quirks. Possesses a most peculiar and startling humor. "Det's" pleasant friendliness and unassuming manner have endeared him to us all.

EDWARDS, ROBERT HOLLOWAY Bob

Cherry Ave., West Sayville, L. I., N. Y.

Class Basketball, 1931.

He glories in the silkiest mustache that e'er intrigued a fair maiden. A hard worker and destined to be a successful designer.

FEDERICI, ANTHONY C. Tony

33 N. 8th St., Paterson, N. J.

Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Treasurer, 1931.

That hot Latin fire. Romanticist, shapsodist, artist, and a jocose wag withal. A lovable individual, with his verve, his banter, his speed.

GAVIN, EDWARD T. Ed

11 Bleeker Ave., Troy, N. Y.

Class President, 1930; Manager Swimming, 1931.

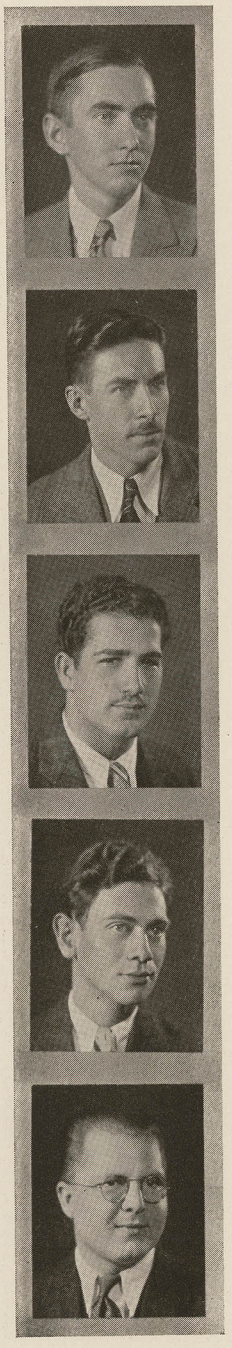

Friendly and unobstrusive, "Ed" daily revels in glorious color. A crooning tenor with water-color complex.

HOLDEN, ROBERT D. Blimp

35 Hughes Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Bowling, 1929; Manager, 1930.

"Fighting Bob," our own rugged rock—foundation of our class. He has a strong affinity for dieteticians, also Fords of ancient vintage. We wish him loads of happiness in his affair of the heart.

JACOBSEN, A. LESLIE — Jake

568 54th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1929-30-31; Captain Boxing, 1930; Fencing, 1930; Athletic Council, 1930.

A real friend and spirited comrade. Everyone likes "Jake," he's always in the fun and in the work. Addicted to holidays in the Catskills.

KALTENHAUSER, JOHN H. — Kal

46 Pierce Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

Soccer, 1929-30-31; Class Basketball, 1929-30-31; Manager, P. I. Lunch, 1931; Manager Class Bowling, 1931; Manager Interclass Bowling, 1931.

Our own Henry Clay. Champion of the rights of oppressed students. Fears no man, aye, not even directors. Master of witticism, well liked by all his classmates.

KREITNER, ANDREW S. — Andy

89 Blaine Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Athletic Editor of Prattonia, 1931.

"Gentleman Andy." Thoroughly De Riguer and an authority on the finer things. His sincerity made him many friends.

LEWIS, GEORGE WILLIAM — Schell

Pocantico Hills, N. Y.

Prattonia Representative, 1930; Class Soccer, 1929-30-31; Class Basketball, 1929-30-31; Class Baseball, 1929-30-31; Glee Club, 1929-30; Class Secretary, 1929; President of the Architects, 1931; Athletic Association, 1931; Student Council, 1931; Manager Bowling, 1931; Boxing, 1929.

His record leaves us stunned.

OTIS, WALLACE — Wally

96 River Ave., Patchogue, L. I., N. Y.

Varsity Basketball, 1929-30-31; Class Soccer, 1929-30-31.

A jolly good chap and a real sportsman. Distinguished for his friendliness, humor, gameness and a soft tenor voice. "Wally" is a general favorite all around.

REESE, HAMILTON B. — Ham

115 Elmer Ave., Schenectady, N. Y.

One of nature's gentlemen. A corking designer with a flair for old English. Nobility of character and social correctness.

RUECKERT, CLAYTON H. — Clayt

33 Blaine Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Poise and dignity always follow him. "Clayt's" a serious worker and a hair-line draftsman. Only recenty has he begun to take a real interest in our Pratt maidens.

RYDER, EDWARD W. — Eddie

16 Brookville Ave., Ossining, N. Y.

Class Baseball, 1929-30-31; Class Basketball, 1929-30-31; Class Soccer, 1929-30-31.

"Cheery Eddie," always ready with a genial greeting and a happy word. Stoutly denies he's on parole from upstate. Will lend you anything.

SEARS, VERNON F. — Red

33 Chuck St., Ansonia, Conn.

Class President, 1929; Chairman, Social Committee, 1931.

The red-headed big, business man; moves in the circles of high finance. Runs Pratt's finest dances and renders like a professional. "Red's" a real comrade and counts his friends by the score.

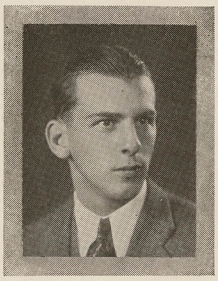

SWARTZ, WILLIAM W. — Bill

426 Watchung Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Camera Club, 1931; Fencing, 1930-31; Boxing, 1930-31.

A modest fellow, full of good cheer and appreciation. Works hard, plays harder. Doing his best to turn out a better watercolor than Gavin.

WALKER, ARTHUR S. Pete

57 W. 7th St., Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Varsity Baseball, 1930-31; Class Soccer, 1930-31; Class Bowling, 1930-31.

The bold he-man from the great outdoors. Known for his amazing designs and his athletic inclinations. Would rather play ball than eat.

ARCHITECTURAL CONSTRUCTION
1931

THE construction class has united with the two other classes to make this year a very successful one for the Architects. At one time we had reached the state where the mention of flitch plate girders would cause us to shudder and reach for a slide-rule but we have overcome that. In fact one fellow was so affected by his addiction to the slide-rule that he computed that you could take 67,500 cubic feet of dirt from a hole 50'x45'x30'. The need for cooperation in calculating has formed new and strengthened old friendships.

Like other classes we have enjoyed the trips immensely. We opened the season with a "bang" when we visited the Empire State Building during its erection. We now look down upon other lesser buildings with a great deal of disdain.

The erection of the bandstand for the Architect's Dance occupied part of our time in December. It was a spectacular affair, forcing the rest of the hall into insignificance. Surveying also interested us, for the signals of some individuals were really ludicrous and we could partake freely of hot refreshments.

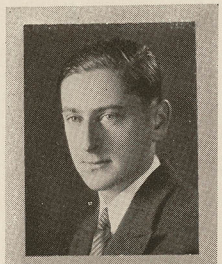

A new feature was instituted in our course this year. We were permitted to sit in "Judgment". Due to this we are able to pick up some points in design from Mr. Fletcher, which will probably materially aid us in our design work next year.

This year's class has also kept up the Architect's heritage of music if you would call it such. At all hours of the day the class is airing its tonsils with a rendition of "Sing Something Simple" or something similar. Chess also interests some of us during the lunch hour and kibitzers are plentiful.

Altogether we think we did quite well and if anyone wants any construction men well versed in architectural engineering, there are thirty-seven of them to be had for the asking.

CLASS OFFICERS

GEORGE W. LEWIS, President GEORGE THOMSON, Vice-President

ALEXANDER, ARTHUR — Alex

3049 Humbert St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The year's greatest surprise was the reprimanding of "Alex" for whispering. We have looked time and again but have yet to see his halo, although we are sure he must have one.

ANDERSON, ANDREW — Andy

18 Rutland Ave., Arlington, N. J.

Class Soccer, 1929-30.

Our soccer player was injured last year but he is going strong this year. Very studious but he has his moments. "Alex's" boy friend.

ANDERSON, HARVEY WILLIAM — Andy

207 Lafayette Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Glee Club, 1929-30; Buffalo Club.

"Oh, why can't I be worth a million instead of being so handsome."

BERG, JOHN WALTER — Walt

6338 Wetherole St., Forest Hills, L. I., N. Y.

Class Soccer, 1929-30; Class Basketball, 1929-30-31; Class Baseball, 1930.

The "loud" partner of the firm "Berg and Christensen, Inc." Pink shirts and red suspenders. Another Swede.

BOEMERMAN, FRANK — Frank

2789 Bedford Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Varsity Baseball, 1930-31; Class Basketball, 1930; J-V Basketball, 1931; Vice-President, Athletic Association, 1930-31.

A good athlete and a good sport—what more can you ask? And he can work as well as he can play.

CHRISTENSEN, CARL B. — Chris

112 Chalmers Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

Class Baseball, 1930; Class Soccer, 1930; Class Basketball, 1930-31.

The "silent" partner of the firm "Berg and Christensen, Inc". One of the "Big Swedes" of the class.

CLARK, NEWTON FREDERIC — Newt

350 Ridge Road, Wethersfield, Conn.

Class Soccer, 1929-30; Prattonia Representative, 1929-30; Class Swimming Manager, 1930-31; Assistant Basketball Manager, 1930-31.

Hartford! No, Wethersfield and proud of it. What a heart breaker. If "Newt" can make plans as well as women watch out architects.

CUEMAN, ROBERT R. — Bob

155 Wilmore Rd., Little Falls, N. J.

The "Mayor" of Little Falls made good at Pratt. His private life is rather a mystery. It is rumored, however, that his week ends are spent at N. J. C.

DE PHILLIPS, GEORGE — Count

131 Franklin St., Westfield, Mass.

Varsity Tennis Manager, 1931; Class Soccer, 1929-30; Manager, 1930-31; Interclass Manager, 1930-31; Assistant Varsity Tennis Manager, 1930.

"I wish to preach not the doctrine of ignoble ease but that of the strenuous life." Oh yeah!

FIEDLER, ALBERT H. — Al

1720 Sanderson Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Whiz of the note book and drafting board though he denies it strongly, he shows a weakness for a certain grace, and it's not the one before or after meals.

GLAUBER, ISAAC M. I

424 Irving Ave., Port Chester, N. Y.

Manager Class Baseball, 1931.

Port Chester's contribution to humanity. "I's" first words at 9 A.M. usually are "Who's coming out to breakfast with me." That is, if he is in school by 9 A.M.

GUCCIONE, VINCENT T. Jim

1246 East 94th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Just a "hard boiled guy." Wonder who he made that passionate red Christmas card for? "Wanta buy a hygiene book?"

GULOTTA, CASPER J. Casper

7502 133rd Ave., Ozone Park, Queens, N. Y.

A quiet, unassuming worker with a technique that will surely get him somewhere. We see him unescorted but surely some girl must have captured his heart.

HANDY, A. RONALD Ron

31 Morton St., Bloomfield, N. J.

Ah! The boy himself. Impersonator extraordinary and friend of Cueman, his hair is like a barber's dream and those eyes! If he ever gets up against it, "Ron" could sing soprano with the Salvation Army.

HOENACK, AUGUST F. Aug.

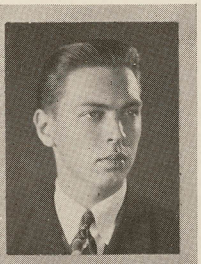

2143 Hughes Ave., New York, N. Y.

"Werple Sr.", of "Werple, Gimp, and Werple", the chief calculator of the firm, reaches for a slide-rule instead of a sweet.

HOLMGREN, HERBERT — Herb

1169 82nd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Baseball, 1929-30; Glee Club, 1929-30.
Individual Pool Championship, 1929-30.
Our class clown is most adept at rendering—in construction, he is brought to our level, but he soars above us through his interior designs.

HUBACH, GEORGE FREDERICK — George

139 Commonwealth Ave., Springfield, Mass.

Class Soccer, 1930; Class Basketball, 1930-31.
The boy with the originality does not seem to know how to print "continue". "Say! Andy, where's the paper?" We suspect he is following up "Tarzan".

KNOX, MALCOLM ROBINSON — Knoxy

177 Greenfield St., Hartford, Conn.

"Foxy Knoxy," of whom we know not what to expect. His dazzling speed holds us in awe as he asks for criticism while we are still in the stage of reference seeking.

KRAMER, VINCENT PAUL — Vin

127 Massachusetts Ave., Springfield, Mass.

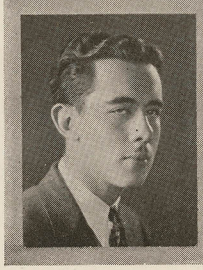

Class Soccer, 1929-30; Class Bowling, 1930-31; Assistant Varsity Cheer Leader, 1930; Varsity Cheer Leader, 1931.
Bay state lad whom we acclaim as our cheer leader. Oh! what a line. He can say anything to anybody and make them like it.

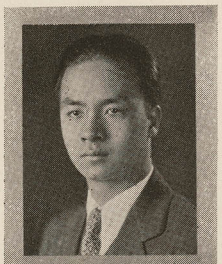

LEADBEATER, HOWARD W. — Leady

144 W. 228th St., New York, N. Y.

Another musketeer. Our waivy haired "Don Juan" from the Bronx. Wonder why he always sits at the window in room 31E? He calls it a mustache but we think it is the fault of a dull razor.

LEONG, BILLINGS W. — Irish

50 Hoiphong Rd., Kowloon, Hong Kong, China.

Varsity Tennis, 1930.

The Orient has a worthy representative in our class. The class is still mystified as to the origin of his name. Quite a juggler, too.

MULLER, OSCAR W. — Arty

Tamarack Rd., Tamarack Gardens, Port Chester, N. Y.

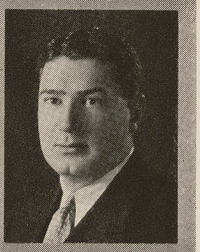

"Arty" is always doing something different. Some times we suspect he lives in school. Quite a whiz in mechanics and was to be seen quite often with Mr. Price.

NEUMANN, HERBERT W. — Herb

110-37 197th St., Hollis, L. I., N. Y.

Another musketeer. The big song and slide-rule man. He puts on his act from 12:30 to 1. God's gift to architecture. Leady and the C. M. T. C.

O'BOYLE, CORNELIUS W. — Connie

1633 Clay Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Class Treasurer, 1929-30-31.

Our humorist who has his weak moments when he condescends to punning. Ever ready with anecdotes and tales which move listeners to laughter.

PATRIZIO, ALFRED J. — Pat

87-19 184th St., Jamaica, N. Y.

Class Bowling, 1929-30-31.

Marksman extrordinary. He and "Pete" should file incorporation papers. He was too prolific for our comfort. Soon his mustache will assume the serious proportions of his eyebrows.

PEART, HAROLD CRAIG — Piccolo

203 Pleasant St., Bennington, Vt.

One of those strong silent men. Pals around with Richards and plays football with him. Gives no indication of his presence in the room.

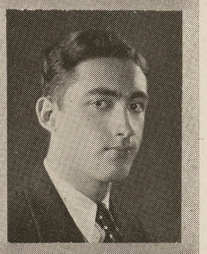

PELLEGRINO, VINCENT — Pell

1943 Colden Ave., New York, N. Y.

Class Bowling, 1929-30-31; Class Baseball, 1929-30-31; Class Soccer, 1930-31.

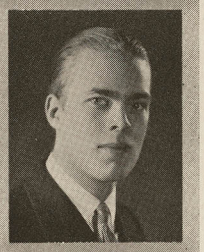

The millstone of the class. The pace he sets is too fast for us. Don't rush girls.

PETERSON, HARRY C. — Pete

4504 Hoxie St., Bronx, New York, N. Y.

Consulting authority on heating and ventilating. Another one of those seen, but not heard. The four o'clock bell means nothing to Pete.

RATHJEN, GEORGE FRANCIS — Georgie

563 East Jersey St., Elizabeth, N. J.

Prattonia Representative, 1930.

The biggest little boy in the class, chosen unanimously as our Prattonia Representative. He has made a success you can see.

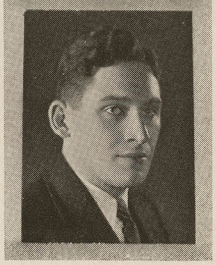

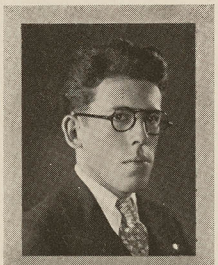

RICHARDS, CLARENCE H. — Rich

22 Ann St., Rockaway, N. J.

Class Bowling, 1929-30.

"I only regret that I can not play football for Pratt." The athletic critic of the class has gained well earned popularity.

ROGERS, IRA GREGORY — Ira

Bellport, Long Island, N. Y.

Ahoy! Bellport, L. I. Our captain takes his leave of absence to study architecture as a side line. "Who wants to go to the Commodore for tea."

SCHULER, WILLIAM — Bill

Hopewell Junction, N. Y.

From the way "Bill" walks we may expect him to go far in the building game. Our practical construction man from up state and senior partner in the firm of Knox and Schuler.

STETSER, WILLIAM H. — Bill

178th St. & 114th Ave., St. Albans, L. I., N. Y.

Class Bowling, 1929-30.

If modesty is a virtue, "Bill" must be quite virtuous. He has a corner on the new magazines in the Men's Club.

THOMSON, GEORGE J. V. — Tommy

Hamilton, Ontario, Canada

First Vice-President, Architects.

Our president whose loss Hamilton most surely must feel. He asks no help and needs none. We think we are to be complimented for our choice.

TIENKEN, MELVIN H. — Cowboy

7612-7th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

One of the irrepressible musketeers. His eternal and infernal whistling lead us to believe someone slipped some birdseed into his oatmeal at breakfast. His cartoons break into our concentration.

WHALEN, THOMAS P. Git sore

306 W. 15th St., New York City, N. Y.

The steadying force in the class is not in any sense of the word amused at Kibitzers while he plays chess. Slightly handicapped by a pre-mechanics course at Columbia.

WOOLLEY, EBEN B. Eb

161 White St., Stratford, Connecticut

Chairman of Architectural Athletic Committee, 1930; Boxing Instructor, 1930; Class Basketball.

"Gimp"—the protector of fair maidens, he also designs the darlingest factories in his head.

Do not go through the world finding fault. We all have our weaknesses, but we also have our strong points. Try to find the strong points in those around you and help make the world better and brighter for your own life. The pleasure in life comes from helping others.

ARCHITECTURE 1933

SEPTEMBER 9th marks a date in the annals of Pratt Institute that shall be handed down to posterity with a sense of pride and satisfaction to mark the anniversary of America's bid for world supremacy in the field of Architecture. It was on that day that forty-five hand-picked, potential architects signed away nine months of freedom and a perfectly good second hand mortgage on the old homestead to embark upon a trial cruise in quest of Architectural enlightenment.

On the first leg of our journey we find ourselves much "at sea" and focus our binoculars upon the "vanishing point" of embarkation to review the happenings to date.

Only a few days out of port we were entertained by the "ancient mariners" of the upper classes at a get-acquainted smoker, in which we did the entertaining and they the "smoking."

Our second social adventure was in the nature of an initiation into high architectural society as guests of the Pratt Alumni at the Fraternity Club in Manhattan. Speeches and entertainment were enjoyed, lunch was served and a fine spirit prevailed. In a wave of enthusiasm, part of our crew was washed overboard but drifted into port with high tide.

The keen interest in bank entrances displayed by some of our members during the course of the year has aroused the suspicion of the local police force. To our belief the interest manifest is purely an architectural one. Yet, such a question can rest with those best fitted to deal with such a situation. You can't fool a cop.

As members of the "Architects" we have had the good fortune to participate in two very enjoyable banquets—both successful in their social and educational aspects, as well as the gastronomic merits attached.

This first year has been indeed a momentous one. We have battled the "elements" according to Vignola, shadowed the elusive "lights and shades" that "play" upon the whole scheme of life and Architectural units we have endured the "stress and strain" of a galley slave, to hold a peaceful "equilibrium" with our mentors, and yet retain our own "perspective" of the ever changing "entourage".

KENWOOD DIXON
OF HOUSEHOLD
SCIENCE AND ARTS

SCHOOL OF HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE AND ARTS

THE founder, Charles Pratt, specified in the charter of the Institute that the work of the School of Household Science and Arts should center around food, clothing and homemaking. He knew full well the necessity at all times of a thorough understanding of the fundamentals of living. Whereas the approach, technique and processes might and would differ as the years went by, yet the fundamentals would always remain. His vision was prophetic, for the School of Household Science and Arts is functioning today along these same lines; and the need of this work is far greater today than when the Institute was founded, for during this time the whole economic, social and political status of women has changed.

While it is true that the approach, technique, and processes have changed with the years, we find the emphasis today is for specific training along the definite lines of dietitians, cafeteria and tea room managers, costume designers and dressmakers, as well as along the general lines of homemaking. Through all the years, the function of this School has been to present a balanced, intensive program of head, heart and hand—a plan which differentiates Pratt Institute from all other institutions—whereby the students absorb the ideals that should make all education worth while. By means of the intensive courses a thorough, practical training is obtained in half the time of the usual college course, and the earning power is equally enhanced.

DIETETICS

MANY moons ago, girls from all parts of the U. S. met at this great school to form the class of '31. The way they conquered the entrance exams showed their mental facilities. From a sea ranging from obscurity to semi-fame, the good ship Progress finally landed with its bevy of knowledge-seekers at Port Pratt Institute.

Famous Mount Nutrition proved a steep climb, while the plains of Cookery afforded rest and refreshment. From the isle of Physiology, unusual views of the surrounding world were obtained. The most fascinating item of the voyage led the passengers up Reagent River to the vast forest of Chemistry. Further information was gleaned by excursions into other lands.

The summer of 1930 found the passengers dissatisfied with the climate of the port and led to a subsequent departure of each one in pursuit of items of individual interest during the summer months. Some went to Hospitals—some to camps—and some—to other interesting places.

Our social activities included—teas, card parties, get-together meetings, Home Economics teas and dances. Hunting up restaurants and tea rooms of foreign character was a favorite sport and proved very interesting.

Already our past is woven full of memories and the future spreads before us a splendid vista of opportunity. The necessary class spirit was ever present and in that way, we have had a successful and eventful history.

Alas! The voyage draws to a close too soon for many of us. Associations have endeared us to each other and to those with whom we have had daily contact.

In conclusion, we say this: To our fellow-students and undergraduates, we wish the best of luck, and may they continue to be as happy in their work as we were. We hereby express gratitude to our instructors and supervisors who have been instrumental in bringing about our present proud status.

CLASS OFFICERS

CHARLOTTE OSGOOD, President
IRENE SWANSON, Vice-President
KATHERINE HARLEY, Secretary
HELEN TODD, Treasurer

ABBOTT, GERTRUDE F. — Gerty

Potunk Lane, West Hampton Beach, L. I., N. Y.

Basketball, 1930; Volleyball, 1931; Glee Club, 1930.

An ambitious young person from West Hampton Beach, seeking knowledge, not only in Dietetics but also Electricity and Architecture.

AHLQUIST, AGNES N. — Agnes

24 Sweeney St., Naugatuk, Conn.

Volleyball, 1930.

Very often still water is of a greater depth than the eye can penetrate. Agnes is very quiet but she gets her work done.

ALLEN, IDA MAE — Ida

665 Clove Rd., West New Brighton, S. I., N. Y.

Swimming, 1930-31; Basketball, 1930; Prattonia Representative, 1930.

Winning smile, cheerfulness and keen sense of humor have helped to make Ida a popular member of our class.

BEITMAN, HERMINE E. — Red

1919 South 16th Ave., Birmingham, Ala.

Glee Club, 1930.

Our Titian Southerner is full of ambition. Here's hoping you attain the goal you have set.

BERGER, EVELYN — Evy

217 Ditmars Ave., Astoria, L. I., N. Y.

Basketball, 1930; Swimming, 1930.

Why go to Paris when we have "Evy" as a stylist? A conscientious person and one who is always willing to help the other fellow.

BLEE, MARJORIE K. Marj.

65 Hempstead Ave., Rockville Center, N. Y.

Home Economics Representative, 1931.

"Marj" is always on time for classes, with half a minute to spare. Individuality is her outstanding characteristic.

CANNING, MARION G. Marion

51 Graves St., South Deerfield, Mass.

Volleyball, 1930.

Marion would naturally follow "Marj". Marion proves Miss Bartlett's statement, "the deeper you go into chemistry, the easier it will seem."

CARLSON, ANN L. Ann

50 Pardee Pl., East Haven, Conn.

Volleyball, 1930; Basketball, 1930.

Her frequent trips to the Bronx should be accounted for. What's the reason, Ann? One of the inmates of "288".

CONTE, FRANCES X. Fran

12 Mechanic St., Great Barrington, Mass.

Basketball, 1930; Hockey, 1930; Women's Club Representative, 1931.

"Fran" is a firm believer in the adage—"A little nonsense now and then, is relished by the wisest men."

CORY, HELEN G. Cora

153 Florence St., Melrose, Mass.

Volleyball, 1930; Basketball, 1930; Women's Club Representative, 1930.

One of the typical Yankee girls from New England. They are few and far between but we're proud of the fact that we have one.

DAVIS, MABEL M. — Mabel

855 Broad Ave., Ridgefield, N. J.

Captain Basketball, 1931; Glee Club, 1930.

Mabel stopped drinking coffee in the morning because she found that it interfered with her sleep during class.

DEARE, INEZ A. — Dear

171 Howell St., Providence, R. I.

Volleyball, 1931.

"Dear" is partly responsible for our originality. As long as we have her with us, we are sure of one good "I'deare".

DICKERSON, LORENE G. — Dick

33 Burnet St., Avenel, N. J.

Basketball, 1930; Hockey, 1931.

"Dick" possessed an unusual vocabulary before she entered Pratt. Her large variety of friends have helped her to keep it intact.

DONAHUE, HELEN V. — Helen

143 Grenville St., Woodbridge, N. J.

Volleyball, 1930.

When asked the difference between high and low bacteria Helen meekly replied, "The higher bacteria have longer legs."

ERMATINGER, MRS. JESSIE — Jessie

Mansion St., Coxsackie, N. Y.

A new member, responsible for that fetching angle in head gear in Nutrition Lab. She has come back for newer knowledge but has imparted some of the old to us.

FAIRWEATHER, ANNETTE — Nette

28 Vanderbilt Rd., West Hartford, Conn.

Glee Club, 1930-31.

Also known as "Sunshine" and is all that the name implies. A good sport and ready at all times to do what she can for all of us. What's the attraction in Bridgeport, "Nette"?

GRANGER, EVELYN G. — Ev

844 Southbridge St., Worcester, Mass.

"Ev" is bubbling over with mischief. She believes that it is better to appear meek than fierce and better to be sane than mad.

GUFFANTI, FRANCES J. — Frannie

2830 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Hockey, 1930-31; President Home Economics Club, 1931.

The girl with the "Pepsodent Smile"—seen when you don't expect it—but never seen when you are really anticipating it.

HAGGERTY, CATHERINE V. — Kay

32 Linden St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Hockey, 1930; Treasurer Home Economics Club, 1930; Prattonia Representative, 1931.

Scarcely ever seen without her side-kick with whom she's always ready to burst into a duet of their various theme songs.

HARLEY, KATHERINE — Kitty

Main St., Cromwell, Conn.

Class Secretary, 1930-31; Social Editor Prattonia, 1931.

"Kitty" is no stranger. Her attractiveness in appearance and disposition made her known to us from the very first.

HAYES, FLORENCE M. — Flossie

31 Powell Ave., Newport, R. I.

Volleyball, 1930.

"When I was hostess in a tea room"—in the future turn to "Flossie" for aid in our large quantity cookery.

HOLDEN, DOROTHY T. — Dot

31 Old Pine Tree Rd., Norwich, Conn.

"Dot's" friendly and cheerful personality will carry her far. We all think it is great enough to carry her around the world. Hard working and full of pep.

HOOD, ADELAIDE M. — Ad

Lakewood, N. J.

Volleyball, 1930.

There is an old saying that "Murder will out". At last we have found the reason for "Ad's" wild dash on Friday afternoons.

HOSCH, EUNICE G. — Hoschie

806 East 8th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930-31.

One of those rare persons who absolutely refuses to put off until tomorrow what can possibly be done today. Step up, folks, and take a lesson from Eunice on how it is done.

INGRATO, THERESA R. — Tressa

40 George St., Troy, N. Y.

Hockey, 1930-31; Basketball, 1930-31; Home Economics Club Representative, 1930; Glee Club, 1931.

"She who sings, frightens away her ills." This is "Tressa's" motto. We find her shooing away the blues from day to day.

LAMB, SUSAN L. — Sue

201 Wildwood Ave., Worcester, Mass.

Class Treasurer, 1930.

"Sue" believes in never doing today what can be done tomorrow. A dandy sport and lovable even though she has to be hustled along occasionally.

LANDECKER, HILDA — Landy

137 West 13th St., New York, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930-31.

She is completely absorbed in her work—gives it such great care and attention that she promises to be a real success.

LINCOLN, EDNA R. — Ted

21 Elinor Pl., Yonkers, N. Y.

Glee Club, 1930.

Not all of us are blessed with the honor of being "engineered" through Pratt as "Ted" has been. Here's hoping it will continue on forever.

LOWEREE, CHARLOTTE — Char

133 West 67th St., New York, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930-31.

In spite of all she does herself, she always finds time to help another. "Her life, she is weaving—simply and gently."

McBRIDE, MARTHA — Martha

6101 Beechwood Dr., Fort Wayne, Ind.

Hockey, 1930.

How could Martha have strayed so far East when her thoughts are centered at Ohio State? Success follows earnest effort and we know Martha will reach the top.

MacDERMID, ROSE C. — Rose

52 Park Ave., Port Washington, L. I., N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930-31; Vice-President Women's Club, 1931.

If you see a flash of red you know that it is Rose running to catch the 5:11 train. Now I ask you, is this train a "Special"?

MARTIN, MARJORIE A. — Marj

647 Williams St., Meadville, Penn.

Basketball, 1930.

Although "Marj" is the youngest member of the class, it has been proven that her rate of intelligence surpasses all others.

MORGAN, ADA — Ada

Bennington, Vt.

Glee Club, 1930-31.

"Ada" believes that time was not made to waste. No task is too big for her. We are proud to have this cheerful class-mate in our midst.

MUZZY, FAY L. — Fuz

136 Van Houten Ave., Passaic, N. J.

Basketball, 1930.

'Twas the saying of an ancient sage that humor was the only test of gravity—and gravity of humor.

OSGOOD, CHARLOTTE — Charley

36 Osgood St., North Andover, Mass.

Volleyball, 1930; Hockey, 1931; President Women's Club, 1930; Class President, 1931.

The ability shown in her first year prompted us to choose her as our leader during the more difficult days. A better choice could not have been made.

PARRISH, MARJORIE C. Marj

Cambridge, N. Y.

Basketball, 1931; Glee Club, 1930-31.

We wonder if "Marj" is still to be addressed as one of the "Parrishes". When asked "What's your name? I don't know—it's going to be changed."

PATERACKI, CAROLYN K. Pat

502 West 139th St., New York, N. Y.

Hockey, 1930; Glee Club, 1930-31.

Silence never betrays you. Know when to speak for many times it brings danger to give the best advice to kings. "Pat" is our prodigy in oration.

PERKINSON, HELEN R. Perky

64 Pierrepont St., Waterbury, Conn.

Volleyball, 1930-31.

Coolness and absence of haste indicate the fine qualities of "Perky." She has no faults as far as we can determine.

PHILLIPS, IRENE Z. Renie

113 Prospect St., Northhampton, Mass.

Glee Club, 1930.

Here we have an extremely hard-worker. We can always depend on Renie in an emergency.

PRENTISS, ELIZABETH S. Eliz

11 Prospect Ave., Glen Cove, L. I., N. Y.

Hockey, 1930.

"While I breathe Heaven's air, and Heaven looks down upon me, and smiles at my best meanings, I remain mistress of mine own self and mine own soul."

RANKIN, GRACE M. — Grace

550 Linden Ave., Woodbridge, N. J.

Hockey, 1930-31; Basketball, 1930-31.

Grace, although she is of a very retiring nature is a good sport and a source of much fun in any gathering.

REILLY, LORETTA E. — Ret

257 Mt. Vernon Ave., Orange, N. J.

Volleyball, 1930-31.

"Ret's" determination is very strong. During this past year, it has had many tests, but success has been the result of her trials.

REISBERG, A. HERMAN — Alvin

961 Lafayette Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"O sleep it is a blessed thing beloved from class to class." The only gentleman member of the class. We wonder how we will go on without the feminine support.

SCHWEIGER, MAE R. — Mayse

294 Ridgewood Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Basketball, 1930-31; Hockey, 1931.

"It seemed doubtful that a day of only twenty-four hours could possibly be long enough to hold the endless array of duties and engagements alloted to it."

SHIPPEE, BARBARA V. — Bot

428 Willow St., Waterbury, Conn.

Volleyball, 1930; Glee Club, 1930.

Barbara has surely enjoyed a bit of interesting rivalry while at Pratt. These heart-breaking Electricals —but then, it is all in the game and good fun.

SISTER MARY AUGUSTINE, O.S.D. — Sister

133 Bushwick Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Sister's ready hand, keen sense of humor and sincere friendliness have meant much to our two years at Pratt. We will all miss her witty, searching questions.

SMITH, HELEN M. — Smitty

172 Myrtle Ave., Larchmont, N. Y.

Basketball, 1930.

A constantly worried person. No one knows why. She is always working and fretting over something. Some day we may get the inside story.

SWANSON, IRENE G. — Rene

Westside, Waterbury, Conn.

Hockey, 1930; Class Vice-President, 1931; Captain Hockey, 1931.

"To make the world a friendly place, she shows to it a friendly face." "Rene" is as ambitious as she is genial.

TINGUE, ANNE — Anne

Cambridge, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930-31.

Anne came to us from the Institutional class with a giggle, all her own. Her cheerful nature never varies.

TINSLEY, BEATRICE O. — Bea

8 Park St., Ellenville, N. Y.

Glee Club, 1930-31.

"Bea" has a master mind. She goes in for chemistry in a big way. Our best wishes go with you.

TODD, HELEN M. — Tid

R. F. D. 4, Newburgh, N. Y.

Hockey, 1930-31; Class Treasurer, 1930-31.

Troy had its Helen with the face that launched a thousand ships. We have our Helen, also. What more need we say?

VAN GIESON, CATHERINE A. — Kay

Great Notch, N. J.

Basketball, 1930; Glee Club, 1930; Class Secretary, 1930.

A pair of stilts would make you tall, but have no fear of being small. A small bundle of good nature.

VEAL, CAROLYN T. — Carolyn

Sedalia, Ky.

Our gift from the blue grass State. Her keen wit and characteristic Kentucky drawl have given us many a laugh. Yet she does more work than you would suspect.

WARD, ALICE B. — Al

1298 Troy Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Basketball, 1930; Secretary-Treasurer Get-to-gether Club, 1930.

Alice Ward has yet to answer, "Here", at nine. She came to Pratt in a daze. She is leaving now, soon to be a "Mayes".

WEINFIELD, ETHEL — Eddie

50-18 14th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930.

Ambitious? Speak to her of Jacob's ladder and she would ask you the number of steps. "Eddie" has promised to write a book entitled, "The Proper Ventilation of a Classroom."

WESTCOTT, ALICE L. Al

215 Passaic St., Hackensack, N. J.

Volleyball, 1931.

"Thou shalt sleep in thy clouds, careless of the voice of the morning." However, we shall be surprised if we ever see "Al" walking calmly for her train.

WHELAN, ANITA B. Ann

85 West 45th St., Bayonne, N. J.

Glee Club, 1930-31.

We wonder why "Ann's" warm brown eyes hide a cold heart. We suggest "Southern" atmosphere.

WILLIAMS, ANITA C. Nita

49 Morning St., Portland, Me.

Volleyball, 1931.

"Silence has become her mother tongue, for words divide and read but silence is most noble to the end."

WILSON, HELEN B. Hon

5 Albion Pl., Port Richmond, S. I., N. Y.

Baseball, 1930; Class Vice-President, 1929; Glee Club, 1931; Volleyball, 1931; Associate Editor Prattonia, 1931.

Too bad "Wedding Bells" are threatening to interfere with "Hon's" professional career. "All the world loves a lover." Is this the secret of your success, "Hon"?

WITHERS, EUGENIE R. Gene

90 St. Marks Pl., St. George, S. I., N. Y.

Possessing that individual sophistication and independent spirit. We hope that "Gene" will saunter through life as smoothly and successfully as she has done at Pratt.

YOUNG, REBA E. Babe

445 Griffing Ave., Riverhead, L. I., N. Y.

Basketball, 1930-31; Volleyball, 1930-31; Class Vice-President, 1930.

Babe has an advantage over the most of us for she knows what the future has in store for her—a private dietitian in a home built for two.

DIETETICS 1932

WE were a very green class of would be Dietitians that entered Pratt Institute last September. At first we were very much dazed, in fact, some of us didn't know our Physiology book from our Bacteriology text, but all that is over now. The rough edges have been smoothed, and thru a gradual process we have become, worthy of our title.

Our first term has been one of changes and adjustments, but we are beginning to feel now as if we "belonged".

Our instructors have done much to make this year at Pratt a very pleasant one by their thoughtfulness, and their interest in us as individuals. We wish to take this opportunity to thank them.

We have not only worked together, but we have played together too. Before our Senior Sisters arrived the faculty entertained us in Recreation Hall. At this time we were introduced to the faculty and also became better acquainted with each other. Later we were entertained and introduced to the Seniors. It seemed then as if we would never get the right name tagged to the right person, but now we feel as if we had always known each other. The last of October we entertained the Seniors at a Hallow'en party and so launched our social career.

Spring will be here now before we know it and we shall go out to do our practice work to return next fall with new enthusiasm and interest.

Be just and fear God. It is safe to talk much with Him. The rewards of life are an approving conscience, the memory of kind deeds, and the hope of Heaven.

If people speak ill of you, live so that others will not believe it.

The giving which counts is the giving of one's self.

CHARLES PRATT

COSTUME DESIGN
1931

THE time of matriculation at Pratt Institute for the members of the Costume Design class is varied. Several classmates have passed beneath the portals for a period of three years while others have done so for just two. In either case the time has been most profitably spent and we all hope for successful results.

The first year of Dressmaking revealed the deep dark secrets of that trade to us and we seemed confident of a favorable conquest of Costume Design. In the Junior year of the latter course new, and interesting friendships were made and we began thirty-eight strong. Experiences were varied in numerous ways, some being pleasant and others unpleasant. The high lights of the year proved to be two fashion shows; the Abraham & Straus show presented at the store of that name at the beginning of the first term of the year 1929 and the Wanamaker show, presented in the Wanamaker auditorium at the conclusion of the second term of the year 1930. Life in general proved amusing and again at the termination of school the outlook for the future, the last year 1930-1931, was strengthened not only with a more sophisticated knowledge, but also with a resolution to do bigger and better things.

Thus far as Seniors, we believe our purpose was kept both scholastically and socially, even though the eruditions have not been of such long duration. May we have attained the goal of complete achievement of our purpose by June 4, 1931.

CLASS OFFICERS

BETTY JAMESON, President
ALICE DOMINY, Vice-President
GRACE E. SMITH, Secretary
VALERIE W. WILSON, Treasurer

AGNELLO, ELIZABETH A. — Betty

338 E. 25th St., New York City, N. Y.

Basketball, 1930; Swimming, 1930-31; Artisans.
A disposition sweet and kind—from her we always borrow
And if things don't go so smooth today, there's always a tomorrow.

AUGUSTINE, MARIE H. — Marie

136 Manhattan Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

Basketball, 1930 Artisans.
Marie is a wizard at Costume Design and at making boy friends she draws a line.

BROWN, M. HELEN — Helen

201 Elmwood Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Hockey, 1930; Volleyball, 1930-31; Artisans.
We predict that this vivacious young classmate will go far in her designing; Loeser's has already given her a start. She has spontaneous enthusiasm that is irresistible.

BURDICK, MARGARET — Dean

Westbrook, Conn.

Swimming, 1930-31; Artisans.
Her good nature and ready wit will always be remembered. A hard worker when serious endeavor is required.

BURROWS, ROSE — Rose

258 Stuyvesant Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Swimming, 1930-31; Artisans.
An indomitable worker with unceasing ambition toward the accomplishment of her goal.

COCKS, MURIEL F. — Muriel

33 Third Ave., Port Washington, L. I., N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930-31; Artisans.

We often wonder why Muriel dashes home "Earl-y." Some day, due to high flying she will be breakfasting in Port Washington and dining in South America.

COHN, ELIZABETH — Betty

260 Richards Ave., Dover, N. J.

Basketball, 1930; Hockey, 1930; Artisans.

"Haste thee nymph and bring with thee jest and youthful jollity, from thy travels of a day."

CUSUMANO, ANGELINA M. — Angie

674 Second Ave., New York City, N. Y.

Swimming, 1930-31; Artisans.

A very conscientious, dependable class mate who is very willing to cooperate and not be late or "cut" the time away.

DEMIRJIAN, BERJOUHI — Berj

500 W. 177th St., New York City, N. Y.

Swimming, 1930-31; Artisans.

"Berj" has brought to us the most likeable characteristics of the near East and has taught us another phase of Costume.

DOMINY, ALICE E. — Al

East Hampton, L. I., N. Y.

Hockey, 1930; Volleyball, 1930-31; Representative Women's Club, 1930; Class Vice-President, 1930-31; Artisans.

Reticent, yet prepossessing is Alice—an acknowledged leader.

ECCLES, MILDRED GILLS — Mil

81 Winthrop Ave., New Rochelle, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930; Basketball, 1930-31; Hockey, 1930-31; Artisans.

A good worker with a sunny disposition, but a mind of her own.

ECKMAN, MARTHA A. — Martha

Columbia, Pa.

Volleyball, 1928; Hockey, 1930.

We were glad to welcome Martha back to Pratt. A willing and friendly student, this fair designing maid.

ERNST, LYDIA SKIFF — Lyja

72 Wallace Ave., Baldwin, L. I., N. Y.

Artisans.

For her, Pratt hath charms, a new name, but the same ole "Lyja" in a new role.

FLEMING, NANCYE F. — General

66 West End Boulevard, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Representative Home Economics Club, 1930; Treasurer Artisans, 1930-31; Captain Volleyball, 1930-31.

Another reason why so many songs are written about the "Carolines."

Nancye has won everyone's heart.

HARTMAN, EDNA M. — Eddie

106 S. Courtland St., E. Stroudsburg, Pa.

Basketball, 1930-31; Swimming, 1930-31; Artisans.

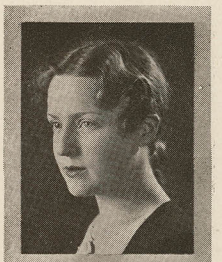

When they bawl her out for "cutting," Eddie wants to know how they get like that.

HENNING, FRIEDA M. — Frieda

259 Warren Rd., Toronto, Can.

Volleyball, 1930-31; Chairman Social Committee, Artisans, 1930-31.

Our blonde Canadian student who has sophistication and personality plus.

JAMES, DOROTHY W. — Dot

497 Franklin Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Swimming, 1930; Artisans.

A trustworthy friend with a cheery word for everyone and a song in her ear,—"Can't help it."

JAMESON, BETTY M. — Betty

5913 London Rd., Duluth, Minn.

Class President, 1930-31; Artisans.

The possessor of a stimulating and winning personality is our twice-chosen President.

KAIRALLA, HELEN — Helen

159 Prospect Park West, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Prattonia Representative, 1930-31; Secretary Home Economics Club, 1930-31; Captain Volleyball; Artisans.

Vivacious, energetic, generous, willing and ever helpful; in fact, she doesn't have to be tall to be big.

LAWS, HORENA C. — Sally

Clinton St., Westfield, N. Y.

Captain Hockey, 1930; Basketball, 1930-31; Hockey, 1930-31; Artisans.

Tackling big problems is one of "Sally's" best plays, but she believes the first hundred years are the hardest.

McCLAIN, MARY V.

43 Cottage St., Jersey City, N. J.

Hockey, 1930-31; Women's Club Representative, 1930-31; Artisans.

Sweet girlhood dreams her mind beguiles while she is studying fashion styles, to be quite near "Frank" we think is due her to speak of her Irish wit and humor.

MACBETH, MARGARET O. Mac

104 E. Genesee St., Auburn, N. Y.

Basketball, 1930; Artisans.

A distinctive charm that wins the admiration of her classmates and which may account for her popularity at house parties.

MARSHALL, HELEN EDITH Helen

465 W. 163rd St., New York City, N. Y.

Hockey, 1930-31; Basketball, 1930-31; Artisans.

Her athletic abilities are surprising in one of such small stature.

MANCINI, GISELDA Gissy

2454 Arthur Ave., Bronx, N. Y.

Artisans.

"Gissy" has real talent; her prizes prove it. She would make a fine leader for "Onward Christian Soldiers!"

MASTROIANNI, RIVOLTA A. Rivolta

178 Alabama Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Basketball, 1930; Hockey, 1930-31; Artisans.

Our little "Mona Lisa"; nevertheless, vivacious and sweet and of designing intentions.

PARKE, FRANCES T. — Frenzy

189 East Broadway, Bangor, Me.

Prattonia Representative, 1930; Volleyball, 1930-31; Artisans.

"Frenzy" has "Kind" thoughts, although we have not noticed the Harvard accent yet. In the capacity of Prattonia Representative during her Junior year she was a good sport.

PATCH, EMILY A. — "M"

Berkshire, N. Y.

Representative Home Economics Club, 1930-31; Volleyball, 1930-31; Artisans.

A delicate whimsical personality of unsuspected depth.

PECORONI, GERTRUDE — Gert

P. O. Box 227, Bound Brook, N. J.

Hockey, 1930; Artisans.

Genius is the infinite capacity for taking pains and "Gert" is following her star or has hitched her wagon to a star.

SCHIAVONE, MARGARET B. — Margy

74 Park Ave., Caldwell, N. J.

Basketball, 1930; Artisans.

Margy is always sweet, sometimes very serious; but her bubbling mirth is never far from the surface.

SHULZE, RUTH LUELLA — Shulzie

76 Poore St., Shawsheen Village, Andover, Mass.

Artisans.

Frank—forceful—peppy—and avid for work.

SMITH, GRACE E.

La Vale, Cumberland, Md.

Class Secretary, 1930-31; Vice-President Home Economics Club, 1930-31; Volleyball, 1930; Artisans.

A gift of beauty from the Gods, together with a versatility of intellect and craftsmanship.

VALVO, JOSEPHINE M. Jo

5520 Fifteenth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1930; Artisans.

Few are the things "Jo" can't and don't do. These are heightened by a captivating disposition.

WILSON, VALERIE WEYE Val

24 Linden Rd., Melrose, Mass.

Class Treasurer, 1930-31; Vice-President Artisans, 1930; President Artisans, 1930-31; Volleyball, 1930.

One of our sweetest girls is "Val". Besides this asset, she is very apt and capable in anything she does.

WRIGHT, HELEN M. Helen

3 Elm St., Hudson Falls, N. Y.

Captain Volleyball, 1930; Artisans.

A persevering worker and deliberate in all her undertakings. Good manners are among her many fine qualities.

1932

AS the first half of the Junior year is about to come to a close, it is with humorous emotions that we look back upon the first days spent at Pratt.

During this time we were dazed by the amount of work that we were expected to accomplish in one day, but now that we are well established in the elements of the course the routine seems not only humanly possible but extremely delightful.

One-third of the class was comprised of graduated dress-making students and the other two-thirds of students who entered on the confidence of their own ability. This situation promoted friction for a time but soon all differences of methods and opinions in the right way to do the work were broken down by the helpful and earnest efforts of our instructors. May we take this opportunity of thanking them for their influential guidance.

The Seniors enabled the Junior Class to come in contact with one another socially. They entertained the entire Junior Class at Tea during the beginning of the term, and later invited us to join the Artisan Club. At these meetings lecturers entertained us by talking about possible professional fields for a costume designer. This enabled us to be better qualified to choose the line within which we intend to specialize.

In Hockey the Juniors and Seniors fought bravely but the ability and spirit on either side was so vigorous that the battle terminated in a tie. From this source the Household Science and Arts Team was chosen. This team was victorious over the Fine and Applied Arts School and was proudly represented by six playing members of the Costume Design Class.

The 1932 class is about to enter upon the most outstanding event of the year's work, the Wanamaker Fashion Show. This will give the students an opportunity to prove to the outside world what they can do as coming designers. The Junior Class has always successfully carried off several of the trophies but the Class of 1932 does not only hope to uphold past traditions but surpass them.

HOMEMAKING
1931

TO the modern efficient girl comes a vocation new in its methods but old in history. Consequently we have decided to devote our lives to tending the fires of Lares and Penates; fires which, though not yet reduced to ashes, have been grievously neglected of late.

To be a successful Homemaker one must be a good business woman and a clever psychologist; she must have the tact of a diplomat and the patience of a Griselda; she must be artistic, skillful and sympathetic, as well as charming and hospitable. In short the model Homemaker is the height of perfection in woman. Although this rare and improbable person must somewhere exist, we do not claim to be her counterpart—yet we have every desire of some day approaching her in accomplishment and knowledge. In other words, albeit we are the "broad-hipped, short-legged, insipid creatures" of Schopenhauer's sour imagination. We really are very important; for what good is a broad-shouldered, long-lunged, powerful man with an empty stomach in a home without a feminine touch of beauty and comfort?

Realizing our stupendous importance to the world and not wishing to leave untouched any fragmentary bits of knowledge pertaining to the Home, we decided to take this course in Homemaking, that we may come as near as possible to perfection in this, our chosen profession.

This is our aim, and it would be difficult for us to accomplish it without scientifically prepared supervision. Hence the Homemaking class. And although Homemaking as a career is not moneymaking proposition, yet the remuneration in other things will surely be plentiful if we're conscientious about it—and truly we are that!

CLASS OFFICERS

MYRTLE HOVELL, President MARJORIE EARL, Secretary
MONICA GERAGHTY, Vice-President KATHERINE WALBRIDGE, Treasurer

BAYLES, MARJORIE — Marj

1901 Bedford Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Marj" has been with us almost a year now and we agree that she is one of the most cheerful and energetic members of the class.

"I am not of that feather to shake off my friends when they most need me."

CHASE, HELEN S. — Ducky

202 Thames St., Newport, R. I.

Helen, our friend from Newport, is peppy and gay. She always has a smile for everyone. We hope that everybody we meet from Newport will be like Helen.

"You know that I say what I think. Nothing more nor less."

DRECKMEIER, CORNELIA MARIE — Cori

4 Appleton Pl., Upper Montclair, N. J.

"Cori" has a cheerie "Hello" for each and everyone of us. Her words seem to be filled with memories of dear old China. We hope that if she ever goes back, she'll remember her good times at Pratt.

"She'll be the mistress of herself tho' China falls."

EARL, MARJORIE E. — Marge

33 Oakview Ave., Maplewood, N. J.

Class Secretary, 1931.

"Marge" is a good sport and full of fun. She goes in for some things very seriously. At present it is of going deeper into the art of Homemaking.

"Tho' loud the call of land most distant, 'tis Marge's voice that's most insistent."

FERRISS, ELSIE S. — Els

42 Maple Ave., Madison, N. J.

Elsie's pleasing personality and friendly smile have won her many friends among the Homemakers.

" 'Tis the world's wisdom thou art drinking up."

GERAGHTY, MONICA P. — Monica

228 Washington Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Vice-President, 1931.

Monica's Irish good nature is a valuable asset to her as our vice-president. That and Irish luck will bring her happiness later too, we hope.

"She moves a goddess, she looks a queen."

GRAHAM, VIOLET M. — Vi

Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Miss Graham, there's something wrong with that machine!" Violet is a low-voiced maiden who expresses her opinion on many subjects. Being a daughter of the Army she is quite patriotic.

"I, too, am a rare pattern."

HARE, NANCY McHENRY — Nance

Woodsdale, Wheeling, W. Va.

Home Economics Club Representative, 1931.

Nancy is the cosmopolitan of our class. She comes from Wheeling, lives in Greenwich Village, goes to school in Brooklyn and spends a week-end in Philly—now and then.

"Thy modesty's a candle to thy merit."

HERRIMAN, G. SHIRLEY — Shirl

1075 Bushwick Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Prattonia Representative, 1931.

Shirley is a broad-minded young lady, but has definite opinions on some subjects. As a chauffeur she deserves much praise.

"What e'er she did was done with so much ease, in her alone 'twas natural to please."

HOVELL, MYRTLE B. — Myrt

Box 354 Sound Beach, Conn.

Class President, 1931.

Myrtle embodies all the good things "little girls" should be made of; charm, pep, amiableness, a pleasing personality and a pack of fun.

"To see her is to love her—to know her is to love her more."

LAPPEUS, PRISCILLA G. Pris

21 Walnut St., Binghamton, N. Y.

We hear Priscilla, that you intend to help humanity through social service work. The girls in Child Care Class will vouch for your abilities along that line.

"We know little of thee, but that little is good."

MacGREGOR, CLARA T. Ta

514 West 2nd St., Dayton, Ohio

Although we know where Clara's heart is, we are very glad that she is with us this year. She is full of fun and so jolly.

"Favors to none, to all she smiles, extends oft' she rejects, but never once offends."

MEYER, RUTH M. Ridgy

247 76th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Treasurer, 1931.

Ruth seems to be vieing for honors held by another of our classmates, let's hope not 'cause Ruth is really much too nice.

"Ah me! She's quiet and looks demure, but get her going and you're not so sure."

TREMPER, ELINOR S. Elly

2697 Ocean Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Our petite blonde Homemaker, plenty of good fun and friendly spirit are her qualities. She makes the rule come true—"good things come in small packages."

"She needs no eulogy, she speaks for herself."

WALBRIDGE, KATHARINE Kay

316 Adams St., Toledo, Ohio

Class Treasurer, 1931.

Whoever wants a person to cheer them up, just call on Katharine. Whatever she does next year, we know she will be a great success.

A sunny disposition is half the battle.

WOOD, MARJORIE LOUISE Margie

147 Littleworth Lane, Sea Cliff, L. I., N. Y.

Woman's Club Representative.

Marjorie is more on the type of the "old fashioned girl." There's great charm in her shyness and sweetness.

"She is pretty, timid and gentle."

Man is Master only when he masters himself and the Evil one. This is one Glory. It is another Glory to be the servant of others, to have the world better for our living in it.

Be cheerful and have no regrets for the wasted or unused past, and never borrow trouble about the future; but do well the duty that is nearest to you in the present.

CHARLES PRATT

INSTITUTIONAL MANAGEMENT
1931

JOYOUS and elated were we on September 10, 1930, as we directed our way toward Pratt Institute. We congregated in Memorial Hall and listened to Mr. Howe and Miss Holloway, who enlightened us upon our duties.

We soon overcame the "Green" feeling that new students usually possess and adapted ourselves to our new routine. With this, we made new and fast acquaintances. This was due to the kindness of the faculty, who gave us a tea after our arrival and followed by another the following week. Soon after, we were present at a faculty party, where we became better acquainted with our instructors.

Time sped to Thanksgiving recess, and then, Christmas vacation, which was welcomed. Our experience in the restaurant ended at this time. It was very interesting to take care of the dinners given throughout the year and we missed it the second term. However, the second term held other interests—Field Trips. These were most enjoyable and educating.

Before we realized, we had our alumni banquet which was a success. We are looking forward to the prom and graduation. It didn't seem possible that the year had ended and we were prepared to take responsibilities. Every month held some mark of interest and that day in September when we ventured forth with great pride and assurance seemed only a dream. True enough we came to Pratt Institute to learn, and we hope to go out into the world and win laurels.

We did not only obtain good training, but also new and interesting acquaintances. We struggled together over obstacles; sometimes smiling, and sometimes, sighing. Nevertheless, we can truthfully say that we cherished the days spent at Pratt Institute.

CLASS OFFICERS

ALICE MORTON, President
HELEN CURRY, Vice-President
METHYL GIFFORD, Secretary
MARY DRAKE, Treasurer

BOOCK, FLORENCE M. — Florence

Crosby, N. D.

Florence is a faithful friend and a good sport. She will no doubt keep on with her good work.

BRASS, EMILY T. — Emily

989 Bushwick Ave., Brooklyn N. Y.

There she goes, and always with that certain pin hidden somewhere! I wonder why it is so important to carry it everywhere—Perhaps for protection!

BRENNAN, MARGARET E. — Margaret

124-25 Layton St., Elmhurst, L. I., N. Y.

Envied by all who sit and struggle in chemistry class. We are sure that Miss Brennan will be a success.

BROWN, BERTHA B. — Billy

Bath, Me.

"Billy" is a wonderful friend. She is always doing more than her share. Wherever she goes there are ructions. Whenever you hear bee'p bee'p you will know she is present.

BUCKLEY, ALBERTA R. — Alberta

Doverplains, N. Y.

Alberta saunters around class as if nothing were on her mind. If we didn't know her we would think her "don't-care" attitude was real.

BURT, DORIS A. Dorrie

4 Lyon St., Pawtucket, R. I.

A giggle here and a giggle there, pray who is raising all the disburbance? Why, none other than our "Dorrie" telling us about "Doctors and Durses."

CEDARWALL, HELEN, A. C. Honey

1443 Boulevard, West Hartford, Conn.

"Honey" is that sweet and demure girl who came into our class from the Dietetics. We were certainly glad to have her even though a little late.

CLARK, MRS. MAE M.

638 Fourth St., Springfield, Mass.

Introducing Mrs. Clark from Springfield, an earnest and diligent worker.

CURRIE, HELEN P. Helen

171 Abbe St., Springfield, Mass.

Class Vice President, 1931.

Here is a girl who takes things as they come and greets every knock as a boost, for she knows that earnest labor is never lost.

DAGAN, SARA A. Sally

R. F. D. No. 1, Shaker Rd., Watervliet, N. Y.

I wonder why "Sally" likes the lunch-room so well? Never mind, those bus boys are nice lads.

DEATRICK, ALICE — Al

5 Cayooga Pl., Forty Fort, Pa.

In the short time she spent with us, Alice's cheerful personality endeared her to her many friends. We are sure "Al's" perseverance will gain success for her in all she undertakes.

DEVLIN, IRENE C. — Irene

74 Eldert St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Irene is a very business-like young lady, with a pleasant smile, traveling along the road to success.

DRAKE, MARY B. — Jerry

246 Hancock St., Springfield, Mass.

Class Treasurer, 1931.

What? Why? When? Where?—If not? Why?!! Who is that girl asking those questions? Never mind, Mary, we all love you and wish you loads of love.

ENGLER, BERTHA — Bertha

52 St. Johannaspring; Basle, Switzerland

Bertha is successful in everything she undertakes. We know she will succeed whether here or abroad.

FRYDENBORG, HELEN D. — Helen

225 88th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

A good sport, a good pal, a good worker—but she has one weakness—food!!

GIFFORD, METHYL E. — Alky

29 Gordon St., Springfield, Mass.

Class Secretary, 1931.
What is that noise over in the corner of the Chemistry Lab? Why that is Methyl and her pals having a so-called tea party. Methyl is destined to a successful future.

GIGLIO, VITA — Vee

114 47th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

With those big black eyes, "Vee" ought to be able to get just about what she wants. Good luck!

GOODFELLOW, HELEN — Helen

51 Park St., Montclair, N. J.

Helen's artistic attitude makes us do what is necessary for ourselves and what would be nice for others. All the institutionals will certainly miss Helen for many years to come.

GROSS, ESTHER — Esther

62 Jefferson Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Esther is very quiet, but an earnest listener. May success come her way.

HAGAR, JOHANNA — Johanna

4229 No. St. Lewis Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A continuous worker—A friend to all—Here's to your success.

HILL, JULIA — Julia

Cambridge, N. Y.

Julia, in her one year at Pratt, won the hearts of all her classmates with her sweet smile and charming manner. We predict that her lovely personality will help her gain a place of value in any line she may follow.

HOUCK, DORIS L. — Ducky

263 Adams St., Tonawanda, N. Y.

Carefree and smiling is Doris and these characteristics have won her many friends. She has serious plans for the future. We are always with you, Doris!

LAWLOR, ALICE W. — Alice

42 Howe St., New Haven, Conn.

Cool and self-possessed, she has a keen sense of humor and is admired by all who know her.

LEMPERT, MARION — Marion

481 Main St., Lewiston, Me.

Marion is a modest and quiet girl, but we are sure she will be very successful—her meekness will account for it.

LUNDY, HELEN W. — Lundee

602½ Meeting St., Providence, R. I.

"Lundee" is the industrious girl of the class. She does not limit her work to school, but spends many of her spare moments at Alice Foote McDougal's. She is so ambitious.

MAXWELL, ELLIE R. Rae

20 Country St., Newport, R. I.

Petite, but peppy—her plans for the future are most interesting! Agree with us, "Rae?"

MORTON, ALICE M. Mickey

615 Turin Rd., Rome, N. Y.

Class President, 1931.
"Mickey" came to us from Cornell and we are all glad to have her. She was the best of many friends and the class certainly made a choice when they elected "Mickey", president.

MOYERMAN, IDA Ida

Oaklane, Pa.

Always bubbling forth with ready laughter and gay spirits, we hate to see Ida leave. We predict a successful future for her.

O'BRIEN, ALICE M. Alice

Antigonish, Nova Scotia, Can.

Alice is a quiet, friendly girl whom we all admire. She had won many friends at Pratt and we know her ambitions will be realized.

PATTERSON, LULA M. Lula

Chambersburg, Pa.

Miss Patterson is the dignified lady who has had more experience in this type of work than the rest of us, but, nevertheless, we were all glad to have her with us. She assisted many over stumbling blocks.

PETTEROSSI, ELVIS G. Pat

26 Devens St., Greenfield, Mass.

Prattonia Representative, 1931.

May we present you to our Prattonia representative, "Pat", who hails from Simmons College and is an all-around good sport and a popular member of our class. Best of luck to you, "Pat."

PIERCE, ELIZABETH S. Betty

Boston Post Rd., Madison, Conn.

"United we stand, divided we fall," for "Betty" is never seen without her pal, Bertha. Best wishes for an eventful future!

POTRUBATCH, MRS. HELANE Helen

Charamuy Tup. 2, Moscow, Russia

A competent worker. Although she had not yet mastered our interesting language, we know she will because of her eagerness.

RADZINSKY, MRS. EUGENIE Eugenia

Navaja Basmamuja 2 8/16, Moscow, Russia

She is happy-go-lucky and a very diligent worker. We were all pleased to have her with us and because of her winning smile, she has won many friends here in America.

RENDER, LENA P. Lena

1042 Morgan St., Meadville, Pa.

Lena is slow and easy-going—nothing seems to phase her. She has a most inventive mind, being rather artistically inclined. She has accomplished a great deal at Pratt.

ROURK, BERNICE E. — Bern

16 Gillespie St., Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

"Bern" is quite modest and keeps her classmates in perpetual laughter with her wit—whether in the restaurant, the locker rooms, or the park.

RULNICK, EVELYN L. — Evelyn

294 Enfield St., Hartford, Conn.

Evelyn is the one who is able to pull down A's in Chemistry. We would like to know your secret, Evelyn. Nevertheless, we wish you the best of luck.

RUTENBURG, MRS. NADEJDA A. — Nadjda

Paksavski Boulevard, 14/19, Moscow, Russia

After having studied in France, Switzerland and Germany, we were glad indeed to have Mrs. Rutenburg come to America. She is very industrious and has won a host of friends at Pratt Institute.

SEIDLER, GERTRUDE J. — Trudy

8718 135th St., Richmond Hill, L. I., N. Y.

"Trudy" is the fashion plate. Can she wear clothes? A glance at her and that question would be answered. "Trudy" is getting to be quite the horsewoman!

SHELLBERG, ELSA A. — Shelly

32 Bush St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Who is that neat appearing person always ready to help a friend in need? None other than "Shelly"! She is one of the few who is loved by all.

SMART, BERNEDA — Berneda

961 Ellsworth Ave., Columbus, Ohio

Berneda was one of Pratt's hardest working girls and is a wonderful example of what one could do to achieve an end. She had a very cheerful disposition and success awaits her.

VANDERVORT, CLARA — Clara

Jamestown, Ohio

With perseverance like Clara's, success is not far away. No matter what you do, Clara, we are always with you whether great or small.

WARNER, ELOISE C. — Christy

405 Main St., Suffield, Conn.

"Christy" is that jolly good sport who is everyone's pal. She is known among her classmates for her wit and humor. We all wish her the best of luck.

WICKMAN, TAINIE A. — Tiny

West Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y.

"Tiny" is happy-go-lucky and greets everyone with a smile. Does she like to dance?—Ask us, we should know!

WILLARD, LILLIAN V. — Lil

Middleville, N. Y.

"Lil" is one of our popular members, full of fun and always ready to do her share. We know she will reach her goal.

WILLETS, MARY A. — Mary

Netcang, N. J.

Mary is very sweet and demure. Seldom does she join in the hilarity of her classmates, but we all know she is a good sport and will do exceedingly well in whatever she undertakes.

WILLIAMS, NATALIE E. — Nat

111 12 106th St., Ozone Park, L. I., N. Y.

"Nat" is the type who chooses her friends. Even though she is rather quiet, her red hair and winning smile have won her many friends in the C. I. B. class.

WILSON, LYDIA P. — Lydia

Hackettstown, N. J.

Lydia is jolly and good natured. She has a cheery smile which we know has won her many friends. Opportunity will surely knock at her door.

ZIMMERMAN, ELINOR J. — Elinor

50 East 120th St., New York, N. Y.

Elinor is that sweet girl whom everyone likes to know. She is an exceptionally good student and most interesting—rushing here and there!

Learn to occupy yourself in manual labor. I am anxious to impress upon your minds the value of learning to be skillful in the use of your hands as a source of that quiet enjoyment which an active brain needs.

Seek the counsel of persons more experienced; then act on your own judgment. If in doubt, wait.

CHARLES PRATT

DRESSMAKING
1931

SEPTEMBER 1930 after a good vacation and full of the urge to do big things, the Dressmaking class of "31" was launched on a year of hard work—not unmixed with thought.

After the first few days of entrance exams, over which we discovered we had fretted unnecessarily, getting supplies and trying to grope our way through the mystifying halls, which is Pratt. Leaving our class rooms and then trying to find our way back, we settled down to real hard work, and I mean work; not just using a needle. There were conference lectures to attend, design class to prepare for, embroidery, and power machines. We mustn't forget "gym" class. No, it isn't all sewing.

Before we knew it Thanksgiving recess was upon us and then a very short while after came Christmas vacation and a much needed rest.

Back to classes again with the Holiday Spirit and "St. Nick" still with us—we buckled down again. By this time we were actually making things we could wear, and that was an accomplishment!

Towards the end of January we were packed up, after just about acquainting ourselves with our first instructor, and moved to a new room with a new leader. Oh, the beginning of a new term!

Very soon we began work on the Wanamaker Fashion Show,—what excitement, hustle and bustle! Much midnight oil was burned while putting in the last stitches. It was worth it all to see the results of our labors on display.

Suddenly, our year is over—a white certificate tied with a ribbon, a sermon, graduation, and we are full-fledged dressmakers.

We have had a happy time here—made new friendships, some we will never forget and we thank the faculty for working with us.

We're wishing all the luck in the world to our fellow "grads" and a big bundle of encouragement to the ones who will be "grads" next year.

CLASS OFFICERS

ISABELLA M. GERMINO, President DOROTHY BRANDRETH, Secretary
ANNA G. GEORGE, Treasurer

BRANDRETH, DOROTHY — Dot

430 Prospect St., Nutley, N. Y.

Class Secretary, 1931; Basketball, 1931; Hockey, 1931.

Every class has its man-hater and "Dot's" ours. But what we can't figure out is what the blushes are for.

BROWNE, WINIFRED — Winnie

74 Wilsey St., Newark, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1931.

"Winnie" is quiet as can be, and does she work? She'll do her sewing on Main Street yet!

CHAFFIE, MADALINE — Sunny

Joomis, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1931.

What is that bright spot in room 26?—Why that's "Sunny" Have you ever seen her sad?—No sir!

CHASE, HELEN L. — Helen

60 Revere St., Waterbury, Conn.

Volleyball, 1931; Basketball, 1931.

We consider Mr. Chase a mighty lucky man! You would too if you knew Helen.

CLARK, KATHERINE — Kay

446 E. 3rd Ave., Roselle, N. J.

Swimming, 1931.

After the first few months of commuting from Roselle to Brooklyn "Kay" decided to move over here but something in Jersey seems to have changed her mind.

CRAWFORD, ANNIE LEE — Annie

1606 Edgefield Ave., Aiken, S. C.

Volleyball, 1931.

South Carolina certainly sent us a "keen young lady" when they let us have Annie Lee!

DREW, HONORIA — Honey

25 Carroll St., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Room Chairman, 1931; Women's Club Representative, 1931; Swimming, 1931.

Here is a true friend for you—just as sweet as her name. She doesn't bother with men—she's busy in Poughkeepsie.

EVERITT, DOROTHY — Dot

164-13 89th Ave., Jamaica, L. I., N. Y.

Swimming, 1931; Basketball, 1931.

"Dot's" about the sweetest kid you ever met—"a darn good sport" and what luck she will bring "one" man someday!

FERRIGNO, ANNE — Anne

289 Greenfield St., Hartford, Conn.

Volleyball, 1931.

Have you ever heard Anne sing? If you haven't, you've missed something good.

FOREMAN, JOANNA — Joanna

343 No. Illinois Ave., Atlantic City, N. J.

Volleyball, 1931.

You can see Joanna flitting about class anytime. If she didn't have her finger in the pie it wouldn't taste right.

FOYE, SARA — Sally

Milford, Mass.

Swimming, 1931.

Sally has a smile for every stitch she takes—even the ones she rips out.

GEORGE, ANNA — Ann

737 E. 93rd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class Treasurer, 1931; Prattonia Representative, 1931; Hockey, 1931.

When in doubt, ask "Ann," she will be perfectly willing to give you her advice. She's a good sport too!

GERMINO, ISABELLA — Isabel

1037 80th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class President, 1931; Student Advisory Board, 1931; Hockey, 1931.

You'll have to travel further than a few miles to find a truer friend and a better sport than Isabel.

HAGEN, ELIZABETH E. — Betty

81 Knollwood Ave., Huntington, L. I., N. Y.

Swimming, 1931.

If "Betty" left us we'd be minus a peach of a girl. We'd like to keep her forever but Huntington likes her too!

HICKS, HAZEL — Hake

266 Genessee Ave., Englewood, N. J.

Volleyball, 1931.

She believes in standing up for her own ideas—and she's not always wrong either! More power to you, "Hake!"

HUSBAND, DOROTHY — Dottie

Lakewood Rd., Jamestown, N. Y.

Class Treasurer, 1930; Swimming, 1931.
"Dottie" has a passion for walking in late but, perhaps she has a real reason now. Jamestown is a long way off when your interests are there.

KOKEHI, MRS. MIDORI — Midori

Tokio, Japan

Many a time we wished we knew what our Midori was saying to Kuni in Japanese. I'll bet they've talked us all over.

LEACH, HELEN — Helen

12 Rodney Rd., Scarsdale, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1931.
Very quiet and reserved except when something annoys her.

MACIOROWSKI, LILLIAN — Lillian

142 Riverdale Ave., Yonkers, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1931.
Lillian is a good conscientious worker and she deserves the best success. Plus this—she has one of the best dispositions in the class.

MADISON, ANNE H. — Kitty

91 Congress St., Charlestown, S. C.

Volleyball, 1931.
"Kitty" is the original novelty maker, you know. By the way "Kitty," for whom were all those pillows?

MONSO, ROSE — Rose

1858 W. 8th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Neighborship Association Representative, 1931; Hockey, 1931.

"Still waters run deep"—exactly describes our Rose. When there's work to be done, she's quite a serious person but she doesn't forget to find time to be gay.

MURRAY, ALMA — Alma

1857 3rd St., Washington, D. C.

Hockey, 1931.

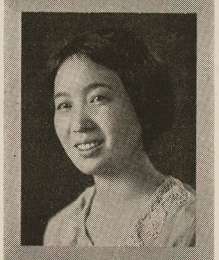

Our Alma never rushes, don't rush her. But isn't she the best natured kid?

NESTLE, ALBERTA — Alberta

Illion, N. Y.

Alberta loves to talk, in fact she's "100% talkie," but you'll find its usually worthwhile to listen. Her ideas are quite interesting.

OKAMOTO, KUNI — Kuni

Tokio, Japan

"I think so" is Kuni's favorite expression. She is a sweet little cut up and we certainly have had happy times with her.

PEEBLES, MADALINE — Mat

22 Lexington Ave., Montclair, N. J.

Hockey, 1931.

Keep at it, "Mat." You'll prove your point of view to Miss Clark someday. And whatever you do, don't lose your wit and good humor.

POSSIEL, EDNA — Edna

482 West Side Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

Hockey, 1931.

To a passerby Edna is a quiet little miss but when she gets started there's no end to her wit.

QUACKENBUSH, LYDIA — Peggy

42 Parsons Ave., Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1931.

"Peggy" never has much to say but she is well liked by all who know her. And you should see the work she gets done!

RANDALL, HELEN — Helen

297 Argyle Rd., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Room Chairman, 1931; Volleyball, 1931.

If there weren't any men here what a terrible place Pratt would be. One reason why gentlemen prefer blondes.

RESSAGUE, EVELYN A. — Ev

Brookside Ave., Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Hockey, 1931.

Can't you move "Lehigh" to Pratt, "Ev"? "Ev's" a peach of a kid and we know.

RIEBER, MARIE — Marie

151 Sunnyside Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Class President, 1930; Student Advisory Board, 1930; Prattonia Representative, 1930; Volleyball, 1930-31.

If you want a true friend and pal—here she is. Marie's a mighty fine girl.

ROOT, HARRIET L. — Harry

359 Central Ave., New Haven, Conn.

Swimming, 1931.

And here is the other reason why gentlemen prefer blondes. "Little Miss Importance" but isn't she sweet?

SALTZMAN, MURIEL — Muriel

5206 Tilden Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1931.

Who won the last argument, Muriel? Of course Muriel means well, but you know you can't always be right.

SCHNEIDER, HENRIETTA N. — Lola

417 Beach 121st St., Rockaway Beach, L.I., N. Y.

Hockey, 1931.

A nice young girl—a student "Flap." Who goes thru Pratt without mishap.

SCHOENFELD, ROSLYND A. — Skippy

1555 President St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Volleyall, 1931.

According to "Skippy" she hails from all parts of the United States but actually—she's a Brooklyn girl. You can't tell when you're being "strung."

SCOTT, JUANITA — Nita

582 St. Nicholas Ave., New York, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1931.

Don't attempt to show her the correct way—its been tried, but it didn't work. She's a good kid though and don't you believe otherwise.

SEINFELD, JULIA — Julie

1773 E. 23rd St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Volleyball, 1931.

You'll never get anywhere unless you ask questions —and "Julie" knows it. She's "Skippy's" shadow you know.

STAETH, ANNA — Ann

North Maine St., East Hampton, Conn.

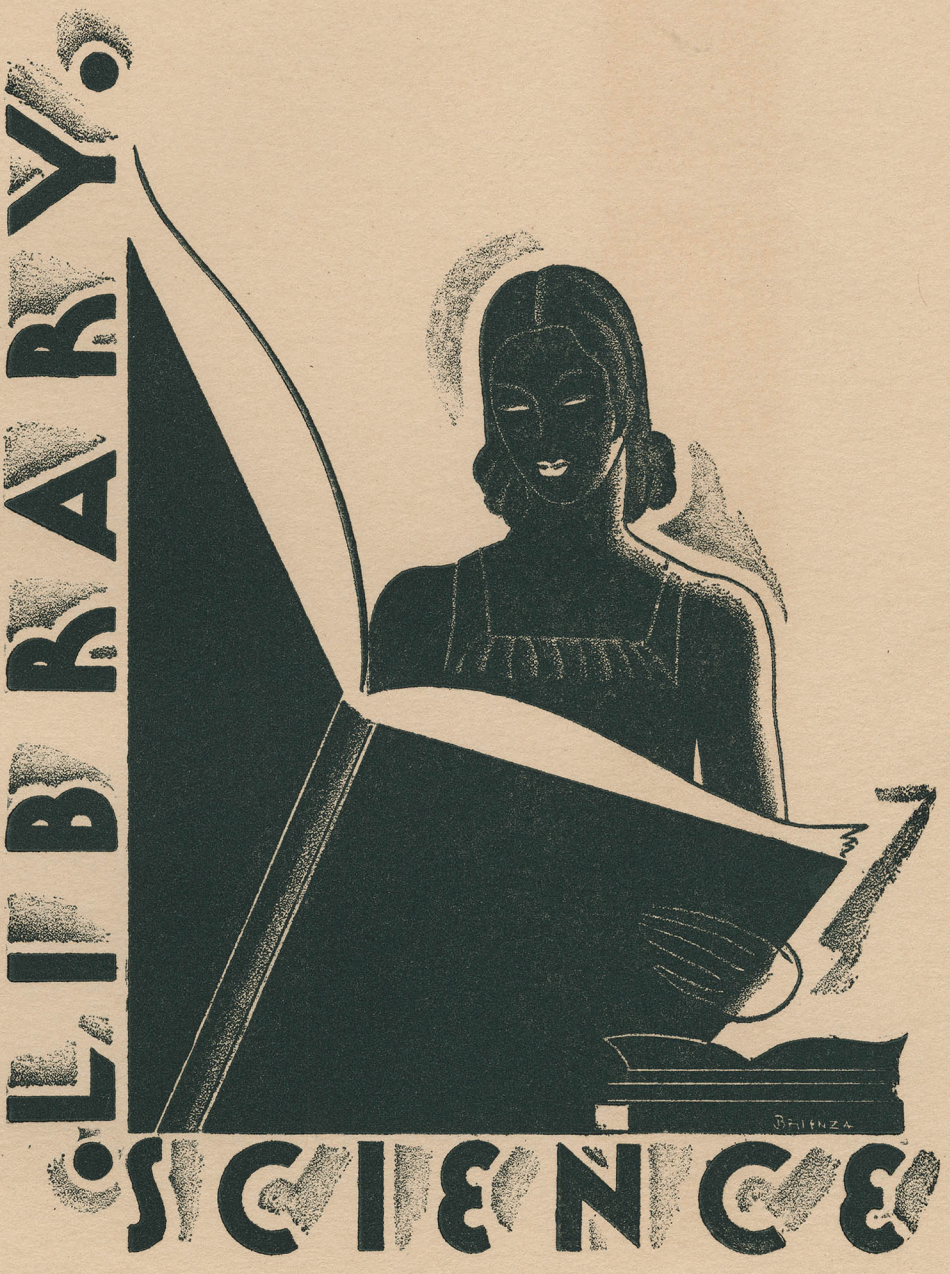

Don't worry about your technique, "Ann," you'll get there. No matter when you meet her she is always the same toward you.

WEST, MARY O. — Mary

Bayport, L. I., N. Y.

Hockey, 1931.

Generosity seems to be Mary's specialty. She is ready to do things for you, not just once in awhile, but always.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

THE LIBRARY AND SCHOOL OF LIBRARY SCIENCE

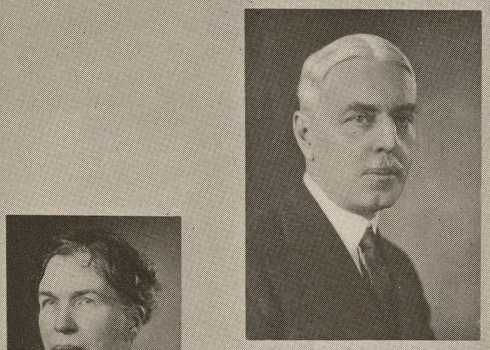

TO the Prattonia the Pratt Institute Free Library is essentially the Library of Pratt Institute, the Library of each of the four Schools individually and collectively. With specialized departments equipped and manned for the explicit use of the students and instructors of the several Schools, the Library is constituted to be in the best sense an institutional Library, supplementing the work of every classroom and laboratory.

It has also the almost unique distinction as being a free library for everyone, addressed to the needs of the city and community as well as of the Institute by the purpose of the Founder, as a "free library for the people of Brooklyn," developing a general collection of books for circulation and reference.

A third element of the Library's organization and activity is of supreme importance. It is the School of Library Science for the professional training of young men and women for the librarian's career. The Pratt Library School in point of continuous operation under the same auspices with unchanged policy is the oldest library school in the country. It offers a one year's course of intensive training to a limited and selected group of students endowed with serious purpose.

The three-fold function of the work conducted in the library building, which stands by itself within the gates of the park, is not in any sense separate from the larger work across the street. It is unified as a complete and well-rounded entity, which belongs to Pratt Institute, all the more, that it serves every School as if it were its own exclusive Library.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARY SCIENCE
1931

TO us,—this has been a year of years. Each day has been a new adventure,—each week, in retrospect, was nicer than the week before,—and every month has sped with incredible swiftness. Until, here we are, approaching the third term of the school year, a little breathless when we think of all that has happened to us,—but with more of a sense of working together as a class.

We are very conscious of, and grateful for, the unfailing patience of our instructors. Consider the first few classes of current topics, or cataloguing, or of fiction seminar, or from an instructor's point of view, consider even the last few! And some of us are dumb in some classes, and some of us are vocal in all classes! Let us therefore offer hearty thanks to those who have borne with us, so patiently, so wisely, and so well.

We are twenty-four in number, Russia, India and Mexico represent the far limits of our earth. Our interests are as varied as our modes of speech excepting the one interest which brought us together,—the Library! Many things have been happening to us. Class lectures have stimulated our interest, enthusiasm and imagination. The reception given by the Graduate Association gave us a sense of past glory and we hope of glory yet to come.

Perhaps the highest moment of the year came at the alumni luncheon given us at the Hotel McAlpin. Not only was it a most charming occasion, long to be remembered, but it was there that we learned that Miss Rathbone is to be the next President of the American Library Association! No more thrilling event could possibly have happened and we feel that as a class we are particularly fortunate to be here this year. We are all enjoying the reflected glory which comes from our delightful association with her.

And now we go forth upon the spring trip, secure in the knowledge that high adventure lies just ahead.

CLASS OFFICERS

NANCY WRIGHT, President SYLVIA HILTON, Secretary-Treasurer

AKRAMOFF, IGOR J. — Igor

St. Petersburg, Russia

He's made himself deservedly popular with us all. Who could resist Old Russia, music—and melancholy charm?

ANTHONY, JOSEPHINE — Josephine

11 Harrison St., Taunton, Mass.

Prattonia Representative, 1931.

She wrote you all up in the Prattonia—and oh! how she suffered! She hopes her grin has helped you to bear it.

BAKER, ELINOR — Elinor

57 Madison Ave., Madison, N. J.

An awfully jolly person, bubbling over with fun. India gives her an unusual and interesting background. Most of the class now speaks Hindustan.

BALCH, RUTH — Ruth

287 High St., Newburyport, Mass.

A friendly child who typifies New England reserve. She says she "likes everything outdoors" and we knew she did. She blooms with riotous good health.

BINNS, CONSTANCE — Constance

130 E. 91st St., New York, N. Y.

She came in on a Scholarship—but she didn't get grand about it. She goes her way, quietly and serenely, and she's always sure to arrive!

CHAVEZ, MARIA TERESA — Maria

Mexico City, Mexico

Her warmth of personality and charming friendliness have endeared her to us all. We are very happy to have had her with us this year.

COUCH, GEORGIA — Georgia

Durham, North Carolina

A very quiet humor—a nice reticence, and she misses very little! Also—she has a fondness for solitaire at odd moments!

DELVIGNE, MILDRED — Mildred

243 Ryerson St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

She has a keen enthusiasm for people and an eager desire to get at the truth of things. An unusually friendly person.

FIELD, HELEN R. — Helen

74 High St., Greenfield, Mass.

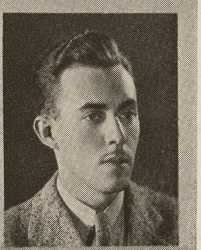

Another New Englander—well-educated, well read, and widely travelled. Her memory is the envy of us all.

HART, RICHARD — Richard

Baltimore, Md.

A simply astounding fund of information about everything under the sun. The class genius, "per se"!

HELLEN, MRS. DOROTHY H. — Dorothy

Billings, Mont.

She has an unfailing zest for life. All things (including caviare) and almost all people (including us) amuse her one way or another.

HERRICK, MARJORY — Marg

304 E. Ave., Newark, N. J.

She thinks much more than she talks. We wish we knew more of what she thinks. We have an idea that all things modern intrigue her.

HILTON, SYLVIA — Sylvia

Yarmouth, Nova Scotia

Class Secretary-Treasurer, 1931.

The kind of person we all know we can depend upon —at all times. We predict a most successful library career for her.

HOLMES, FLORENCE — Florence

70 Park St., Montclair, N. J.

We appreciate the nice quality of her mind, and her unfailing taste. She admits to a passion for antiques.

LUCIOLI, CLARA E. — Clara

7405 Franklin Blvd., Cleveland, Ohio

Our youngest—who is full of fun and whose point of view is constantly refreshing.

MEERDINK, DORIS — Doris

Roll, Ariz.

Prattonia Secretary, 1931.

It takes earnestness of purpose to come all the way from Arizona, and we're glad she came!

POPE, MRS. LOUISE F. — Louise

Macon, Ga.

Sincerity, gentility and reserve make up the harmonious personality of Mrs. Pope.

SCHROEDER, DOROTHY M. — Dorothy

402 6th Ave., Pelham, N. Y.

One of our youngest. A conscientious and industrious student. A good scout, and on the honor list. "Bravo!"

SMITH, MARTHA G. — Martha

Marion, S. Carolina

Her poise and her attractive voice typify the charm of the South.tl Brass buttons have a never failing attraction for her.

SNODGRASS, MARY LOUISE — Mary

Kissimmee, Fla.

Women's Club Representative, 1931.

When Mary Louise beams on us, we all spontaneously beam straight back at her. Another, on the honor list!

THRALL, ROSALIE — Rosalie

720 Gimghoul Rd., Chapel, N. C.

Jolly and capable. Sagacious and with a keen sense of values. One of our honor students.

WILLIAMS, WINNIE LEE — Winnie

Mullins, S. C.

Truly a Southerner calling to mind lazy days of sunshine, cotton fields and watermelons. And her name is Winnie Lee!

WOLFE, MAUDE E. — Maude

1246 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

An individualist, who has the courage of her convictions, and is always willing to discuss ideals and ideas.

WRIGHT, NANCY L. — Nancy

164 Hillside St., Asheville, N. C.

Class President, 1931.

We made her our president and she has the graciousness and dignity which make us proud of her!

Always be at work. There is no pleasure or profit in idleness. Plenty of work is better than wealth without it.

Happiness is not measured by the amount of money one has. Neither does money as a rule contribute to happiness so much as the habit of contentment purchased by a busy life.

CHARLES PRATT

GALE
THE SOCIAL WHIRL

SOCIALLY SPEAKING

This school year has been a great success socially. Our many dances in Recreation Hall and the Friday Night dancing after the basket-ball games has proved to us what good times may be had at these weekly affairs. We can say this year that we have had a greater response to our social functions than ever before and by far exceeding those of last year.

September 19—The Boilermakers started the ball rolling as has been the custom in previous years by giving the first dance of the school year. On this occasion both new and old students had the opportunity of making new acquaintances. All of us agree that the evening was most successful.

October 17—A popular dance of the year was that given by the Student Council. With our "Melody Boys" from the Mechanical class and the Pratt Pirate Orchestra a large crowd gathered to spend an enjoyable evenings entertainment.

October 31—The proper setting of witches and broomsticks, black cats, Jack O' Lanterns and ghosts prevailed at our Halloween dance given by the Athletic Association in Recreation Hall. Everyone seemed to be right at home in this setting and all agreed they were ready for more Pratt dances.

February 7—The Artmen's promise of one of the greatest social events of the year was fulfilled. The Greenwich Village Dance was set in an atmosphere truly Bohemian. It seemed to us a mellow picture painted with soft lights, fine music and gay laughter emphasized by high lights of rapid sketch artists, Apache Dancers, colorful vocal numbers and clever decorations.

February 14—How the hearts did flutter at the Junior Dietitians Valentine Dance—perhaps in more ways than one, who knows? However the girls proved their capability by giving a most enjoyable dance.

April 10—We always look forward to the Senior Architects dance as the outstanding class dance of the year. The originality which they displayed in concealing the orchestra was unique while another feature of the evening was the continuous dancing from nine 'til one o'clock.

April 17—The Paletteers "Red Dagger Dance"—Flashes, darkness, thrills and hallucinations. These were the keynotes to the setting. The mysterious incidents which took place during the entire evening were "awful".—Even the crowd appeared and vanished in an elusive fashion.—Here's a challenge for the Paletteers of 1932!

We are now looking forward to the Senior Prom which will be held on May 22. Last year's Senior Prom which was a combined dance of all the Senior classes proved to be such an overwhelming success that it is to be repeated again this year. We are more than sure it will be a greater success for everyone has been looking forward to it with great anticipation.

STUDENT COUNCIL, 1931

STUDENT COUNCIL
1931

THE purpose of the Student Council is to promote and encourage all student activities connected with the school, and to develop and maintain the interest of the students in these activities.

The 1930-31 class Presidents have aided in fulfilling this purpose by keeping the entire student body informed of the various activities, arousing their enthusiasm and instilling in them Pratt spirit.

The Council started the year with an informal social at the Women's Club which was followed a few weeks later by an all Pratt evening dance.

Several afternoon dances served to bring the students of the different schools together. Pep meetings, sponsored by the Student Council, were held at the opening of the Basketball season filling Memorial Hall with cheers of enthused students.

The Glee Club which was reorganized a year ago under the supervision of the Student Council is making rapid strides. This year the combined clubs gave several delightful concerts under the direction of Mr. Tebbs. The clubs have also helped in improving the attendance at the Thursday noon services in Memorial Hall.

An advertising rally was held to stimulate student interest in the drive for a new and modern swimming pool. This drive is one of the most difficult tasks that the Student Council has undertaken. It is hoped that students will support this drive even after they have become alumni.

Again this year, the Council took the responsibility of working out plans for a Senior Prom and this dance is now undoubtedly a fixed part of the graduation program of the school.

We are happy to say that there has been a marked improvement during the last few years in attendance at all school functions and we feel that this has been largely due to the efforts of this representative body. The Council of 1931 wishes the Council of 1932 success in all their undertakings.

CLASS OFFICERS

LARS E. JOHNSON, President ARTHUR C. HARPER, JR., Vice-President
ABIGAIL J. PENNELL, Secretary-Treasurer

GLEE CLUB

THE Glee Club has become one of the biggest activities in Pratt after but two years of life. This growth is due primarily to the excellent leadership of Mr. Leroy Tebbs. His sincerity and good nature have made membership in the club a real joy.

This year, early in the season, we gave a concert which was so successful that it warranted our production of "Mikado"—the much beloved Gilbert-Sullivan operetta. During the interim between these productions we entertained the faculty and students with a free noon hour program that was enthusiastically received.

OFFICERS

Women's Club

DOROTHY V. MEYER, President CHARLOTTE SCHLEIFER, Secretary

Men's Club

RUSSELL S. DIXON, President EJNAR JOHNSON, Vice-President
EDWARD N. DITTMER, Secretary & Treasurer

THE CAMERA CLUB

FOR the first time in Pratt history, photography has been recognized as an activity, with the formation of the Camera Club. The importance of photography as an aid to many of the professions is being more consciously realized. It was with the idea that students should have the opportunity to practice photography as a help in their work, that the Camera Club was formed.

Credit in founding the club goes to Mr. Eugen Petersen, who, as our adviser and director, is responsible for the club's activities.

OFFICERS

BORIS A. COOKE, Chairman EUGEN H. PETERSEN, Faculty Adviser
GEORGE C. V. THOMPSON, Vice-Chairman and Treasurer

WOMEN'S CLUB

THE Women's Club has had a most enjoyable program this year. The Club has strived to be a constant service to the women students as well as being a social contact among them.

Our executive board has done much to organize many pleasant socials throughout the year and the splendid supper menus under the direction of Miss Helen Parker were another source of enjoyment. At each meeting we have had a speaker for the evening as our guest. Among those who have honored us were Mr. Edward F. Stevens, Head of our School of Library Science, Miss Georgia Everest a member of the Art School Faculty and several others of note.

If it were not for the untiring cooperation of the students as a whole, these meetings would have been useless. Due to the interest of the club members we consider the year of 1931 a worthwhile period in the life of the club.

OFFICERS

HONORIA R. DREW, President ROSE C. MacDERMID, Vice-President
SHIRLEY L. HOLLOWAY, Secretary and Treasurer

MEN'S CLUB

UNDER the able guidance of Mr. Wright, the Men's Club is the gathering place for the men of the Institute. Here, at noon and evening, the students can get together and enjoy the pleasures of the Club.

On the main floor are found the club rooms furnished with easy chairs and lounges. All around the walls are the trophies won by various classes. Here, one may indulge in the latest magazines, or if he feels he needs some mental exercise, checkers and chess boards are on hand. On the ground floor are located the bowling alleys where much interest is shown in big pins and duck pins. The second floor is equipped with several pool and billiard tables which see much use. The third floor contains the famous P.I. Lunch.

OFFICERS

JOHN W. FORSYTH, President FRANK BOEMERMEN, Vice-President
E. O. SALMONSEN, Secretary

DESK MEN

JOHN A. HOAG HARRY McMANUS JR.

THE PALETTEERS

THE program of the Paletteers has been doubly successful this year, first in the fine cooperation of the executive board, and second the varied types of programs carried out. Benefit has been derived both socially and educationally through the untiring efforts of our special committees.

The lecture committee under the direction of Anna Corbett had done much for our educational place. Among the artists who have spoken to us are John Petrina and Alon Beninent. Our field trips to the New School of Social Research and the Hampton Shops gave us a very clear insight into the art of the day.

We, the Paletteer officers of 1931, extend to the officers of 1932 our very best wishes for success in their entire program.

OFFICERS

ELIZABETH Y. BELL, President — SHIRLEY L. HOLLOWAY, Secretary
ELIZABETH G. HUKILL, V.-President — HARRIET A. DeLONG, Treasurer
GEORGIA EVEREST, Honorary President

THE ARTSMEN

A HEALTHY spirit of cooperation in all Artsmen activities has brought about such successful results as are unprecedented in the annals of the organization.

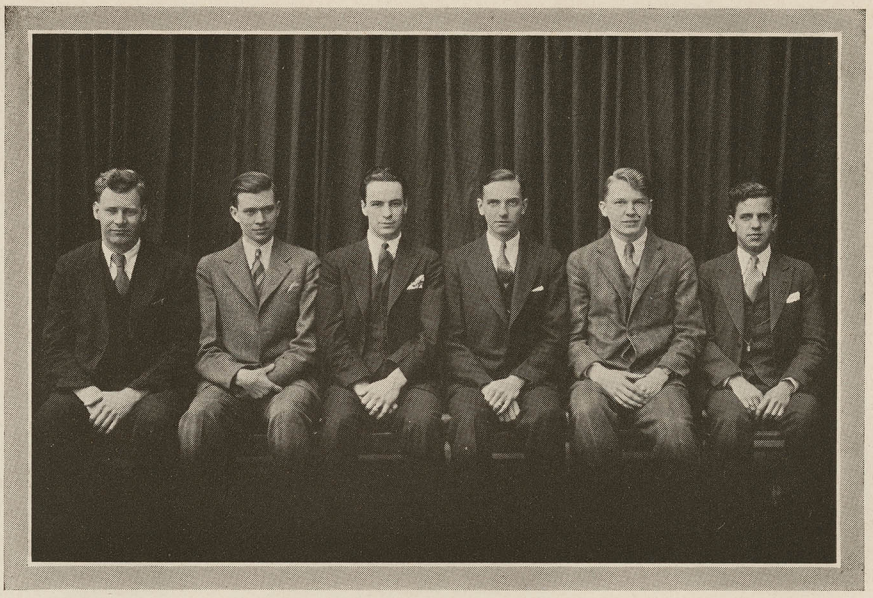

Under George F. Barton's able supervision the year has been a social triumph. The Artsmen-Paletteer Howdy Dance took the lid off; the Howdy Banquet was great; but the Villiage Dance reached the very heights . . . . and there are two or three surprises coming.

Educationally, Robert A. Lynds has worked hard to get us the finest of speakers and exhibitions.

We must mention Henry Shire and his committee men as a tribute to a job well done. Henry handled all decorations and publicity expertly.

OFFICERS

JOSEPH CHASIN, President — H. WESTON CONANT, Secretary
JOSEPH CASCIO, Vice-President — ANDREW CELLA, Treasurer
WILLIAM LONGYEAR, Honorary President

THE ARCHITECTS

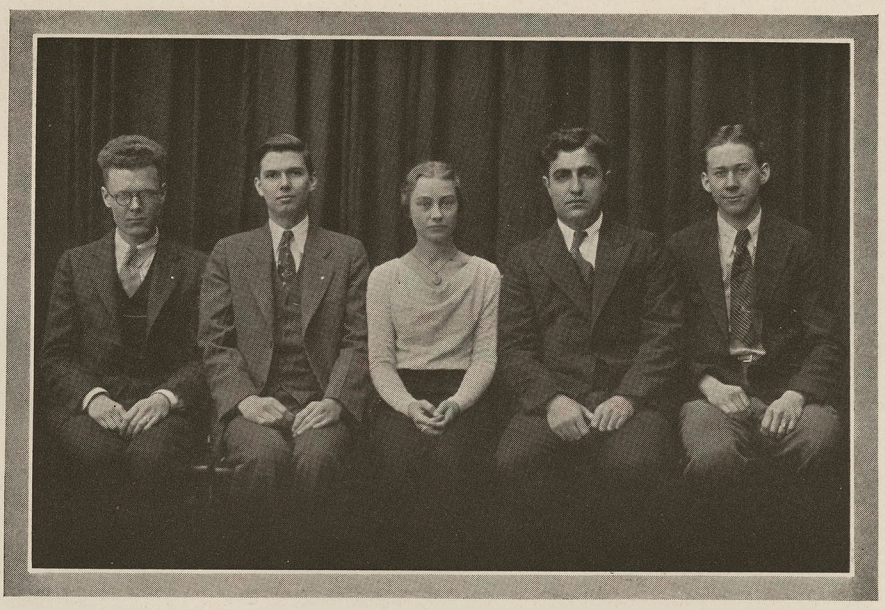

SINCE the founding of "The Architects" two years ago, the organization has grown with such rapidity as to become one of Pratt's leading student organizations.

Two new instructors were added to our roster during the past year. Mr. Kritz is now instructing the construction section and Mr. Floyd Yewell gave a series of valuable lectures on water color rendering.

We are indebted to Mr. Frank O. Price for his valued help as our adviser. He greeted each new project and idea with an enthusiasm that sometimes exceeded our own.

OFFICERS

GEORGE W. LEWIS, Pres.
GEORGE THOMSON, 1st Vice-Pres.
CLAYTON H. RUECKERT, 2nd Vice-Pres.
ROBERT WALLAN, 3rd Vice-Pres.
FREDERICK AMUNDSON, Secy.
A. LESLIE JACOBSON, Treas.

THE MARIONETTE CLUB

THE marionette play, entitled "Doctor Faust," given under the direction of H. Weston Conant was well received by those who attended. Encouraged by this success, the members of the cast and those connected with the production have formed The Marionette Club.

The purpose of this organization is to continue puppetry at Pratt Institute. There is an indefinite amount of educational and artistic gain in participating in such an organization. Elocution, drama, design, costume design and craft work are among the instructive activities. There is also a unique joy of distinctive achievement in the event of a successful performance such as that of "Doctor Faust."

We hope that interested members of the art school will join us and that future classes will produce enthusiastic individuals to perpetuate the life of this interesting and instructive club.

OFFICERS

JEREMIAH H. BEDIAN, President — GRACE H. HANSEN, Secretary
H. WESTON CONANT, Honorary President — READE CLARKE, Treasurer

THE ARTISANS

MRS. Mary Lou Evans began the Artisans in 1928 for the purpose of bringing the students in contact with people who have attained success in the field of design. Though a small organization and not of long standing, the club is fulfilling its purpose. Several interesting speakers were obtained during the course of the year for whom teas were given at the Women's Club on Willoughby Avenue. Among the most prominent were Miss Henrietta Harman and Madame Miriam Bouslogne.

At the time of the annual Alumnae banquet of the Household Science and Arts School a contribution to the Student Loan Fund was given by the club.

The Artisans extend their best wishes for a successful year to those of 1931-32.

OFFICERS

KATHERINE MURPHY, Vice-President — NANCYE FLEMING, Treasurer
HENRIETTA HARMAN, Honorary President

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

THE Home Economics Club is a student organization of the National Home Economics Club organized to interest students of Home Economics, so that upon graduation, they will become affiliated with the National Club and receive its benefits.

It is the custom every year for the Student Club of Pratt Institute to give a tea, to which all the clubs of High Schools in New York and Brooklyn are invited. As many students as possible attend this activity, which is always looked forward to as a very successful affair. Other social activities that take place during the year, are dances, teas and dinners.

Students of the Household Science and Arts School automatically become members of the Student Club of Pratt Institute upon enrollment.

PRATT INSTITUTE BRANCH AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

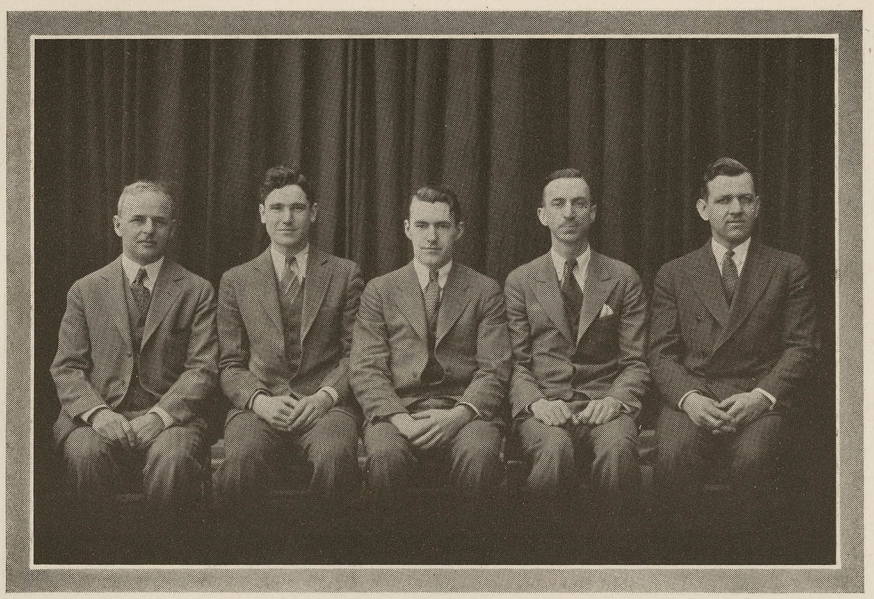

THE electrical classes were organized in 1901 under the name of Pratt Institute Electrical Association. In 1930 the Electrical Association became affiliated with the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at which time it became a branch of that institution.

The Student Branch, conducted entirely by the students provides an opportunity for its members to present and discuss technical papers before an audience.

The officers and Counsellor thank the members for their excellent support during the past year. They also wish the class of 1932 all possible success in their individual problems and in the carrying on of work of their Student Branch.

STUDENT BRANCH OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

THE Pratt Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers stands high in activity and accomplishment in the ten Student Branches affiliated with the Senior Society. This branch has collaborated with the Senior Society since 1923, formerly existing as The Industrial Mechanical Engineering Association.

At approximately twenty-four meetings held through the year, students present papers on subjects of technical interest. Two primary objects of the society are to give its members the opportunity of speaking before an audience and becoming familiar with the many phases of engineering.

The officers and members of the society wish the succeeding members even greater success than that of this year.

WOHLER CHEMICAL SOCIETY

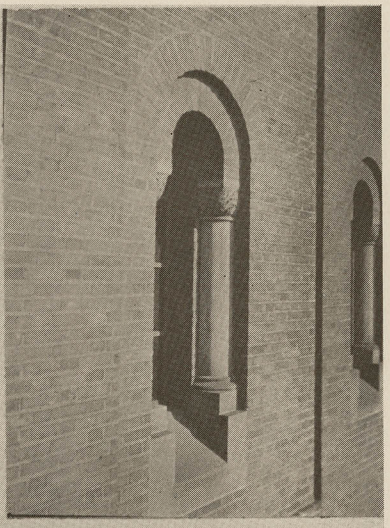

THE Wohler Society opened its current year with a smoker for the first year students of the Chemistry class. During the ensuing year the Society offered to the students, various forms of activities, such as smokers, a closed formal dance and a banquet. The Wohler dance is an especially brilliant affair, and is held annually for the Chemistry students and the alumni. The Wohler Society plays an important part in the presentation of the S. & T. Convention.

ATHLETICS

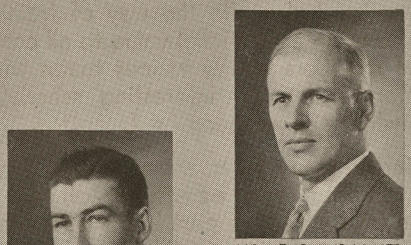

The program of athletics at Pratt Institute conspires to contribute something to the quality of life among its students in the way of training and recreation, which must inevitably be of an educational value to all concerned. The intimate personal contacts of members of the various teams with each other, the social intercourse afforded by our interesting schedules, are bright spots in the lives of many which will not soon be forgotten.

While our facilities are limited in many ways, every man at the beginning of his course is urged to get into some activity or other. A very creditable percentage of our men take an active part in our sports program either varsity or inter-class. With larger facilities, still larger groups would be afforded opportunity which is now lacking. This year through necessity, tennis was discontinued after having been popular for many years as a sport and recreation.

One of the observations very frequently made by returning Alumni is "That was the best baseball or basketball team Pratt ever had" referring to the team which represented the Institute at the time the speaker was a student. While it is difficult to make positive claims for any team in this way our present basketball squad must rank somewhere near the top. They have by their consistent work and fine fighting spirit won our sincere admiration. Mr. McKillop must be congratulated for his part in this achievement. We will indeed miss the veterans who graduate this June.

In our inter-class activities soccer seems to be enjoying an increasing interest on the part of large numbers. The swimming tournament won again by the Artsmen held its usual interest. Last year there seemed to be a slump in inter-class baseball. The Athletic Council under the direction of its chairman Mr. Forsyth is taking steps to reinstate baseball to its former popularity.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

THE Athletic Council was organized in 1922 to govern general athletics, to make awards and to regulate all men's interclass sports. Since its beginning, it has constantly striven to raise the standard of athletics and provide programs of the highest order.

The Council consists of representatives from each of the men's classes. Meetings are held weekly and current business transacted.

The Council was very fortunate this year in securing Mr. Ajootian to act as faculty advisor in addition to Mr. Wright and Mr. Hostetter. Considerable interest was shown in all interclass sports during the year and friendly rivalry rose high. Approximately seventy awards is an indication of the large number of participants.

VARSITY BASKETBALL 1931

PRATT Institute can be proud of the success of her Varsity Basketball squad this year. Excellent team-work and fast, aggressive playnig was shown in all the games. A very creditable showing of winning nine games out of fifteen was "chalked up" in the score book.

The Institute was very fortunate in having nine veterans of last year's squad return to play. They were Otis, Fink, Francis, Baker, Campbell, Point, A. Anderson, Kuhlman and May.

At the first call for new men, some good talent was discovered. Two men were retained by Coach McKillop for the squad. They were Karwoski and Neilson.

Our usual two games with Brooklyn Poly were "split up" Poly winning the first and Pratt the final game.

Coach McKillop deserves congratulations for turning out such a team. Manager Sheehan, who so ably took care of the business end of the schedule, should receive thanks for his work.

The following is a brief resumé of the games:

Cooper Union—23 Pratt—24

In the customary opening game with Cooper Union, our opponents proved to have a very strong team. Up to the last minute of a very fast game, the scoring was close but Pratt gained the necessary point giving us the game.

Long Island University—33 Pratt—19

The first defeat of the season was scored against Pratt by Long Island University. Pratt put up a very good fight but our visitors were too strong. At the half the score stood 15 to 10 and Long Island University continued to hold the lead to the close of the game.

Hamilton College—22 Pratt—24

The third game of the year proved to be very close and fast but some very fine shooting by Captain Otis put Pratt in the lead, which they held thruout the game.

University of Delaware—21 Pratt—27

The strong University of Delaware team, fresh from its victory over

Upsala, proved to be no match for the Pratt quintet. Aided by the excellent shooting of Francis and Otis, the home team compiled an 18 to 7 advantage at half-time and continued to hold it until the final whistle.

Brooklyn Poly—21 Pratt—10

In our first match of the season with our rivals of eighteen years standing, Pratt was defeated. Playing on "Poly's" floor, the score was tied 10 all at the half, but our opponents made a sharp rally and brought their tally up to 21.

Springfield College—38. Pratt—14

Opposing the customary strong Springfield team, Pratt went down to defeat for the third time. During the opening minutes of play, the Pratt cagemen held a 5 to 1 advantage, but Springfield came through with a strong attack and took the lead for the remainder of the game.

Amherst College—31 ⊂31 Pratt—32

In the second game on Pratt's trip, Amherst fell before the home team to the tune of 32 to 31. Amherst drew away to an early lead and at half time, held a 19 to 13 advantage but Karowski sunk five baskets in the second half giving Pratt the necessary point to win.

Tufts College—19 Pratt—21

Pratt registered its fifth triumph as it turned back the hard-fighting Tufts quintet. The game was fiercely contested from the very start and featured some close guarding by both sides. It was not until Fink had "heaved in" a difficult basket from the side in the last thirty seconds, did Pratt feel victory within its grasp. The lead constantly changed hands thruout the game and everybody uttered a deep sigh of satisfaction after it was over.

Upsala College—20 Pratt—35

Another victory was chalked up to Pratt by defeating the Upsala cagemen. Fink and Karwoski dribbled their way thru the Vikings five-man defense to score for Pratt at will. From the final minutes of the first half to the close of the second period, the Pratt second team maintained a ten-point advantage.

Union College—24 Pratt—25

In one of the fastest games of the season, the failure of the Union quintet to locate the rim for one more basket was the deciding factor in Pratt's seventh victory. At half-time, the score stood 15 to 10, Pratt's favor and it was nip and tuck until the gun sounded.

Trinity College—19 Pratt—16

Meeting the fast and snappy team from Trinity, Pratt dropped its fourth game in eleven starts. In the second half, Trinity maintained a six point margin when Pratt made a sharp rally but it started too late.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology—32 Pratt—23

Traveling up to "The Hub," Pratt went down before the "Bostonians" in a rough and fast game. During the first half, both teams played defensive basketball, with the Engineers having more opportunities to score and they took a 17 to 11 lead.

Northeastern University—33 Pratt—32

In the second game on the same trip, Pratt was defeated again by a one point margin. In the last minute of play, Northeastern sank a basket giving them the extra point.

Brooklyn Poly—16 Pratt—24

Pratt resumed her winning stride in decisively trouncing its old rival. The team was in brilliant shape and the entire game was featured by some very snappy playing. Pratt led at half-time by a 13 to 6 lead and held it throughout the final period.

Alumni—21 Pratt—29

A successful season was closed by downing the Alumni to the above score. A capacity crowd filled the gym and made the game a very successful event. At no time was the Varsity seriously threatened and maintained the lead throughout. Otis, Francis, Campbell, Point, A. Anderson, Kuhlman and May played their last game for their Alma Mater.

BASEBALL SQUAD, 1931

VARSITY BASEBALL 1931

LEFT with seven veterans as a working unit, Coach McKillop succeeded in filling the vacancies and has constructed a smoothly functioning nine. In the workout, the team had shown smooth fielding and hefty stick work.

At the first call for the squad, approximately fifty men turned out and Coach McKillop retained thirty-eight for the squad.

In the opening game with City College of New York, Pratt went down before the score of 5 to 3. A three run rally in the ninth enabled C.C.N.Y. to obtain the advantage. Prior to the ninth, there was a good deal of hitting on both sides, featured by Gale's home run in the eighth, which broke a 2 all deadlock.

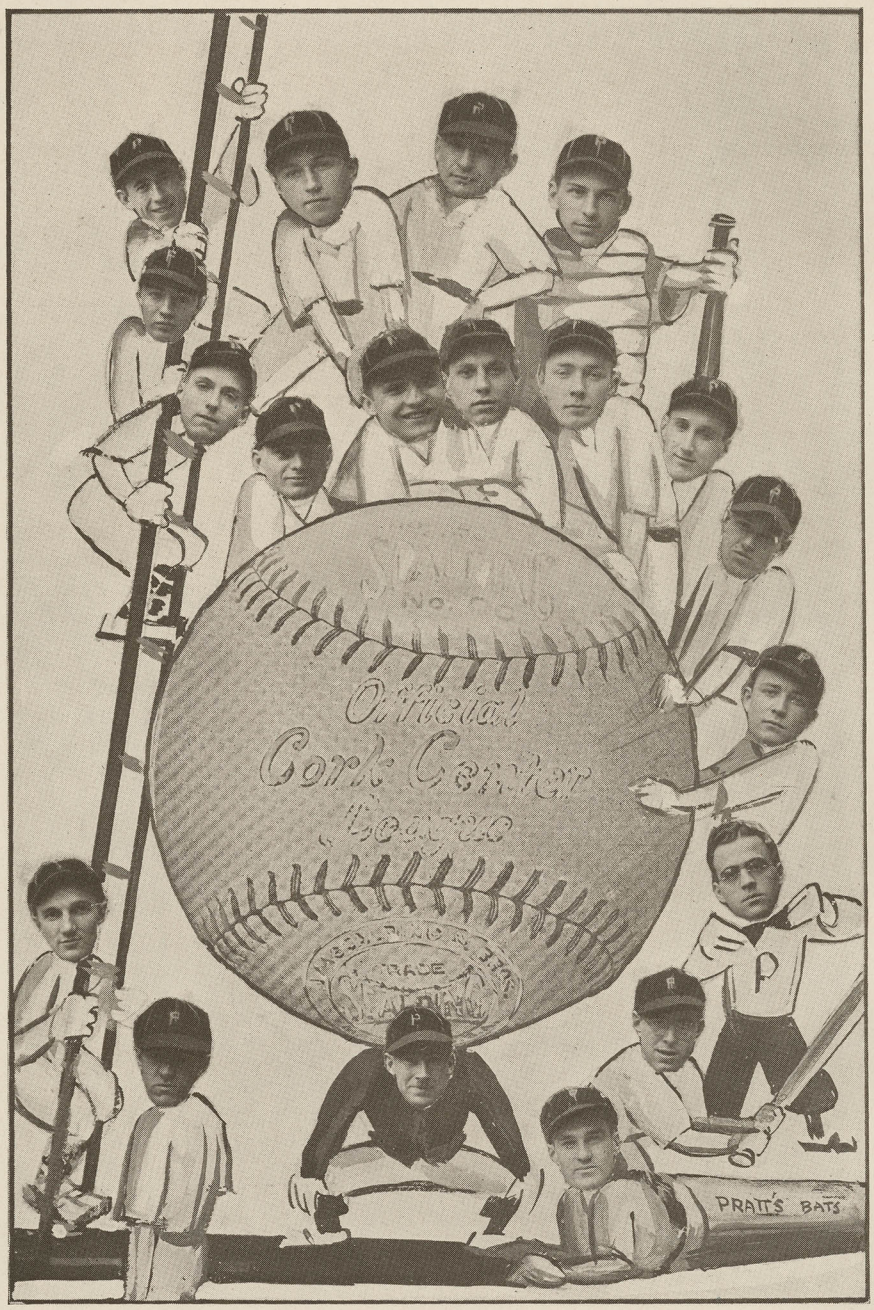

Long Island University was defeated by the Pratt nine by the score of 11 to 2. Boemerman was in excellent shape and pitched very good ball throughout the game. Milewski and Kuhlman each lined a beautiful drive over the fence for a home run.

A concentrated drive in the seventh frame turned Boemerman's hurling effort for the Black and Gold cause into a well-earned victory over St. Johns. A home run by Armand in the fourth inning put Pratt in the lead which the Redmen tied in the fifth. However, Milewski's sharp line drive in the seventh bringing Gale in, broke the deadlock, making the final count 3 to 2.

Pratt's nine continued its winning ways at the expense of Upsala College team. Boemerman was in top form, striking out fifteen batters, also scoring a home run. Kuhlman also hit a home run. With the score tied 3 to 3 in the eighth, Pratt chalked up three more making the final score 6 to 3.

Manager August has arranged the following schedule for the season:

April 8—City College of New York
April 11—Long Island University
April 15—St. John's College
April 18—Upsala College
April 25—Hamilton College
May 2—Crescent A.C.
May 8—Rensselaer Poly

CHEER LEADERS

"EVERY one out," was the call issued about the first of November by Varsity cheer-leader Kramer. Many responded and "Pop" Leader, "Gordie," Arnold, "Tony" Matula, and "Kid" Ostrow were chosen to assist him during the coming season.

Because of the closeness of the early games, the gang had plenty of chance to show their talents. Whenever there was a dull spot in a game, the boys were on hand to stir up enthusiasm in the Pratt rooters.

An old custom was brought back to life of singing the Alma Mater, between halves of every game. We hope this custom will continue in the future years.

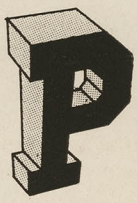

It was announced shortly after the Athletic Association Banquet that Gordon D. Arnold would be Varsity cheer-leader for 1931-32.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

CLASS basketball produced some excellent athletic talent which was not known to exist within the studious realm of the Institute. The basketball enthusiasts this year were given an opportunity to see games that were unexcelled for rivalry and spirit.

There was no better quintet produced than the championship outfit of the second year Electricals as was displayed by Captain Milewski and his basketeers. Their unusual strength offensively and defensively was displayed throughout the season as they had few upsets.

Incidently the same class came out on top last year. Their laurels were by no means easy to obtain, for they were forced to fight their way through some good competition to obtain the crown.

The second year Mechanicals who were the runners up in the competition forced the Electricals to go the limit in the championship series. The team was composed of a group of fighting players but lacked the speed of their opponents. It is with great expectancy that we look forward next year to a repetition of the intent of this successful season.

INTERCLASS SOCCER

THIS year's soccer season was opened with its usual enthusiasm and spirit. Although several of the teams lost some of their stars through graduation, their spirit was undaunted and they showed some very excellent teamwork.

Last year's junior boilermakers were predicted to be serious contenders for the championship this year. This proved to be true because of their nice teamwork, they were decisive victors of the school. Their play during the whole season was consistent, strong and aggressive.

The younger Mechanicals, who were runners up, are following in the steps of their seniors looking like a serious threat for next year. Their teamwork and fighting spirit will put them in line for a repetition of this year's feat.

The game between the champions and the Architects, last year's victors, was the biggest and most seriously contended game of the season. Very strong and aggressive playing was shown by both sides. However, the boilermakers proved the better team.

INTERCLASS SWIMMING

THE strong movement which is under way to provide the school with a new pool, stirred up considerable interest in swimming this year.

For the third consecutive time, the Artsmen have held the swimming championship. The first year Mechanicals gave them some keen competition but the combination of Lueder, Gutberlet, Friedman, Paul, Newman, Easton, Floyd, Goldman, Krikorian and managed by Alt was too strong for them. Inter-class manager Goldman took charge of the matches.

BIG PINS

CONTRARY to the usual tradition of the "boilermakers" winning the inter-class "big pin" bowling in past years, this season the Architects took the championship into their camp. However, the Mechanicals gave the Architects some very good opposition in the championship matches.

The excellent record of winning every match was made by the Architect team, managed by Kaltenhauser and composed of Holden, Walker, Holmgren, Richards and Patrizio.

DUCK PINS

DUCK pins were well taken care of by the boilermakers this year. The season finished with the Mechanicals 1932 in first place and a triple tie for second place consisting of the Architects, Mechanicals 1931 and the Chemists. This was played off and the Mechanicals 1931 came out on top for runners up.

Winning the duck pin championship has become a habit with the Mechanicals, so they are doing little worrying for next year, but there may be an upset.

The team of Hartell, Hughes, Jaekle, McGee and Armand took the honors with Manager Morse taking charge of the business end.

BOXING

BOXING this year has been carried further than ever before under the able guidance of Coach Eben Woolley. About thirty men turned out for this sport and classes are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. This gives everyone interested a chance to learn the manly sport.

This year the squad has secured the use of a room in the former Costume Design Building and has a regular ring and complete equipment. Coach Woolley reports that there are a number of exceptional boxers, the most prominent being Porter.

FENCING

THIS little-known but very interesting sport has been successfully carried on this year by a team consisting of Western, Lynds, Conant and Cella.

This is a sport that demands considerable skill and quickness which appeals to many of the students. The team holds regular practice periods on Tuesday afternoons and all who are interested are welcome.

Through the aid of the Athletic Association, the fencers have secured complete equipment for this sport.

THE REST HOUSE

WHEN the name Rest House is heard what do we think of but a clean white bed, good food, and the care and attention which only Miss Hale and Mrs. Hatch can give. One is not usually there very long, for with rest in bed, plenty of sleep along with some of those Rest House cures, a quick recovery from one's illness is assured.

To one who has never been there, it might seem very dull and uninteresting, but with temporary roommates, whose acquaintances are made quickly, visit by the doctor, the general goings-on of the place—and above all the visits of our friends who tell us all the "latest" from school, there is little time to meditate.

MISS HALE, Head Nurse MRS. HATCH, Nurse
